LET'S KEEP AMERICA CLEAN

He was born in an obscure village the child of a peasant woman.
 He grew up in still another village, where he worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty.
 Then for three years —
 He was itinerant preacher.
 He never wrote a book.
 He never held an office.
 He never had a family or owned a house.
 He didn't go to college.
 He never visited a big city.
 He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where he was born.
 He did none of the things one usually associates with greatness.
 He had no credentials but himself.
 He was only thirty-three when the tide of public opinion turned against him.
 His friends ran away.
 He was turned over to his enemies and went through the mockery
 He was nailed to a cross between two thieves.
 While he was dying, his executioners gambled for his clothing, the only property he had on earth.
 When he was dead,
 He was laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.
 Nineteen centuries have come and gone, and today he is the central figure of the human race and the leader of mankind's progress.
 All the armies that ever marched,
 All the navies that ever sailed,
 All the parliaments that ever sat,
 All the kings that ever reigned,
 put together,
 Have not affected the life of man on earth as much as that One Solitary Life.
 HAPPY EASTER.

HANCOCK BUILDING TO BE REVIEWED

Building Commissioner Francis W. Gens has appointed a five-member advisory committee to review engineering data on the new John Hancock Building.

The data, submitted by the company, was requested by Commissioner Gens following a meeting with company officials earlier in the week to discuss the persistent problem of glass breakage in the building's curtain wall.

Commissioner Gens, who ordered a halt to further occupancy of the building, said he might order the building evacuated if the engineering data failed to support the company's claim that the glass breakage poses no safety hazard either to occupants of the building or to pedestrians.

The evaluation is expected shortly and Commissioner Gens will announce his decision upon completion of the study.

Commissioner Gens named the following persons to assist him in evaluating the engineering data:

Earl Littleton, a Tufts University professor and structural engineer, who has served as consultant to industry and as a member of the state's Design Selection Board;

Miles Claire of the engineering consulting firm of Thompson and Lichtner;

Richard Bolt of the engineering consulting firm of Bolt, Beranek and Newman;

Thomas Sampson, president of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce;

Dr. Walter Koltun, president of the Back Bay Neighborhood Association and assistant director for Harvard-MIT program in Health, Sciences, and Technology.

If there is to be a regeneration of the national character, it can come about only by the regeneration of each of us as individuals.

It is not a matter of committing machinery, and organization.

It can only come about by a subtle change in the heart of individual man and woman.

NO. 16

Children's Books International at B. P. L.

Director Philip J. McNiff of the Boston Public Library has announced a program of events for "Children's Books International II." Once again the exposition, first launched in 1975, promises to draw books, event participants, and guests from around the world.

The book exhibit, a dynamic collection of several thousand books from more than fifty nations, is scheduled for May, 1976. The opening of the exhibit will be marked by a Sunday evening reception on May 2. Two intensive days of interpretive colloquia will follow on Monday and Tuesday, May 3 and 4.

The roster of speakers and the range of their themes give promise of important new dimensions on the book and the child for parents, educators, librarians, scholars — for all who are concerned with the world of the young people.

Walt Disney caught the imagination of his times when he introduced Mickey Mouse and the animated film in the late twenties; but animation in books and films has earlier, global backgrounds. As access to the far-reaching sources and aspects of animation, the Monday morning, May 3 program of "Children's Books International" will offer a two-pronged approach. Speaking on the animated film, with emphasis on the achievements of Yugoslavia's Zagreb Studios, will be Charles Samu, assistant vice-president of Phoenix Films. Included in his presentation will be films recently released by Zagreb.

Continuing the focus on animation will be eminent bookman Justin Miller who will speak on "Animated Picture Books to 1900: The Genius of Meggendorfer." Mr. Miller will use slides to highlight his view of the German pioneer who, in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries created unique mechanical picture books. Noted illustrator Maurice Sendak described his first contact with a movable toybook created by Lothar Meggendorfer as a case of being "hopelessly addicted to the work of this ingenious artist." As Sendak says, "Meggendorfer enlarged the child's visual pleasure in a way that probably will never be duplicated. His work stands alone." As part of the exposition there will be a special exhibit in the library's Boston Room of rare items from the Meggendorfer Archive.

Monday afternoon will move attention to the family story, once a thematic mainstay of children's books. Isabelle Jan, professor at the College of Sevigne, France, head of studies at the French School of Librarianship, and eminent critic of children's literature, will address herself to the topic, "The Twilight of the Family Story in Modern Children's Literature." Miss Jan is already known to specialists on books for young people in this country for her book On Children's Literature (La Littérature Enfantine), published by Schocken Books in 1974. True to the international tone and tempo of "Children's Books International," Miss Jan will deliver her talk in French. A bilingual version will be available to the audience at the time of the presentation.

Two authorities on folk literature (and authors in their own right) will bring their perceptive, firsthand knowledge to Monday evening's audience. Dr. Albert Lord, Harvard University, Professor of Slavic Studies, has conducted extensive research in Eastern Europe — including Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, and Albania — actually recording folktales directly from the people who know them best. Author of many books, including Serbo-Croatian Heroic Songs and The Singer of Talks, Dr. Lord will speak on Slavic tales.

Coming from McMaster University in Canada where he serves as librarian, William Ready, author and storyteller, will turn his attention to his own heritage, the folk literature of Wales. It is hoped that his presentation will include actual storytelling.

The child's book would have remained an isolated, national thing — with American children reading only books in English, Japanese children reading only books in Japanese, and so on — if it were not for a key member of the literary team. Without him, Hans Christian Andersen would have remained in Denmark, Jan Amos Comenius in Czechoslovakia, and the fables of an obscure slave in Greece. Coming from Athens to probe "The Role of Translator" is Edward Fenton, known internationally for his work as author and translator. Numbered among his numerous books are Us and the Duchess, Hidden Trapezes, Aleko's Island, The Big Yellow Balloon, A Matter of Miracles, as well as translations of the books of Greek author Alki Zei.

Scheduled also for Tuesday morning, May 4, is a view of the children's book in Canada, its role and influence — whether it is in French, English, or Inuit. The speaker is particularly qualified to deal with this subject. He is John Robert Sorfleet, editor-in-chief of Canadian Children's Literature, a journal of criticism and review published in Ottawa.

The climax of the program will take place on Tuesday afternoon, May 4, with a presentation by Dr. Dusan Roll, director of the world-renowned BIB (Biennale of Illustrations, Bratislava). Dr. Roll comes from a small town on the banks of the Danube, a town which is making its influence in the field of graphic arts felt throughout the world. Dr. Roll will literally bring Bratislava to Boston in his talk about BIB and the most beautiful children's books in the world.

Although the major addresses and the exhibit will be housed in the Central Library of the Boston Public Library, the twenty-six branches and bookmobiles are presently designing special story hours, film screenings, craft and hobby events, demonstrations, and plays all built around international themes. A program booklet of branch activities is soon to be released.

The program for "Children's Books International" promises to be diversified and dynamic. The colloquia and the impressive exhibit continues the international cultural exchange which is a key objective of the Boston Public Library in the exposition. As Director Philip McNiff expresses it, "Beyond its importance as an event and an exhibit in one point of time, 'Children's Books International' will — we hope — contribute to long-range international understanding." He recently cited one consul general who attended last year's program. The official reported that whenever he receives an assignment to a new country, he prepares for it by reading the children's books on the history, culture, and social conditions of the country. It is the best way to build an understanding.

The exhibit of books is brought together in cooperation with "Books, USA," the international arm of the Combined Book Exhibit, Inc. of Briarcliff Manor, New York. Augmenting this core collection are the extensive foreign holdings of the Boston Public Library itself. The exposition of books as well as the interpretive colloquia are open to all interested participants. In lieu of formal registration, Director McNiff encourages individuals to plan their attendance consistent to their interests and schedules.

BOSTON MOURNS ROBERT M. MORGAN

The City of Boston is deeply debted to the late Robert Morgan who passed away May 27, for his outstanding contribution in guiding and directing city officials in the establishment of the Government Center area, the erection of the new City Hall, and the creation of the extensive plaza surrounding the new edifice, all of which are points of interest not only to Bostonians but to all those who visited or will visit our fair city during this bicentennial year for many years thereafter.

Mr. Morgan's vast experience in the banking and realty fields coupled with his desire to assist in establishing an aesthetic site for the new City Hall, were major contributions to the results which are evident.

Appointed in 1958 by the Mayor John B. Hynes as chairman of the Boston Government Center Commission, and serving until the death of Mayor John F. Collins and our present Mayor, Kevin H. White, who indicate that his talents and abilities were of such high quality that it would have been extremely difficult to ever replace him.

Mr. Morgan's personal interest in and attention to each and every facet of operations from the acquisition of land, the architectural competition, the foundation and building construction, to the selection of furniture and equipment for new structure; his speed and efficiency in conducting meetings in a businesslike manner; his cordial relations with the banking and estate fraternities, with architectural building trade officials, union engineers, and government officials on every level were other contributing factors to the success of the venture which has materialized as one of the most beautiful and widely visited spots in downtown Boston today.

The new City Hall and its surroundings will be a fitting memorial to Mr. Morgan's unselfish interest in Boston's future.

Boston has lost one of its great citizens. May he ever rest in peace.

PATRIOTS' DAY

less than a month after Edmund Burke urged Parliament to keep peace, Great Britain and its American colonists were at war. The first shots of the American Revolution were fired at Lexington, Massachusetts, where British troops marching toward Concord attacked American minutemen.

Briefly, this is how the fighting started. At Boston, British General Gage secretly ordered soldiers to destroy war materials which the colonists had stored at nearby Concord. He also commanded his men to seize Samuel Adams and John Hancock, two members of the Massachusetts Committee of Correspondence, who were staying in Lexington.

However, when General Gage's retreat was discovered on the night of April 18, 1775, three colonists, Paul Revere, William Dawes, and Samuel Prescott, rode through the towns and villages west of Boston, warning the people that the British are coming," and called the minutemen to arms.

Paul Revere roused Adams and Hancock at Lexington, and they fled from the town. On the westward road both Revere and Dawes were caught by the British patrols, but only Prescott got through to warn the Concord residents. At dawn on April 19, 1775, the British troops marched through Lexington toward Concord.

Minutemen faced them on the village green at Lexington, but did not attempt to halt their march. Nevertheless, the British fired at the minutemen, and eight Americans were killed.

At Concord the British soldiers destroyed the colonists' supplies, but now the minutemen were ready. At North Bridge, in Concord, a battle began which will be remembered in our country's history. There approximately 450 minutemen met the British force, and the battle ensued.

Finally the enemy broke ranks and hastily retreated. All the way back to Boston the battle raged. From behind stone walls, fences, and trees colonists from the towns along the way fired at the retreating British soldiers. At sunset the weary British column reached Boston at last. Of the 700 soldiers who set out that morning 273 were killed, wounded, or captured. The war with the British had begun!

FAIR HOUSING MONTH

"It is the policy of the United States to provide, within Constitutional limitations, for fair housing throughout the United States."
Title VIII, Civil Rights Act of 1968.

Eight full years have elapsed since passage of the 1968 Civil Rights Act, and as we look about us, we see that the succinct language of its fair housing provision has been too little recognized by many Americans.

Behind the letter of the law there is an underlying spirit which should appeal to the humanity of all of us. Simply stated, all Americans have the right to live where they choose, when they choose, for as long as they can afford to do so, and each of us should promote and safeguard that right for all others. This is not just a simple tenet of democracy, it is a human canon as well.

In the eight years since 1968, we have placed our interests and priorities in many areas. Practices and procedures that once divided the nation into enclaves of bigotry, smugness, and frustration have often been quietly put aside on the premise that all Americans can, and must, live, work, and play together.

One expects that a nation and its people would manifest a certain maturity after 200 years. We are seeing part of that maturity. Yet, on the promise of fair housing, which is to say equal access to housing, we have not yet shown the full wisdom and understanding to accompany our years.

Among the many promises we make in this bicentennial year, let us include the following:

Fair housing is an American idea. Let us all work — as individuals as well as members of the American community — to make fair housing an ideal for all Americans.

U.S.S. "CONSTITUTION" MUSEUM OPENS AT CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD

Impressive ceremonies were held on April 8, marking the opening of the U.S.S. "Constitution" Museum, located at the old Charlestown Navy Yard. Rear Admiral Samuel Eliot Morison, naval historian and Harvard professor, referred to the "Constitution" as a symbol of the navy's importance in defense of America, and said "the strong maintenance of a strong navy supported with valor and courage," is essential to America's freedom.

The world famous "Old Ironsides" is now a Museum supervised by the National Park Service of the Interior Department. Rear Admiral Joseph C. Wylie (Ret.), former commandant of the First Naval District at Boston, said cooperation between government, business, and the general public, was most important to the financing of the Museum and the rehabilitation of the nearly complete "Constitution." $800,000 of a $1-million goal has been realized. The money has been received from interested American institutions and citizens, including Boston schoolchildren. Among the 300 guests attending the ceremonies were former United States House Speaker John W. McCormack and Charles Francis Adams, whose father was a secretary of the navy and whose ancestors were Presidents John Adams and John Quincy Adams.

Mr. Young explained that the hours tellers will be available to receive tax payments have been expanded in an effort to help taxpayers who work between 9 A.M. and 5 P.M. and who are unable to reach City Hall during the day.

STATEWIDE ESSAY CONTEST

Juniors and seniors from Massachusetts high schools and independent secondary schools are invited to participate in a written essay competition. The contest, sponsored by students at the New England School of Law, Boston, Mass., is being conducted as part of their annual Law Day U.S.A. observance.

Law Day U.S.A. is set aside on May first of each year by joint resolution of Congress and Presidential Proclamation, in commemoration of that system of laws and independent courts which allows us the free society we enjoy today. The topic chosen for the 1976 competition is "Law Is the Conscience of Society in the United States." This topic is based upon a quotation from The Orbow Incident, by Walter Van Tilburg Clark.

A distinguished panel from the legal community, which includes United States Attorney James M. Gabriel, will judge the entries on the basis of content, sincerity, and style. The winner will receive a United States Savings Bond, and be a guest at the New England School of Law, Law Day dinner, to be held May first at the Sheraton Boston Hotel, featuring as guest speaker, United States Senator Edward M. Kennedy.

High school principals throughout the state have been given the contest rules, which were sanctioned by the Massachusetts Board of Education, and the Massachusetts Teachers' Association.

The New England School of Law, Law Day Committee urges all eligible students to join them in celebration of "Two Hundred Years of Liberty and Law."

CONTRACTS AMENDED

The Mayor has approved the amendment of contracts, based on the following information:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICE DEPARTMENT

RADIO EQUIPMENT

MR. MAYOR:

On November 24, 1975, your Honor approved a permission to award a contract to Motorola, Inc., Communications Division, lowest responsible and eligible bidder on publicly opened bid for radio communications equipment, Proposal 347. At that time, awards were made on Items 2 and 11 in evaluation of the lower bidders' permit.

The lower bidder on Item 2 submitted a permit that does not meet specifications. The lower bidder on Item 11 has failed to submit equipment for a test since requested to do so on November 10, 1975, and therefore is not considered to be a responsible bidder.

It is now requested that permission be granted me to award Items 2 and 11 to Motorola, Inc., Communications Division, lowest responsible and eligible bidder, also that my letter dated November 18, 1975, approved by your Honor on November 18, 1975, be amended to have the approximate total amount of the contract read $31,722, net ten days.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

MR. MAYOR:

On January 27 and February 12, 1976, your Honor approved permissions to award a contract to Motorola, Inc., Communications Division, and to amend a previous award on radio communications equipment resulting from a publicly opened bid of October 30, 1975.

It is now requested that my letters dated January 26 and February 11, 1976, be cancelled. A new request for permission to award is attached explaining in detail the complete sequence of events pertaining to awards on Proposal 347, radio communications equipment, publicly opened and read this office on October 30, 1975.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

MR. MAYOR:

On November 24, 1975, your Honor approved a permission to award a contract to Motorola, Inc., Communications Division, for radio communications equipment, Proposal 347, publicly opened in this office on October 30, 1975, in the amount of $5,096. This award was for Items 3 through 10, inclusive. Item 1 was cancelled and Items 2 and 11 were to be awarded at a later date, pending evaluation of those items by the Fire Department.

A permission to award a contract to Electrocom Corporation, the lowest bidder on Item 2, based on an evaluation by the Fire Department was approved by your Honor on December 18, 1975.

Since October 30, 1975, after several written and verbal requests, neither the lowest or second lowest bidder has furnished the Fire Department with equipment, which they proposed to supply on Item 11, for testing purposes.

It is now requested that permission be granted me to award Item 11 for radio communications equipment, Proposal 347, to Motorola, Inc., Communications Division, in the amount of $18,782.72, and to amend my letter of November 18, 1975, approved by your Honor on November 24, 1975, to include the above amount so that the approximate total amount of contract for the aforementioned company will be $23,878.72, net ten days.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

STREET LIGHTING EQUIPMENT

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On February 12, 1976, your Honor approved a letter, dated February 11, 1976, to award contracts to several companies for street lighting equipment as a result of publicly opened bids of January 21, 1976.

Item 30 was inadvertently awarded to Eagle Electric Co., Inc., who did not bid on that particular item, when, in fact, it should have been awarded to the lowest bidder, Electric Specialty and Supply Corporation.

It is now requested that my letter dated February 11, 1976, approved by your Honor on February 12, 1976, be amended to have the approximate total amount of contract for Eagle Electric Supply Co., Inc., read $52,541.30, less 2 percent time of payment, and to award a contract to Electric Specialty and Supply Corporation, at an approximate amount of $4,884, less 2 percent discount, time of payment.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

AUDITING DEPARTMENT

ORGANIZATIONAL ANALYSIS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Permission is respectfully requested to issue Change Order No. 1 to Contract No. SC 2053, with Coopers & Lybrand, 100 Federal Street, Boston, Mass. 02110. The amount of the change order is $5,000, which will bring the total of the contract to $20,000.

This change order would extend the scope of the contract to include organizational analysis beyond the scope of their original assignment for a job classification study. This analysis will be of considerable value to the City Auditor.

In view of the close relationship of this work to the original assignment, it is not believed that any purpose would be served by public advertising.

Respectfully yours,

WALTER W. MERRILL,
City Auditor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

DISPATCH SYSTEM

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

Enclosed is a copy of your original approval of award of a contract, with amendments, to A.D.L. Systems, Inc., for the design and installation of a computer-aided dispatch system.

Since then, it has come to our attention that the computer memory equipment available on the computer-aided dispatch system will be insufficient to meet the needs of the fully operational system. The additional work time and the purchase of two units of core memory will require an increase in the contract price of $5,900. All other terms of the contract remain unchanged.

Therefore, I respectfully request that you approve an increase in the contract price from $616,475, to a price not to exceed $622,375.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT

ARCHITECTS' SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on January 16, 1976, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, in entering into an agreement with Hugh Stubbins/Rex Allen, Partnership, and Samuel Glaser and Partners, a joint venture with offices at 1033 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, Mass., amending a contract between the City of Boston, and Hugh Stubbins/Rex Allen, Partnership, and Samuel Glaser and Partners, providing for the preparation of working drawings, detailed specifications, final construction cost estimates, and for the supervision of construction of an out-patient building at Boston City Hospital, Boston, Mass., dated November 30, 1970, and approved by the Mayor of Boston on January 18, 1971, as amended August 10, 1971, and approved by the Mayor of Boston September 24, 1971, as amended June 6, 1975, in order to increase the amount authorized for expenditure under the contract for supplementary services from its present $683,600 to $789,600.

This increase in supplementary services is necessary to cover the cost of the architect having to provide "... services during the construction phase if the construction period exceeds the time set forth in the construction contract by more than sixty days." Due to delays caused by conditions over which the architect has not had control (such as untimely receipt of materials, and the "holds" ordered by the city to allow for revisions to the various clinics as requested by the Department of Health and Hospitals), the construction period has greatly exceeded the time originally set forth in the construction contract, thereby requiring the architect to perform supervision for a period of time far in excess of what was contemplated by the Phase II contract. This amendment will provide compensation for the extended supervision.

Due to the provisions of the law to the effect that executed and existing city contracts may only be altered by a writing signed by all the parties thereto, including the Mayor and contract surety on the performance bonds, it would appear that public advertising in this case could not best serve the public interest.

Respectfully,

ROBERT J. VEY,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On August 5, 1975, you approved my request of July 24, 1975, to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, in amending a contract between the City of Boston and Eco-Tecture International, Inc., dated April 12, 1973, and approved by the Mayor May 17, 1973 (as amended April 6, 1974 and approved by the Mayor May 29, 1974), for the preparation of working drawings, detailed specifications, and construction cost estimates for, and for the supervision of, construction of, and renovations to, the former Police Station 9, on Dudley Street, Roxbury, Mass., to serve as a Spanish multi-service center, so as to increase the amount authorized for expenditure under the contract for the basic fee and supervision to reflect the revised scope of work and low bid received for the construction work. The amount of the approved increase was $23,880.

Subsequent to your approval, but prior to execution of the amendment, an error in the computation of the increase was discovered. Accordingly, pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission, January 16, 1976, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to amend my request of July 24, 1975, and enter into an agreement with Eco-Tecture International, Inc., amending their contract with the City of Boston so as to increase it by $17,058.

For your Honor's further information on the computation of this increase, subsequent to the award to the Phase II contract, the scope of the work to be performed was increased considerably above the $200,000 amount upon which the original design fee was based. Rather than establish a new estimate and amend the contract, it was decided that it would be more appropriate in this case to wait until award of the construction contract, and base the design fee on that cost. The low bid was $356,200, which, at the applicable rate of 11.173 percent (1967 A.I.A. "B" rate, plus 2.5 percent for alterations) gives new basic fee of $39,798, less the Phase I credit of $6,822, an increase of $17,058.

Due to the provisions of the law to the effect that executed and existing city contracts may only be altered by a writing signed by all parties thereto, including the Mayor and contract surety on the performance bonds, it would appear that public advertising in this case could not best serve the public interest.

Respectfully,

VICTOR E. HAGAN,
For ROBERT J. VEY,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on January 16, 1976, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to enter into an agreement with Comprehensive Designers, Inc., a Pennsylvania corporation, registered to do business in Massachusetts, with local offices at 197 First Avenue, Needham, Mass., amending a contract between the City of Boston and Comprehensive Designers, Inc., dated December 4, 1975, to provide the Public Facilities Department, during the period July 1, 1975, to June 30, 1976, both dates inclusive, general engineering services and technical assistance in connection with the department's preparation of multiple plans and specifications for use in accomplishing a substantial volume of the normal alterations and repair programs and emergency repair projects conducted by the department, so as to increase the amount authorized for expenditure under the contract by $10,000.

The requested increase of $10,000 in the amount authorized for expenditure under this contract is necessary to cover additional work not planned or contemplated when the contract was originally proposed.

Due to the provisions of the law to the effect that executed and existing city contracts may only be altered by a writing signed by all the parties thereto, including the Mayor and contract surety, it would appear that public advertising in this case could not best serve the public interest.

Respectfully,

ROBERT J. VEY,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on January 16, 1976, I hereby request your Honor's written authority to dispense with public advertising in entering into an agreement with TAD, Incorporated, 639 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, Mass., amending a contract between the City of Boston and TAD, Incorporated, providing for general engineering services and technical assistance in connection with this department's preparation of plans and specifications for use in carrying out our extensive alteration and repair program, dated August 27, 1975, in order to increase the amount authorized for expenditure under the contract from $75,000 to $90,000 to cover additional work to be performed.

This requested increase of $15,000 in the amount authorized for expenditure under this contract is necessary to cover additional work, the increased scope and volume which was not foreseen when the contract was originally awarded.

Due to the provisions of the law to the effect that executed and existing city contracts may only be altered by a writing signed by all the parties thereto, including the Mayor and contract surety, it would appear that public advertising in this case could not best serve the public interest.

Respectfully,

ROBERT J. VEY,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on January 16, 1976, I request your Honor's written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to enter into an agreement with Albert Costa Associates, Inc., d/b/a Albert Costa Associates, 1300 Soldiers Field Road, Boston, Mass., amending a contract between the City of Boston and Albert Costa Associates, Inc., dated December 18, 1973, providing for architectural services as follows: (A) complete space-use feasibility study of the Boston Trade School for Girls with the use of the same by various departments, including the Police Department and other city agencies, and thereafter prepare and deliver to the Director a written report thereon in five (5) copies; (B) preliminary schematic designs and construction cost estimates for those alterations and improvements as are necessary to constitute a program for the complete use (by such departments or agencies of the city, the need of space for the operations of which are urgent, including and not by way of limitation, the Boston Police Department) of the building, formerly known as Trade School for Girls, situated at 73 Hemenway Street, Boston, Mass.; and (C) the preparation of design development, working drawing, detailed specifications, and construction cost estimates (but excluding supervision of construction), for such alterations and improvements as are required to provide such space is now needed in that same building formerly as a Boston Police Department training facility, so as to (a) provide for use of the building for office, conference, workshop spaces necessary to its utilization as a municipal building, with no provision for a Police Training Facility; (b) provide for an increased estimated construction cost and fee therefor to reflect this planned utilization; and (c) provide for now-required supervision of construction all at an aggregate increase in cost of $11,120.

Subsequent to award of the contract, the Police Department decided to utilize the space for its Police Academy. This decision, more extensive changes decided upon by the city to make maximum use of the space in the building, increased the estimated cost of construction by $50,000 to $300,000. Furthermore, the new state Building Code, requiring the architect to perform supervisory services to the provisions of the law to the that executed and existing city con- may only be altered by a writing d by all parties thereto, including the or and contract surety, it would appear public advertising in this case would best serve the public interest.

Respectfully,

ROBERT J. VEY,
Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I request your approval of my action to amend the contract with the Calas Painting and Decorating, Inc., 1 Gardner Road, Pea- body, Mass., for interior and exterior paint- ing at the Joseph J. Hurley School, 70 Worcester Street, Boston, Mass., from $8,000 to $9,990. You did approve of my action in awarding the contract on June 11, 1975.

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT

RENTAL SERVICE

YOUR HONOR:

I respectfully request permission to amend the contract awarded to Interstate Uniform Services Corporation, 15 Olympia Avenue, Woburn, Mass., for furnishing work uni- forms and dry mops on rental service in City Hall and other municipal buildings and courthouses.

The previous contract was for an amount of $10,860.20, and the funds are being ex- hausted rapidly. Additional uniforms and dry mops needed will necessitate additional funds to take care of the buildings. I believe that an additional amount of $4,500 will be necessary for the balance of the year.

I, therefore respectfully request your per- mission to amend this contract from the sum of $10,860.20 to $15,300.20.

Respectfully yours,

EDWARD J. KENNEDY,
Assistant Commissioner.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

BUS TRANSPORTATION

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I hereby request your permission to amend the letter approved by you on August 23, 1974, awarding a contract to Hudson Bus Lines for furnishing school bus transporta- tion services within the City of Boston for Boston public schools, subsequent to public advertising.

The amount of the contract for the first year (1974-1975) was $410,400. Inasmuch as costs have increased, due to orders issued by the court in Morgan v. Kerrigan, 75-911-G (D. Mass.) (1975-1976), shall be amended to $500,000.

Contract for Hudson Bus Lines, $500,000.

Very truly yours,

LEO J. BURKE,
Business Manager.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES COMMISSION

CAMPERSHIPS

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your approval to amend the contract between Youth Activities Commission and the Worcester Young Men's Christian Association (Camp Morgan), 766 Main Street Worcester, Mass., from $2,280 to $3,300, approved by you in my letter on June 30, 1975, and signed by you on Septem- ber 26, 1975. Through an oversight the origi- nal amount on the award letter was errone- ously printed.

Under the terms of the contract, this pro- gram will provide camperships to welfare re- cipients (eight to fifteen years old), with special needs. The period of performance shall be July 1, 1975, through August 29, 1975.

The entire program will be supported solely through state funds. No City of Boston monies will be used for any aspect of the program.

In view of Worcester Young Men's Chris- tian Association's ability to provide special services to welfare recipients, and have avail- able a limited number of camper slots, it is my view that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. I, therefore, request your permission to dispense with advertising for proposals in the award of this contract.

Sincerely,

PAUL V. MCCAFFREY,
Executive Director.

PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

NO. 17

Mayor Advocates Moderate Desegregation Plan

Mayor Kevin White has asked the United States Supreme Court to consider whether United States District Judge W. Arthur Garrity should have adopted a more moderate desegregation plan which would still have satisfied the requirements of the Constitution.

"This case poses a critical problem common to urban areas throughout the United States: the extent to which, as a matter of law, courts must consider such practicalities as costs, community support, amount of busing, and potential for resegregation in choosing among a number of plans, each of which will eradicate segregation," Mayor White said in a petition urging the court to review the matter.

The Mayor said his interest in the desegregation case "is the maintenance of Boston's social stability and financial integrity amidst the ever-changing, and in some instances, dramatic changes required to protect the Constitutional rights of the city's school children."

The city argued that a more moderate desegregation plan, recommended by a panel of four court-appointed masters, would have eliminated the segregation previously found to exist but was rejected by Judge Garrity in significant respects.

"There was very little difference in potential for desegregation between the masters' plan and the District Court plan," it was argued. Yet, the District Court explicitly refused to consider the fact that its plan required the busing of 6,000 more students than did the masters' plan; that the masters' plan was well accepted in the community; and that its own plan provoked substantial hostility.

"In choosing between two constitutionally satisfactory plans, they [the District Court and the Court of Appeals] chose to impose the most costly plan, the plan most burdensome to students, the plan least acceptable to the community, and the plan most likely to cause resegregation of the schools," the petition continued.

The appeal to the nation's highest court will be carried by Attorney Robert Hertzstein of the Washington law firm of Arnold and Porter. Mr. Hertzstein has represented numerous clients in public issue law suits.

The appeal does not seek to overturn the federal court order to desegregate the city's schools, but rather it is intended to raise questions about the placing of limits on the remedy power of the courts, Mayor White explained.

"In other words, just how far can Judge Garrity, or any other judge, go in attempting to correct a given situation?" he said.

The Mayor said he did not agree with the District Court and the Court of Appeals which "evidently believed that imposition of the more onerous desegregation plan" was required by the Supreme Court's prior holdings.

As the result of the desegregation plan, there has been social unrest, dissatisfaction with the schools, and an entirely unnecessary setback to the cause of meaningful desegregation, the city told the court.

In urging the court to hear the case, Mayor White said: "This question is of major importance not only to Boston, but to the future of desegregation and civic vitality in all urban areas of this country."

ROYALTY VISITS BOSTON

Boston 200's two-year Bicentennial commemoration will be highlighted with a visit to the city by her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip on Sunday, July 11, 1976.

The Queen is coming to Boston at the invitation of Mayor Kevin White and Boston 200 as part of a week-long American state visit honoring the country's Bicentennial. Though exact details of the Boston program have yet to be worked out, the royal couple is expected to visit the famed Old North Church, the Old State House — original seat of royal government in the Massachusetts Bay Colony — and other sites along the historic Freedom Trail.

The occasion marks the first visit ever to the City of Boston by a reigning British monarch.

Coordination for the visit is being handled by Boston 200 in conjunction with a special planning committee, the Boston 200 Task Force on the Queen's Visit. The Task Force consists of twenty-one members, each of whom represents an organization playing a primary or supporting role in the day's program. Reflecting on the event, Boston 200 Director Harron Ellenson commented, "I can think of nothing more fitting or symbolic to round out our city's Bicentennial celebration than this royal visit by Queen Elizabeth; we are all very excited."

PHOTOGRAPHS OF IRELAND

Photographs of the landscape of Ireland by Linda Mahoney are on view in the Wiggin Gallery, Boston Public Library, through Sunday, May 2.

The sixty-three photographs examine land, skies, weather, light, shore, and sea. They were made in the summer of 1973 in the course of travels through the Counties of Dublin, Wicklow, Waterford, Cork, Kerry, Limerick, Clare, Galway, Mayo, and Donegal. A number were made in the Aran Islands and on the island of Inishbofin off the coast of Connemara.

A 1 by 5 Calumet view camera was used during the journey. From roughly 500 negatives made on the trip, the present selection of photographs was made. Printing was done in Cambridge by the photographer on a variety of commercially available papers.

"The challenge was to determine what qualities were specifically those of Ireland," Linda Mahoney said recently. "I tried to find in the landscape qualities I had come to understand through the haunting melancholy of Irish music and poetry.

"One of the reasons I went to Ireland was to photograph something that does not exist here: the more intimate, more human scale that persists within the natural environment. I wanted to make some comparisons between Ireland and New England — comparisons of light and the landscape of temperate places that derive much of their weather from the ocean. In Ireland I found a sense of timelessness I do not find here."

Linda Mahoney was born and grew up in Cambridge, where she lives and works today. In high school, she began making photographs. Olive Pierce, and later Paul Caponigro and William Clift, shared with her their knowledge of photography. During her year at Wellesley, she received a Slater Fellowship which enabled her to spend June through September of 1973 in Ireland. In addition to the photographs from that journey which are being shown, many of her photographs (many of portraits) made in New England since that time are on exhibit.

NEW CAMPFINDER DIRECTORY

An updated directory of more than 200 resident, day, and service summer camps based in Massachusetts has been released by the United Community Planning Corporation, the nonprofit human services planning and research organization for sixty-seven Massachusetts Bay cities and towns.

The purpose of the sixty-page "Campfinder 1976-77" is to aid parents and camper-referral personnel in community service agencies in choosing a camp suited to children's needs and preferences. Information about each camp listed includes fees, size, services, length of sessions, program emphasis, and location.

In addition to resident and day camps sponsored by nonprofit organizations, "Campfinder 1976-77" lists thirty resident and day camps, regardless of sponsorship, which provide special services for mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed, and physically handicapped children. It also lists forty camps with winterized facilities, and more than seventy camps which enroll children eligible for camping programs funded under Title XX.

The directory also includes information on the purposes of camping, camp counselor placement and training opportunities, other camp directories, and pointers for parents on what information to seek directly from camp operators.

"Campfinder 1976-77" can be ordered from the Camping Office of the United Community Planning Corporation, 14 Somerset Street, Boston, MA. 02108, at an out-of-pocket charge of $3 per copy.

MILLIONS AWARDED "T" FOR PROJECTS

Robert R. Kiley, chairman of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) commented recently on the $39,750,000 in grants awarded to the MBTA by the Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

One grant will permit the completion of the project to relocate the Orange Line through the tunnel under the South Cove area of Boston. The other grant is for the acquisition of the Midland Branch of the old Penn Central from South Boston to Readville and its rehabilitation into a 79 mile-per-hour track for the commuter rail lines to Revere and Franklin, for Amtrak and for the Conrail freight service.

"I am delighted with the awarding of these grants," Mr. Kiley said. They will permit us to go forward with construction projects totaling nearly $50 million over the next four years.

"This is a great boost to the Massachusetts economy, as well as to the MBTA's transportation plans.

"The impact of that $50 million in the economy over the next four years is equal to 5,500 jobs for one year. That is 1,100 jobs in construction, 1,200 jobs for suppliers, and 3,200 jobs in the rest of the economy because of the multiplier effect of injecting $50 million into the economy," Mr. Kiley said. "That means, over four years, an average of nearly 1,400 jobs a year."

Work on the four-year South Cove project should begin by the end of summer and construction on the Midland Railroad will follow within six to twelve months of design work.

The South Cove tunnel project will complete the realignment of the Orange Line from its Washington Street access across town to the Back Bay Station alignment of the old Penn Central tracks. (The Penn Central was absorbed into Conrail on April 1.)

The tunnel was begun in 1968 and can be seen just before the Orange Line subway emerges from the tunnel under the Tufts New England Medical Center.

Included in this project is $16 million for completion of the tunnel; $4 million for the South Cove Station; $1.5 million for a temporary station at Back Bay; $1.6 million for track work; $2 million for power cables and third rail; $1.3 million for signal and communication cables; and $7,188,000 for engineering contingencies, and miscellaneous work.

The federal share of the $33,688,000 project is $26,950,400 and the share from MBTA bonds is $6,737,600.

The $16 million Midland Railroad project includes $9.8 million for rehabilitation of the track and roadbed; $2 million for signals and communications; and $4.2 million for engineering and design contingencies, and acquisition. The federal share of the $16 million project is $12.8 million and MBTA bonds will cover $3.2 million.

MAYOR URGES: CONTINUE TAXI DISCOUNT PROGRAM

Mayor Kevin H. White has asked Police Commissioner Robert di Grazia to take immediate action against the Boston Cab Association for its violation of a 1974 agreement to provide 20 percent taxi discounts for Boston senior citizens.

"The Boston Cab Association has refused to continue supplying the city with the taxi coupon books necessary for the program's operation," Mayor White said. "Its action shows a flagrant lack of concern for those older Bostonians who rely on the discount program for transportation they otherwise could not afford.

"Since the refusal also violates a 1971 amendment to the Hackney Rules and Regulations, I have asked Commissioner di Grazia to exercise his authority to bring about full compliance without further delay," Mayor White added. "I have further instructed him to consider this breach of compliance in his review of the association's current request for a fare increase."

Since December, 1974, Hackney Rules and Regulations have required the Boston Cab Association to supply the city with $5 taxi coupon books that can be purchased for $4 by Boston residents sixty-five years of age and older.

As of February, 1976, immediately following its official request for a fare increase of nearly 45 percent, the cab association has refused to supply additional coupon books.

The Elderly Discount Program, jointly supervised by the Boston Elderly Commission and the Little City Halls, has provided taxi discounts to more than 23,000 Boston senior citizens since its inception.

Elderly Commissioner Maureen Schaffner and Office of Public Service Director Claudia Delmonaco have joined Mayor White in urging Commissioner di Grazia to take immediate action so that the program can continue without interruption.

BOSTON GREETES MAYOR OF KYOTO

Mayor and Mrs. Kevin White hosted a four-day visit to Boston by Mayor and Mrs. Motoki Funahashi of Kyoto, Japan, and other Japanese dignitaries as part of the Sister City Program.

Mayor Funahashi, who was making his second visit to Boston, and his party arrived at Logan International Airport on April 18, where they were greeted by Mrs. Kathryn White, representing Mayor White.

"Close cultural bonds between the people of Boston and Kyoto have existed for nearly 100 years," Mayor White noted later. "Today, the similarities between these two centers of history, education, and culture are striking. It is an honor for us to welcome our friends during the Bicentennial celebration."

Boston and Kyoto have been Sister Cities since 1959, when the then Mayor Takayama visited Boston to attend an international trade convention. His suggestion of an official cultural exchange was accepted by Mayor John B. Hynes.

During their stay in Boston, the Kyoto delegation visited the Children's Museum, the Old North Church, and attended the Patriots' Day celebration in Concord and the Boston Marathon.

BOSTON MARKETPLACE: A "MUST" VISIT

The Boston Flea Market, recently renamed the Boston Marketplace, opened its sixth season at Faneuil Hall on Sunday, April 25. A restyled Dock Square Park will provide the setting for Boston's historic antiques and crafts market, which has drawn over half a million visitors since it began in 1971.

Approximately 100 exhibitors of antiques, Americana, quality crafts, and original artwork were featured, many with a Bicentennial flair.

Port Rock Antiques, Rockport, Mass., displayed a variety of early lighting, including a 300-year old stone-carved Pilgrim's lamp and an assortment of whale oil lamps. Also along the mariner line, craftsman Dan Kiracofe, Boston, sold original scrimshaw he fashioned after the eighteenth century art. Elaine Sime, East Wareham, sold quilts created with colonial style designs.

Children visiting the Marketplace found a number of treasures, both old and new — reproductions of children's folk toys and hand-crafted Sesame Street puppets.

So popular has the Boston Flea Marketplace become that its founders have helped to develop similar markets in renovated areas in other cities. The Marketplace also runs antiques and crafts shows at convention centers in Philadelphia, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Columbus.

The Marketplace has drawn visitors from every state in the union. Its location on the Freedom Trail makes it a special attraction for Bicentennial tourists.

The Marketplace will be open every Sunday, April 25, through October, from 1 to 6 P.M., rain or shine. Special weekly happenings will include "Children's Day" (June 6), Oktoberfest (October 3), and a two-day Memorial Day extravaganza.

Admission is $1 (adults); and $.25 (children).

Effective immediately, commanding officers of all districts and units will insure that the following procedure is adhered to whenever a civilian employee of the department is injured while on duty.

A special report of the circumstances will be prepared by the commanding officer of the district or unit detailing the circumstances of the accident along with the nature and extent of the injury. This report will be forwarded to the office of the Police Commissioner.

An Industrial Accident Report Form will be prepared and six copies will be forwarded to the office of the Police Commissioner along with the special report described above.

All injured City of Boston employees (civilians) requiring immediate medical attention should report to the Accident Floor, Boston City Hospital, as soon as possible after the injury. This facility is fully staffed for your convenience.

All inquiries regarding Workmen's Compensation Service should be directed to Earl W. Franklin, Workmen's Compensation Agent, City of Boston Law Department, 82 Water Street, Boston, Mass. 02109.

Commanding officers are directed to insure that this order is strictly complied with. Failure to follow these procedures may result in loss of pay for the injured employee under the Workmen's Compensation Laws.

Special Order No. 76-30

To: All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

The carnival season will shortly be upon us, and officers are reminded of M.G.L., Chapter 140, sections 186 and 250A, which require all amusement device operators to be licensed by the Mayor's office and the Massachusetts Commission of Public Safety.

The statute makes operations of such amusement devices as ferris wheels, carousels, and inclined railways (roller coasters), without a license from the Commissioner of Public Safety, punishable by imprisonment of up to one year and/or fine up to $1,000. It is also required that the license be displayed at the site of the amusement device.

Also, it shall be the responsibility of area deputy superintendents to see that properly licensed carnivals, which operate within their areas, conduct their business in accordance with the terms of their license.

They shall also ascertain that sufficient uniform officers are detailed. Furthermore, that all games of chance are conducted in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth, i.e., no games of chance shall offer cash prizes, or certificates for merchandise (which could be redeemed for money). Only merchandise may be awarded for winning at any game of chance, and shall not be redeemed for money. This also applies to so-called Las Vegas nights.

All uniformed personnel of the department shall be informed of the foregoing and shall notify their immediate superior officer of any violations.

April 2.

Special Order No. 76-31

To: All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

A recent survey of the department by members of the Internal Affairs Division as to the manner in which overtime authorization forms are being signed by superior officers disclosed that a standard operating procedure is not being adhered to in several of the districts and units. For instance, some of the districts sign the slips at the end of the tour of duty only, and not at the beginning and end of overtime. Others sign only at the start of the overtime for the beginning and end; and in some districts, slips a couple of days old weren't signed at all.

Overtime performed at a parade or as a part of Operation Safety does not pose any problem because a superior officer is assigned to these functions with the police officers and is responsible for the slips. The processing of the slips of officers performing regular overtime and priority patrol does leave something to be desired. This is especially true relative to the overtime slips of sergeants and lieutenants who work overtime. A sergeant, for example, may be required to perform a morning watch on overtime in some district, and the duty supervisor on that tour happened to be a sergeant. In accordance with Special Order No. 75-34, the duty supervisor couldn't sign the overtime slip, and for all practical purposes, the day lieutenant shouldn't sign it either, at least not the beginning section as he would have no way of knowing when the sergeant began the overtime.

Therefore, effective immediately, every officer performing overtime duty shall fill out, as much as possible, their overtime slip omitting the ending time. The officer shall then personally hand the slip to the duty supervisor, who will sign it for the beginning time. The overtime slip shall then be kept in the possession of the duty supervisor until the officer completes his overtime. The superior officer, who is the duty supervisor when the overtime is completed, shall then sign the slip(s).

Superior officers performing overtime shall also adhere to the above procedures. Under no condition will duty supervisors sign their own slips. The duty supervisor that he relieves shall sign the beginning time, and the ending time shall be signed by his relief.

All overtime slips shall be countersigned by the commanding officer of the district or unit before they are forwarded to the Payroll Department.

It shall be the responsibility of commanding officers to scrutinize each slip to ascertain that it is filled out properly and that the overtime was performed in accordance with the department rules and regulations.

April 2.

Special Order No. 76-32

To: All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

Judge Jacob Lewiton, Chief Justice of the Boston Municipal Court, has issued the following instructions for all officers appearing in that court:

1. All officers with applications on new complaints are expected to appear at 9 A.M.

2. All officers with continued cases are expected to be in the courtroom at 9 A.M.

3. All officers will remain in the session until their case is called and disposed of.

4. All officers who are not in the courtroom when their case is called will be required to make a suitable explanation to the presiding justice.

It will be the responsibility of commanding officers to insure that all personnel under their command comply with the above.

The supervisor of cases, Boston Municipal Court, will insure that these instructions of Judge Lewiton are carefully followed and adhered to by all officers attending court. If any deviation of the above instructions occurs, he shall immediately bring it to the attention of the officer's commander.

April 5.

Commissioner's Memorandum No. 76-32

To: All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

It has been brought to my attention by the Grievance Committee of the Boston Police Patrolmen's Association that commanding officers may not be complying strictly with all conditions of the B.P.P.A. contract relating to the administering of "paid detail" assignments.

It appears a contributing factor to the alleged laxity in procedures has been the focus of attention on "overtime" assignments generated by the policing of the court-ordered school desegregation plan, which in turn has resulted in a city wide pattern of refusals of "paid detail" assignments with many such assignment requests going unfilled.

All commanding officers and other superior officers with a designated responsibility for administering such special assignments are hereby instructed to review the pertinent contract provisions (Article XII) for the purpose of insuring that there is a genuine effort to fill all such assignments, that they are fairly and equitably distributed, and that they are accurately recorded, including refusals, on the charts provided.

Commissioner's Memorandum No. 76-33

To: All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

In a recent decision, Arbitrator Joseph P. O'Donnell of the American Arbitration Association ruled that the city did not violate Article XVI, section 4, of the Collective Bargaining Agreement by denying the day men in District 2, and others, a half day off from duty on Christmas day.

The grievance involved the denial of a half day off to day patrolmen on Christmas day, 1974, after a practice in previous years of granting such time off to the city's patrolmen.

Pointing out that the foundation of its position centered on the past practices doctrine, the B.P.P.A. argued that the elimination of the Christmas half day was an unmistakable reduction in a benefit protected under Article XVI, section 4.

The city contended that the granting of such time off was a management prerogative which is subject to operational needs, and further, that under its interpretation of Article XVI, section 4, the benefit of the one half day at Christmas expired on June 30, 1973.

Noting that custom and practice clearly show that Police Commissioners permitted duty excusals in the form of a half day relief to officers on Christmas day, but the benefit was not maintained, and thus rendered a nullity at the expiration of the June 30, 1973, agreement, the arbitrator concluded:

"... under chapter 322 of the Acts of 1962 in section 11 and in Article V, Management Rights under the Agreement, I find that the Commissioner acted within his statutory and contractual authority as it concerns the grievance here in question. . . ."

April 5.

Special Order No. 76-33

To: All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

Effective immediately, personnel assigned to 911 response units shall not be present at district stations during their regular tour of duty except as necessary for roll call or check out or as authorized on a case-by-case basis by their patrol supervisor and Operations Section.

All field reports will be filled out at the crime scene and collected on the street by patrol supervisors. Each patrol supervisor shall collect the reports of his subordinates periodically, allowing ample time for necessary corrections to be made before the end of the tour of duty.

Contacts between field units will be made on Channel 7.

VI. RESPONSE ADJUSTMENTS (WORKING FIRE)

Previous orders governing response "Working Fires" are rescinded. The definition of a working fire is as defined in section 26.16 of the Department Rules and Regulations:

1. When the officer in charge of a fire uses the phrase, "This is a working fire."

2. Any unqualified request for additional apparatus will be construed as a working fire. (Exceptions would include requests for companies to be used for overhauling purposes, large outside fires, smoke ejectors, and other special equipment.)

For the purpose of alerting the department of a "Working Fire," Special Signal (45), followed by the box number, will be transmitted on the tapper. This will modify the automatic response of the first engine and ladder companies from the second alarm on the assignment card of the box sound. Also, the automatic response of a rescue company, if a rescue company had not responded on the first alarm.

all cases where additional apparatus responded on Special Signal (45), prior to sounding of the second alarm, the use to the second alarm will be the regular companies on the second alarm assignment on the assignment card for the alarm sounded.

VII. HIGH COMMENDATIONS

1613 hours, March 15, 1976, Rescue Company 1 responded to Fort Point Channel near the Broadway Bridge to rescue a man who fell in the mud flats. They found the entire body, except his head, buried, and the tide was coming in.

Lieut. Martin J. Nee of Rescue Company 1 surveyed the critical situation and ordered his unit to rig a life line from the shore, and he descended the line hand over hand to the channel floor. While trying to free the victim out of the mud, he became entangled up to his hips.

Fire Fighter Paul S. Rankin of Rescue Company 1 descended to the channel floor and threw a life line to Lieut. Nee who secured it under the victim's arms. Fire Fighter Rankin held them stable until additional help arrived and them to safety.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Lieut. Nee whose deliberate and courageous action, despite the extreme personal risk involved, prevented the man from going overboard. He is also pleased to highly commend Fire Fighter Rankin who exposed himself to great personal risk to effect this rescue. Their cases are referred to the Board of Fire for further consideration.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

LOUISE DAY HICKS
PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

L. 68

MONDAY, MAY 3, 1976

NO. 18

Mayor Leads March for Peace

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White, April 21, 1976.

The last few weeks have been a terrible time for the people of this city. A black man and a white man have been assaulted with a mindless brutality that now leaves one man fighting for his life in a hospital.

Violence is irrational regardless of the circumstances, and the overwhelming majority of the people in this city find these acts morally repulsive. The people of this city have made it very clear to me in calls and letters during the last few days that they do not wish wanton acts of violence to be Boston's signature to the nation in this Bicentennial year.

Liberty was born in Boston, and it will flourish here as long as our courageous people of high moral principle are willing to speak what is in their hearts. There is today a sense of frustration and deep concern among people who want to express what they feel on behalf of the city, on behalf of individual human liberty.

As Mayor of the city, speaking on behalf of thousands of citizens, both black and white, who share my view, I want to give everyone an opportunity to show what this storied city stands for today. I am, therefore, inviting all people of goodwill to join me on Friday, April 23, in a Procession Against Violence.

I am inviting people on both sides of the busing issue to give public evidence that human life is more important than racial differences.

Beginning tonight, my office is sending out 500 telegrams to invite political and community leaders to participate in this procession. I am inviting Senators Kennedy and Brooke, Governor Dukakis, the congressional delegation, members of the City Council, the School Committee, and the Legislature to participate.

I am also inviting, through this public appeal, all members of the clergy, the labor unions, community groups, and leaders on both sides of the busing issue. Most important of all, I am asking all decent people everywhere in this city to join in this Procession Against Violence.

The procession will begin Friday, at 11:30 A.M., at Boston Common, at the corner of Beacon and Charles Streets. It will proceed up Beacon Street, down Park Street to Tremont Street, and finally to City Hall Plaza.

At the plaza an ecumenical prayer service will be conducted by Humberto Cardinal Medeiros, Rabbi Roland Gittelsohn, the Right Reverend Morris Arnold, Episcopal Bishop of Massachusetts, and by the Reverend Michael Haynes.

There will be no speeches. I ask all participants to refrain from showing any placards or signs of any kind.

It is my hope that this procession will change the climate so that we can bring an end to violence in Boston.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

An estimated 30,000 persons, white and non-white, assembled in City Hall Plaza and witnessed one of the most dramatic events ever held in Boston.

They were there for one common cause: to pray for peace and hope for an immediate end of violence in their beloved City of Boston.

VOICE YOUR OPINION

More than three million tenants in the nation's public housing are now guaranteed advance notice, and a chance to voice their opinions, of any proposed rent changes affecting them as a result of new ground rules issued by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

HUD Assistant Secretary James L. Young said a final rule on the subject — itself reflecting tenant suggestions — now requires Public Housing Agencies (PHAs) to:

- Give public housing tenants and tenants associations at least thirty days' notice of intent to request HUD approval of a rent schedule change;

- Provide tenants an opportunity to make written comments on the proposed changes; and

- Inform tenants of HUD's decision, whether approval or disapproval, after all submitted materials have been considered.

Other tenant rights confirmed by the final rule include:

— Opportunity to inspect and copy all materials submitted to HUD in support of proposed rent schedule changes; and — Right to assistance of legal counsel or other person in examining PHA records.

MAYOR DECRIES RACIAL HOSTILITY

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White

The recent brutal beating of an innocent motorist, Richard Poleet, who was pulled from his car in Roxbury and savagely pummeled with rocks, was a despicable act that must not go unpunished.

No one, black or white, will be allowed to take the law into his own hands.

Just as the vast majority of law-abiding citizens were outraged and disgusted by the earlier attack on Mr. Landsmark, so must these same individuals also condemn, in the strongest possible terms, what can only be described, truthfully, as racism in reverse.

Vicious assaults upon other human beings, for whatever reason, will not be tolerated. I know Commissioner di Grazia is pursuing the investigation with the same vigor and intensity that led to the apprehension of Mr. Landsmark's assailants.

I recognize that racial hostility has been building to an intolerable level and that because of the latest incidents, tension exists in both the black and white communities. Nevertheless, tensions should not and must not be allowed to escalate.

The test of leadership and courage on both sides demands absolute condemnation of violence as an acceptable outlet for frustration. There is no social, economic, or political rationale for a wanton assault upon another human being.

I hope that responsible leaders in both the black and white communities will join me in asking for a cooling-off period so that public order can be maintained.

NEW APPOINTMENT

Mayor Kevin H. White has announced the appointment of Michael Killion as manager of the Hyde Park Little City Hall.

Mr. Killion, twenty-nine, succeeds Thomas Materazzo who is now Commissioner of the city's Veterans' Services Department.

"Mike Killion brings initiative, talent, enthusiasm, and a strong background in urban affairs to his new position," Mayor White said. "I have a great deal of confidence that he will provide strong leadership and a high degree of service to the Hyde Park community in his new role," he said.

Mr. Killion, raised in Mission Hill, previously served as a community liaison with the Boston Community School Program and was a teacher in the Boston Public School system for several years.

A graduate of Boston State College, where he majored in English and education, and of Mission High School, Mr. Killion is studying part-time for a master's degree in Urban Affairs at Boston University.

He resides with his wife in Roslindale.

TEXTILES EXHIBITION AT MUSEUM OF SCIENCE

The art and craft of weaving come together at a pinnacle of achievement in a new exhibition, "Diverse Expressions in Textile," at Boston Museum of Science.

Presented now through May under the auspices of the Smithsonian Institution, the exhibit shows textiles by twenty professional weavers, all women.

Their work covers a wide range of techniques, from traditional to experimental, and a diversity of purpose, from rugs to room dividers, to wall hangings. In the hands of weavers of old, they have created art forms out of utilitarian products. Unlike their predecessors, however, many of these weavers have expressed a subjective view, explored fantasy worlds, or exploited the nature of the material itself.

In addition to plant-dyed, hand-spun yarns, the hangings employ such materials as strips of cellophane, beads, shiny metals, and synthetic threads. There is a three-dimensional effect in a large hanging which rough, tarred yarn was blended with finer threads. Another, reminiscent of a Paul Klee painting, is an abstract design looking like a collage. One of the most unusual pieces is a delicate composition of multilayered, translucent silk chiffon pierced with machine embroidery and colored by hand.

Installed in Stearns Hall, Museum west, the exhibit will be open during regular Museum hours: Monday through Saturday, 10 to 5; Friday nights to 10; Sundays, to 5.

Freedom is the source of all that is best and worst in man.

Freedom is subject to limits in order to safeguard the freedom of others.

Freedom increases human dignity when it is based on intelligence and aims at the good of all, and not exclusively of self.

Freedom can be suppressed effectively by mob rule as by dictatorship.

Freedom is better served by sacrifice than by self-indulgence.

$2 BILL: ITS HISTORY

The American currency could be more appropriately issued to honor the Bicentennial than the new $2 bill. This denomination is as old as America itself and as rich in heritage. The $2 bill originated on June 25, 1776, when Congress authorized its issuance in the form of "bills of credit for the defense of America." During the Civil War, Congress authorized the $2 denomination as United States currency. It reappeared subsequently as oversized notes, silver certificates, and treasury notes with various portraits preparing on different versions including Alexander Hamilton's. By 1939, the more familiar $2 United States note was issued bearing the portrait of Thomas Jefferson, third United States president and author of the Declaration of Independence. The last version of the bill was discontinued by the Treasury Department on August 10, 1966.

Now, for the first time in almost 100 years, this part of American postage has been reissued in a special Bicentennial version with the reverse side featuring a modified design of John Trumbull's famous painting of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence, and the reverse side showing Thomas Jefferson's portrait. The new $2 bill was specially issued starting on Jefferson's birthday, April 13, 1976.

POST OFFICE INTRODUCES EXPRESS MAIL SERVICE

Medical-related items, birthday cards, payroll checks, important documents, and other time-valued packages or letters mailed at post offices on the east coast by 5 p.m. can be guaranteed delivery on the east coast the following day under the United States Postal Service's Express Mail Program.

It is the only mail service offered by the Postal Service that carries a money-back guarantee if it fails to deliver on time," according to William E. Malvey, program manager of express mail in the northeast region.

The service is being used successfully by many individuals and business firms including Pacesetter Systems, Inc., of Atlanta, Ga., for emergency deliveries of heart pacemakers; Pan American Airways for rush delivery of paychecks from New York City to its Honolulu employees; senders of gifts during the holiday seasons and other special occasions such as birthdays, graduations, etc.

The high-speed experimental delivery system is available through major post offices, stations, and branches throughout the northeast region and across the United States. Currently there are more than 100 major United States cities and eight overseas countries in the express mail network with plans for continued expansion of the program. Service to foreign lands is next, and second-day, depending on distance and time-zone changes.

"Actually there are hundreds more delivery points than the amount of major city post offices in the program because surrounding communities of most destination post offices are included in delivery areas," said Mr. Malvey.

The Express Mail Program has two options under its "regular" service.

A mailer can have the addressee pick up the package or letter at the destination post office by 10 a.m. the following morning. The alternative is direct delivery to the addressee, for an extra fee, by 3 p.m. Failure by the Postal Service to meet these deadlines will result in a full refund of postage to the mailer.

"Express Mail service has achieved a 98.4 percent on-time performance," noted Mr. Malvey.

Express Mail does not enter the normal mail stream. Each shipment is carried in a distinctive orange and blue pouch, is assured space on the best scheduled airline flights, and is accorded priority handling on arrival.

Rates for the service vary according to weight and destination and according to which delivery option is used. For example, an item weighing up to 8 ounces is guaranteed next-day to any post office in the domestic Express Mail network for only $1.50. A 2-pound package would cost $2.25. The weight limit for "regular" domestic service is 40 pounds.

Under its "programmed" service, four Express Mail options are available to business firms and other organizations.

The options are designed for companies and others able to contract for service to meet special time requirements.

"Regular" Express Mail from Boston, Massachusetts, Newark, New Jersey, and New York City receives free merchandise insurance up to $500. Plans call for the coverage eventually to be extended to all cities in the Express Mail network.

Mr. Malvey said that complete lists of cities and foreign countries in the Express Mail domestic and international networks, as well as cost, weight limits, and other information are available at Express Mail windows of the network post offices, stations, or branches.

Express Mail can be deposited at any of the following Post Offices:

General Post Office — Downtown Boston; Air Mail Facility — Logan Airport; South Postal Annex; Arlington; Cambridge (Central Square); Malden; Newtonville; Somerville; Back Bay Annex; Brookline; Chelsea; Needham; Quincy; and Waltham.

ORAL SCREENING FOR THE ELDERLY

The Department of Health and Hospitals, Dental Service at the South Boston Community Health Center, recently offered an Oral Screening Program for the senior citizens of South Boston. The community outreach program was assisted with the Center's Community Health Nursing Staff.

Dr. Gregory Connolly, staff dentist at the Center commented at a recent interview, "One of the most neglected areas in dentistry today is oral health care for the elderly. Even though a person may have lost some teeth and is now functioning with dentures, it is still important that they have a yearly oral health exam. Serious problems may be averted and good oral health maintained through such a check-up."

The successful screening included evaluation for dental decay, periodontal disease, and any soft tissue pathology. Over fifty people were screened with twenty-three referrals to the Health Center for follow-up care.

According to Dr. Myron Allukian, Community Dental Program deputy commissioner, "This outreach program was effective in reaching the people unable to see a dentist on a regular basis."

To: All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

Dog licenses shall be issued for the year beginning April 1, 1976, in accordance with the procedure now in effect.

Licenses printed in triplicate, prenumbered and bound in stub book form, together with dog tags packed in individual envelopes, shall be delivered to each district by the property clerk. All material shall be checked carefully, and dog tag numbers shall be checked against license numbers in the stub book. Any variance will be reported to the Services Division at once.

April 6.

Special Order No. 76-34

All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

A recent survey of the department by members of the Staff Inspection Division found that some districts are not complying with Special Order No. 76-19, dated January 20, 1976, and Special Order No. 76-19, dated March 4, 1976, Gasoline Fill-Up Log.

It is important that these forms be completely and accurately filled out so that the department can keep accurate records of consumption and anticipate its needs.

Therefore, effective immediately, Special Orders Nos. 76-19 and 76-21 are rescinded and replaced with this order:

Effective 8 A.M., Monday, April 12, 1976, all records of any department vehicle receiving gasoline from any department gasoline fill-up log will record all data listed on BPD Form No. 1763, the Boston Police Gasoline Fill-Up Log.

The line will be completed, accurately and only, for each fill-up.

All personnel are reminded that each vehicle will be properly identified by its Department Vehicle Id., which is located on the left front-door opening, except in open vehicles, such as scooters and motorcycles. (NOTE: Every department vehicle does have a department identification number.) When necessary to gas leased vehicles or vehicles otherwise temporarily used by the department, Code 9999 will be entered in the vehicle Id. field.

Do not identify a vehicle by the Registration Number or Visabar Number.

The Date field must contain six digits. For example, February 2, 1976, would be 02/76, not 2276, 2-2-76 or 2/2/76.

Exact meter reading and gallons taken, including tenths, shall be recorded for every fill-up.

Any oil taken must be recorded to the nearest quart, e.g., three-fourths of a quart would be entered as one (1) in the Oil field. The objective of this order is to achieve maximum accuracy in recording department vehicle fill-ups.

It will be the responsibility of the operator of each department vehicle to fill out Form No. 1763 when gas is issued and sign the form. The duty supervisor, or an officer delegated by him, will be responsible for seeing that the form is correctly filled out and will also sign the form whenever gas is issued.

Beginning at 8 A.M., Monday, April 12, 1976, and each Monday thereafter, each district, including the department garage, will assemble all Gasoline Fill-Up Logs, BPD Form No. 1763, for the preceding week, and forward them Weekly, via department mail, to Sgt. William Bulger, Key-Punch Section, basement floor, Headquarters. They are not to be sent daily.

Forwarded herewith are carefully detailed instructions as to the proper method of filling out Form No. 1763. These instructions will be posted at the gas pump, and duty supervisors will be held directly responsible for all incorrect entries.

It will be the responsibility of commanding officers to insure that the above are strictly complied with.

April 7.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and the Housing and Urban Development Department, and each in the sum of 100 percent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the contract documents must be paid on this project and that the contractor must ensure that employees and applicants for employment are not discriminated against because of their race, creed, color, or national origin.

The Building Commissioner is allowing a twenty-four-day period to complete the demolition and site clearance of these buildings starting within seven (7) days after the signing of the Mayor's award.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest to do so.

The attention of all bidders is specifically directed to the provisions of the contract documents, including, with limitation, the notice to all bidders (including subbidders) and the provisions with respect to bonds, insurance, equal employment opportunity, minimum wages, time of performance, liquidated damages, and the requirements set forth in the specifications on supplemental equal employment opportunity anti-discrimination and affirmative action program contract provisions, and to the requirements of mandatory compliance with section 3 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1968 and Executive Order 11246. No bid shall be considered unless it is accompanied by a signed contractor's certification, as shown in the Affirmative Action Requirements, pages AAR-15, through AAR-18. A statement of workforce needs as required by section 3 and a section 3 Affirmative Action Plan, which are currently under review by the City of Boston, shall, if approved, be required from the contractors prior to the contract award. No bidder shall be eligible for award on this project unless he is able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Awarding Authority his ability to comply with these requirements.

Mayor Urges: Restore Fiscal Sanity

Excerpts of Mayor Kevin H. White's Remarks Before the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, April 30, 1976

Good morning. I have requested the opportunity to speak to you today about the state of the city's finances, including both the short- and long-term prospects for fiscal solvency.

In December, I felt compelled to announce that the city would probably incur a sizeable deficit this year, as much as $30,000,000.

Since then we've cut, trimmed, worked with unions to cut down the deficit. In almost every area of city government we are making progress. Except for one department, the city would have a balanced budget this year. That department is not only the largest, but the one, paradoxically, over which we have the least control — the School Department.

School Department overspending simply stated, bankrupting Boston. I have come here today to describe the events and circumstances that have created this disaster, and also to ask for your support, advice, and assistance in constructing a workable remedy for it.

I have employed every conceivable means at my disposal to restrain the spenders in the School Department — without success. But I am not about to let this city (which has troubles enough) be bled white by inefficiency or irresponsibility.

But I cannot do it alone — so I am here to get some help.

The problem can be stated in one sentence: The School Department is going to run out of money before the end of the school year. Its $4-million-dollar appropriation will be depleted by May 16. On that date, the city will meet the last school payroll of which it is capable this year.

We have issued warnings, called meetings, and petitioned the court about the impending shortfall — to no avail. The spending has been going on as if there were no tomorrow.

Well, after May 15, there will be no tomorrow.

I suspect that more than a few people thought, or hoped, that this problem would simply disappear or evaporate. That, through some sleight of hand, or fiscal gimmickry, School Department overspending could be absorbed. But there are no magicians in city government.

So, on or about May 16, the School Department will be out of money. If the schools remain open, if departmental spending continues at its present rate, there will be close to a twenty-million-dollar deficit by the end of the school year.

But the city is absolutely incapable of picking up such a deficit.

As you know, under state law, once our city tax rate is set, there are only two ways to get additional funds for any department:

(1) Appropriations can be made from a reserve fund with the approval of the City Council. There is no money in the reserve fund.

(2) Surplus funds from other departments could be made available with the approval of the City Council. This year, there are no surplus monies.

What can we do?

First is to close the schools early, and make the children pay for the waste and inefficiency. The teachers' strike has shortened the school year as it is. The parents of Boston legitimately expect a full year of school for their children. Closing school is unacceptable. If I'm not mistaken that view will be echoed around the city.

The second possibility, I'm told, is that Judge Garrity will see a shortened school year as a threat to the desegregation process. I'm told he could intervene and set aside the statutory prohibitions on our spending and borrowing. He could, in effect, order the city to dip into next year's funds or borrow from private lenders.

In that case, just the cost of finishing the school year would probably appear as an extra ten dollars or more on next year's tax rate.

This solution has a superficial attractiveness about it; but for three separate reasons, that solution would only plunge the city into deeper financial troubles.

First: The judge's action would represent a further intrusion into established governmental procedure. The restrictions on city borrowing are there for a very good reason: to protect the taxpayer from dangerous fiscal practices by anyone.

Second: By ordering the city to pay, the judge would be condoning mismanagement and inefficiency.

Third, and most critical: Even before desegregation, Bostonians were staggering under the greatest property tax burden in the nation. People will be asked to undergo real hardships, to pay the additional School Department tab. I, for one, will not go to those people and ask for their understanding and indulgence.

In the eight years I have been Mayor, I have never misled the people of this city about the tax rate or any other fiscal issue.

So, I say to you in utter frankness: The present course of school expenditure may lead to the greatest property tax increase in the history of this city.

Any city of our age and size lives on the margin of economic survival. Overspending may well be the blow from which we never recover.

As chief executive of this city, I have a duty to pursue and advocate policies which promote our collective health and well-being.

Many of Boston's residents are living under daily economic duress. In fact, 41 percent of the students in our public school system come from welfare families. Our population consists in large measure of the poor, the elderly, the disadvantaged. They cannot pay any more. I will not ask them to.

The tragedy is that this approaching calamity was neither necessary nor inevitable. It was brought about by a combination of action and inaction, by people who feel no accountability and no real allegiance to the welfare of this community.

There is one way that the schools could be kept open, and that is if relief is provided by the federal or state government. I must state to you, in all candor, that I do not see an additional $20 million on either horizon in the next sixty days. This does not mean that we will abandon efforts to secure such funding. I have gone to Washington once this spring in search of increased federal dollars for desegregation, and I shall do so again. But, in all likelihood, the well will run dry for the School Department on May 16.

How did we get to the point where our only alternatives are a shortened school year or a judicial order for the taxpayers to cover a twenty-million-dollar deficit?

The teachers' union says that the present mess is the result of my failure to give the School Department an adequate appropriation. This view seems to be given credence by the judge.

According to the union, $154 million isn't enough money to support a school system with 76,000 students, 10,000 of whom, incidentally, are in half-day kindergarten programs.

I can answer that only by citing some statistics. How is it that the Cleveland school system, which has a better reputation for quality than our own, is able to provide a full year of education for 12th children on a $154 million budget?

How does St. Louis do it, 10,000 students more than Boston and a school budget not even thirds of ours?

Those cities don't have court-ordered busing, you might say. Well, how about Denver? It educates the same number of students as Boston, but on a budget of $100 million, and it, too, is under federal court order.

The same is true of San Francisco where 70,000 students are supported on a school budget of $125 million.

Boston is now spending $2,200 per student. Of the two five largest urban school systems in the country, only New York City spends over $2,200 per student. Only Chicago, Philadelphia, and Oakland exceed even $1,800.

What about funding for the School Department as against other city departments? Here again a comparison is instructive. Since 1972, the total city budget has increased by 19 percent, while the School Department budget has grown 50 percent — and this with the school population was dropping by 20 percent.

So the plain fact is that the teachers union's views of our problem are inaccurate. But if the problem is not lack of funds, then what is it?

It is the burden of the cost of desegregation heaped upon a system already fat in the first place.

This condition of waste existed long before desegregation, but Judge Garrity's intervention seemed to give the School Department spenders renewed energy.

I have no intention of engaging in a debate between the judge and myself — for any reason, personal, public, or political. This city has already had enough yelling and name calling — good headlines but not good sense. But legitimate criticism between parties, on crucial points, is still necessary.

I believe the federal court failed badly in not exercising oversight of expenditures related to desegand by frustrating the city's attempts to economize; and, as a consequence, must bear a fair share of responsibility.

As early as last summer, I made concerted efforts to alert the court to its predicament. Sound fiscal management and desegregation are mutually exclusive; but the court threatens to make them so, if indifferent to the limits of our resources.

Whatever the School Department pronounced "necessary" for desegregation purposes, the judge promptly ordered without any regard for questions of cost. The judge has been an unwitting accomplice in budgetary boondoggling.

A fair question is, are federal courts in desegregation cases required to ignore consideration of costs?

The judge's own expert, Dean Heller of Boston University, declared a good desegregation plan as one that can be implemented within existing fiscal resources of a city.

Even more pertinent is the recent decision of Judge DiMascio, Judge Garrity's counterpart in Detroit, rejecting the massive busing proposed by the NAACP and instituting a more modest plan. Judge DiMascio cited several "practicalities" that influenced his decision.

Among those "practicalities" are:

— "The declining tax base of the city of Detroit;

— The depressed economy of the city;

— And the volatile atmosphere created by the highest rate of unemployment in the nation."

After discussing the financial condition of the city, and the need to avoid further resegregation and white flight" from an already majority black school system, Judge DiMascio concluded that not only is constitutionally permissible to take those practicalities into account in forming a desegregation plan, but it would be "irresponsible" for this court not to consider such practicalities where the very survival of an already bankrupt school system is at stake. To act irresponsibly would deny all school children the right to quality education."

Clearly this difference in approach between two desegregation cases can be resolved only at the level of the United States Supreme Court. We are appealing the court's failure to take costs into consideration, and we hope the issue will be placed before the Supreme Court some time next term.

But we have an immediate problem before us now. However this fiscal crisis is resolved, the hard-pressed parents and taxpayers of this city will pay, and that is what is so unfair. School Department administrators, all 1,000 of them, will probably continue to draw their paychecks, whether or not our school children are shortchanged, and whether or not the deficit is placed on next year's tax rate.

Those of us concerned with the future of this city must vow that the present fiscal fiasco never be repeated. If Judge Garrity wants to assure the success of his court order, I hope he will not let desegregation be used so cynically by anyone.

Let us compare my outlook for next year with the School Department's. I have submitted a city budget for next year that is $21 million less than last year's, not because I wanted to. It's no fun to cut my programs and contemplate laying off workers. But, our fiscal condition commands austerity.

The School Department, on the other hand, has arrogantly requested $26 million more than last year. $180 million altogether.

And if they overspend as much as they did this year, that figure may (in reality) top the $200-million mark. It cannot be allowed to happen.

To avert this catastrophe, I have two proposals. Both involve the Municipal Research Bureau. This organization has a long tradition of service to the city. I call upon that tradition today.

At the heart of the problem with the School Department is an utter absence of managerial skills. I ask you to take the lead. I ask you to form an emergency task force, consisting of your staff and top level executives from across our business community.

And I ask this task force to devote itself to the study and reform of the budgetary processes of the School Department.

The Bureau — by virtue of its familiarity with the problem, and its commitment to fiscal integrity — is well qualified to head this effort.

While our city is poor in some respects, it is rich in corporate and managerial talent. I believe that the private sector of Boston should come to the city's aid.

I believe the present School Committee needs your support and would welcome it. The current members I have dealt with have tried, worked hard, and have been honorable in their relationship with me and the budget process.

Other cities have sought and received such assistance. In St. Louis, for example, a group of thirty leading business firms donate experienced executives to the School Department to assist in streamlining and improving administrative functions. Perhaps we can follow that example.

I ask Judge Garrity to join me, even at this late hour, in attempting to restore fiscal sanity to the school system, so that this city may survive. But whether he joins me or not, I serve notice now, that this year's fiscal disaster will not be repeated next year.

This city could not carry the consequences, and collectively, we should not let it happen.

Thank you.

OLD NORTH CHURCH

"The Old North," or Christ Church, is Boston's oldest standing church and was built in 1723. On the night of April 18, 1775, two lanterns were hung in its steeple to signal the Redcoats' advance on Lexington and Concord.

Open daily, 9:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M., June 1 through September 30, 10 A.M. to 4 P.M., October 1 through May 30, Sunday services at 11 A.M.

COMMUNITY LEADERS ENLISTED TO END HOSTILITIES

Mayor Kevin White met on April 29, with thirteen political, religious, business, and civic leaders to enlist their active support in easing racial tensions in the city.

The group agreed to meet with black and white community leaders to gain a clearer understanding of the causes of recent racial outbreaks and to seek the common grounds upon which agreements to hostilities may be reached.

The group will conduct its meetings over the next three weeks and inform the Mayor of its findings.

"I am grateful for the support and cooperation of these leaders," Mayor White said. "They are men and women of influence, gravely concerned about recent incidents of violence, and with a significant stake in the future of this city."

"The group will serve as a much-needed, neutral 'listening device' so that opposing points of view may be aired and common meeting grounds determined," Mayor White added. "I encourage all community leaders, black and white, and on both sides of the busing issue, to cooperate fully so that constructive action will be taken to prevent further outbreaks of the violence abhorrent to us all."

Those in attendance at the meeting were:

Senator Edward Brooke; Thomas McGee, Massachusetts House Speaker; Gerald Bleicken, chairman of the board, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company; Richard Hill, chairman of the board, First National Bank of Boston; Hubert Jones, former director, Roxbury Multi-Service Center and currently Professor of Urban Studies, MIT; Avi Nelson, radio and television talk show moderator, WMEX Radio and WNAC-TV; Davis Taylor, publisher, Boston Globe; Edward McCormack, former state attorney general; Reverend Michael Haynes, Twelfth Baptist Church, Roxbury; Reverend Walter Waldron, Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston; Reverend Robert Golledge, vicar, Old North Church, Boston; Frieda Garcia, director, Consultation and Education Program, Boston University Medical Center; and David Nelson, judge, Suffolk Superior Court.

MAYOR SEEKS AID TO END RACIAL VIOLENCE

The following letter was sent by Mayor White to Governor Dukakis on April 27.

The Honorable Michael S. Dukakis, Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, State House, Boston, MA 02133.

DEAR GOVERNOR DUKAKIS:

I am asking your help in providing state assistance to Boston in its efforts to curb the racial violence which has hit my city during the past several weeks.

Since April 1, 1976, there have been eighty-one reported stonings resulting in twenty-one injuries to citizens, both black and white. Most of these stonings have been at night.

I believe it is imperative to stop stonings and bring calm to my city.

Police Commissioner Robert J. di Grazia feels this can best be done by taking our Mobile Operations Patrol of sixty specially trained motorcycle officers and assigning them to motorcycle patrols in the areas where stonings are occurring.

However, we will need your help in providing this extra protection to our citizens. Most of the Mobile Operations Patrol is now committed to escorting school buses during the day, and is unavailable for assignments at night.

I ask that you provide Metropolitan District Police and State Police motorcycle officers to take over the school bus escort duties during the day to free up our personnel for night assignment.

We are currently using forty motorcycles for these escorts. I understand that the State Police have twenty motorcycles and the MDC Police have fourteen motorcycles which could be used to replace the Boston units. If necessary, the shortage of six could be made up by State Police riding in cars. Boston Police would be required to provide the necessary equipment as the communications equipment to coordinate the escorts.

I realize this will put some strain on State Police and MDC resources and I appreciate your offer to help the City of Boston during this critical time.

Sincerely,

KEVIN H. WHITE
Mayor of Boston

"T" AUGMENTS SECURITY

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) response to numerous requests for more security at MBTA parking lots, now has parking attendants staying longer to provide greater security. The changes go into effect May 1.

The parking lots, where there have been complaints and where now a parking attendant is on duty for longer hours, include Matta North Quincy, Wollaston, Upper Road, Lechmere, Kendall, Sullivan, Riverside, Woodland, Ocean Avenue (Wonderland), Beachmont, Forest Heights, Wood Island, Wellington, and Malden.

The parking fee is standardized at either 50 or 75 cents. By comparison, parking fees in downtown Boston range from $2 to $6 a day.

Riverside and Woodland, on the Riverside Branch of the Green Line, where the parking was the cheapest in the MBTA system at 25 cents, is now 50 cents.

At Arlington Heights, the fee is 50 cents instead of 35 cents.

On the Blue Line, the parking fee at the two Wonderland lots is 75 cents. The other parking lots on the line — Beachmont, Forest Heights, and Wood Island — have a fee of 50 cents. They were 30 cents.

At Quincy Center garage, where there is twenty-four-hour protection, the fee for parking is 75 cents instead of 50 cents. The 75-cent fee is the same as has been charged for some time at the open air lots at Malden, Wellington, Lechmere, and Kendall, and Sullivan Square.

SENIOR CITIZENS: TAKE NOTE

A MBTA registration team will visit Boston's seven Little City Halls in mid-May to register eligible senior citizens and handicapped persons, the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) announced. Registration will take place between 9:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

To be eligible for a senior citizen reduced-fare identification card, which contains the name and address of the holder and a color photograph for positive identification, senior citizens must bring proof of age — 65 years or older — as a birth certificate, baptismal record, or driver's license; proof of residency such as a driver's license, library card, or charge plate; and a 50-cent cash fee.

Medicare cards will not be accepted as proof of age.

The MBTA stressed that senior citizens who already have a reduced-fare identification card do not need to register again. What appears to be an expiration date, is used only for internal auditing and control purposes. Once a reduced-fare identification card is issued, it is good for life.

To be eligible for a handicapped senior reduced-fare identification card, good only during off-peak hours, handicapped persons must present acceptable proof of their disability such as a Medicaid card showing Category 03, handicapped; certificate of award letter from the Social Security Administration; evidence of 70 percent or more disability as determined by the United States Veterans' Administration; or completion of MBTA Form SN-7, which must be approved and signed by a physician or state or federal agency serving the handicapped.

The MBTA forms will be mailed to anyone requesting them by calling the MBTA's Special Needs Office at 2-5123.

The MBTA special registration team will visit the Little City Halls on the following dates:

Thursday, May 13, 1976 — Dorchester Little City Hall, Park Street and Dorchester Avenue.

Friday, May 14, 1976 — Hyde Park Little City Hall, 1179 River Street.

Monday, May 17, 1976 — Charlestown Little City Hall, 236 Bunker Hill Street.

Tuesday, May 18, 1976 — Roslindale Little City Hall, 6 Cummins Highway.

Wednesday, May 19, 1976 — South Boston Little City Hall, 143 West Broadway.

Thursday, May 20, 1976 — West Roxbury Little City Hall, 1860 Centre Street.

Friday, May 21, 1976 — Allston Little City Hall, Harvard and Commonwealth Avenues.

"T" RESCHEDULES PUBLIC FORUM

The public forum on MBTA service in the ten communities of the Northwest Corridor has been rescheduled from April 21 to Thursday, June 3.

The ten communities in the Northwest Corridor are: Arlington, Bedford, Belmont, Cambridge, Concord, Lexington, Lincoln, Maynard, Somerville, and Watertown.

The public forums are part of a new initiative by MBTA management to get suggestions and criticisms from the public on existing bus, trackless trolley, and rapid transit services.

The June 3 forum will be held from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m., at the Arlington Town Hall, 730 Massachusetts Avenue.

Chairman Robert Kiley has said of the forums: "There will be no limitation on topics of discussion at the forum, although we will try to concentrate on service, rather than our construction program."

The first of the public forums was held on March 25, at Revere City Hall, concerning the corridor from Chelsea to the North Shore.

Future public forums on other transportation corridors are as follows:

May 12 — West Roxbury, South-west Corridor; May 26 — Natick, Western Corridor; June 3 — Arlington, Northwest Corridor; June 9 — Medford, North Corridor; June 23

— Weymouth, South Shore Corridor; and July 14 — Boston, Boston Core Area.

IDENT-I-GUARD SYSTEM AVAILABLE

The Boston Elderly Commission and the Roxbury Multi-Service Center are mounting an effort to bring the Boston Police Ident-I-Guard System into the homes of Roxbury senior citizens to deter burglaries.

Through the Ident-I-Guard System, Boston Police provide special engraving tools so that all valuables can be marked with the owner's Social Security number, making them easily identifiable in the event of theft.

Once valuables are so marked, blue and white decals are prominently displayed on doors and windows announcing that the home is protected by the Ident-I-Guard System and that all valuables have been registered with the police.

Generally, residents must apply in person at their local police station for the tools necessary to implement the Ident-I-Guard System.

In Roxbury, however, through the cooperation of Percy Wilson of the Multi-Service Center, staff members will personally visit the homes of all senior citizens who wish to take advantage of the system.

Any Roxbury senior citizens interested should make their requests through neighborhood churches, social centers, and health centers in Roxbury; or by calling the Roxbury Multi-Service Center Community Security Program at 427-4470.

Only those making a specific request will receive the Ident-I-Guard System.

This effort is being sponsored by the Senior Citizen Security Program sponsored by the Mayor's Commission on the Affairs of the Elderly; and is a follow-up on a Crime Prevention Seminar held on March 31 at the Roxbury YMCA.

WHAT AM I BID?

A public auction of unclaimed and damaged merchandise will be conducted by the Boston Post Office, Postmaster Philip L. Sullivan has announced.

The auction will be conducted on Thursday, May 13, 1976, starting at 9 A.M., at the South Postal Annex, basement level, located on Dorchester Avenue near Summer Street, Boston.

Items for sale include classical and pop LP records, radios, jewelry, eight-track tapes, tableware, calculators, clocks, housewares, books, hand tools, toys, and hundreds of other items.

Merchandise to go on sale may be viewed by the public on Wednesday, May 12, 1976, from 10 A.M. to 2 P.M., at the South Postal Annex.

Postmaster Sullivan reminds all postal customers to use a return address on all mail and to make sure the addresses are correct, including the ZIP code. Packages should be wrapped securely and a duplicate address enclosed inside the package.

TEEN-AGE VOLUNTEER INVITED

Teen-agers wishing to become summer volunteers at Boston's Museum of Science are now invited to schedule interviews with the volunteer office.

The popular summer activity includes participation in Project Opener, a program of free visits for inner-city children, who are guided around the Museum in small groups by the volunteers. An introduction to small, live animals is a highlight of the visit.

Teen-agers also assist in the shop, library, and offices. Depending on their backgrounds and experience, they may also assist in other areas.

Older teen-agers can be valuable guides, answering questions and stimulating interest in exhibits with stethoscopes, bones, and other props.

Volunteers must be fourteen years of age or older and be willing to serve a minimum of one day a week for four weeks.

To arrange an interview, call 723-2500, ext. 259.

INOCULATIONS FOR DOGS

Dr. Frederick F. Maloof, director of Community Medical Services at Boston's Department of Health and Hospitals, announces a spring series of anti-rabies inoculations for dogs during three consecutive Wednesdays in May — the 12th, 19th, and 26th. Clinics are to be held at the Animal Rescue League, 10 Chandler Street, between 1 P.M. and 4 P.M., at a charge of $2 per inoculation. "This barely covers the vaccine cost and expense of syringes used," insists Dr. Maloof. "Inoculation will be given by qualified veterinarians."

A bonus opportunity will be afforded dog owners by the Boston Police Department who will have a clerk on hand to issue licenses simultaneously to the city's canine friends. Dog licenses cost $3 for male and spayed dogs, and $10 for unsprayed dogs.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

ICE MACHINES

DEAR MR. WHITE:

Invitation to bid on proposals for furnishing ice resurfacing machines, Proposal 324, to the Parks and Recreation Department, was advertised in the City Record. Subsequently, bids received were publicly opened and read in this office on October 10, 1975.

Weymouth Skating Club, Inc. was the lower responsible and eligible bidder. However, their bid was irregular because the check for their bid was received late.

Authority is requested to dispense with further advertising and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Weymouth Skating Club, Inc., at the price submitted on the publicly opened bid.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $6,000, less 2 percent discount, time of payment.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Under the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973, P.L. 93-159, E. O. 11746, 38 FR33577, the Mandatory All-Program for Middle Distillate Fuel established by the federal energy office is mandatory that the City of Boston the period from January 1, 1976, to 30, 1976, inclusive, purchase its requirement of No. 2 fuel oil for various city departments from Metropolitan Petroleum Company, Division of the Pittston Company. Permission is requested to dispense publicly advertising for bids and award contract, without public advertisement Metropolitan Petroleum Company, Division of the Pittston Company, for No. 2 fuel oil in an amount not to exceed $328,000, percent ten days, net, 30 days.

Price will fluctuate with consumer car price:

This request is necessary to comply with the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973, P.L. 93-159, E. O. 11748, 38 FR 11748, Economic Stabilization Act of 1971, amended, P.L. 92-210, 85, 743; P.L. 94-87 Stat. 27, E. O. 11748, 38 FR33575 of Living Council Number 47, 38 FR 11748.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK F. CHIN,
Purchasing Agent.

ARENA

MAINTENANCE SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to award a contract to General Maintenance Corporation, Inc., for maintenance needed to properly secure the Boston Arena.

The City of Boston's recent assumption of the management and operation of the Arena from the Metropolitan District Commission has created an immediate need for the provision of cleaning services in order to properly maintain the facilities and properties.

Because of General Maintenance Corporation, Inc.'s record of service, because their rates are in line with competitors in the field, and because of their ability to perform services on an emergency basis, it is respectfully requested that public bid be waived in this instance and a contract for an amount not to exceed $6,000, for the period January 1, 1976, through June 30, 1976, be awarded to General Maintenance Corporation, Inc., 129 Border Street, Boston, Mass.

Respectfully,

DAVID G. MORSE, Manager.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT

RAZING OF BUILDINGS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following buildings or structures have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous condition.

These buildings are a menace to neighborhood. The locations follow: 1000 Bedford Avenue, Ward 10; (rear house) 1000 Bedford Street, Ward 10; 1A Bickford Street, Ward 10; 2 Morton Place, Ward 10; 446 Tremont Street, Ward 10; 149 Polia Street, Ward 13.

Quincy Street, Ward 13; 78 Woodcliff Street, Ward 13; 129-131 Ellington Street, Ward 14; 140-142 Ellington Street, Ward 14; 60 Ellington Street, Ward 14; 36 on Street, Ward 14.

Gleason Street and garage, Ward 14; Glenway Street, Ward 14; 9A and 9B Wood Street, Ward 14; 15-17 Oakhurst Street, Ward 14.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 802, Acts of 1972, as amended, particularly section 124 thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises to raze the buildings or structures. Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of buildings or structures, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Napoli Wrecking, $35,881; Mystic Wrecking, $37,035; Ups and Downs Wrecking, $40,000; Circlepower Demolition, $35,200; and G. Grant Company, $41,100; and J. Duane Wrecking, $36,550.

Although 38-40 Wensley Street, Ward 10 (removal of debris and filling to grade only) advertised for this contract, this job was removed in order that it could be done as an emergency bid because it presented a danger for children playing near this location.

Circlepower Demolition Corporation, 1002 Harrison Avenue, Roxbury, Mass., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, carries all necessary insurance, and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the individual buildings or structures were not requested because it would be a practical, physical impossibility for several different contractors to conduct efficient contracting operations simultaneously in individual buildings or structures. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference and each contractor would be exposed to severe hazards, and under his control, by the operations of adjacent contractors. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the total buildings or structures to be demolished, and that handling the buildings or structures as one unit results in one administrative cost to the city rather than what would result from handling the individual buildings or structures as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results, however, in this case, in a contract price of more than $2,000, or over the statutory limitations upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the City Charter of a contract in the sum of $35,200, to the Circlepower Demolition Corporation, 1002 Harrison Avenue, Roxbury, Mass.

Very truly yours,

FRANCIS W. GENS,
Building Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following buildings or structures have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous conditions. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

50 Burrell Street, Ward 8; 91 Marcella Street, Ward 11; 101 Marcella Street, Ward 11; 121 Marcella Street, Ward 11; 123 Marcella Street, Ward 11; 131 Marcella Street, Ward 11.

48 Holborn Street, Ward 12; 3 Langford Park, Ward 12; 120 Howland Street, Ward 12; 59 Howard Avenue, Ward 13; 7 Dalkeith Street and rear garage, Ward 13; 80-82 Wayland Street, Ward 13; (garage) 33 Thetford Avenue, Ward 17.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 802, Acts of 1972, as amended, particularly section 124 thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these premises and to raze the buildings or structures.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of buildings or structures, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We have solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Ups and Downs Wrecking, $31,581; Circlepower Demolition, $33,713; Mystic Wrecking, $32,653; Napoli Wrecking, $29,950; and John J. Duane Wrecking, $30,700.

Two buildings were removed at time of bid, because they were owned by HUD and HUD wants to raze their own buildings. The locations were as follows: 97 Marcella Street, Ward 11; and 114 Hamilton Street, Ward 15.

Napoli Wrecking Co., Inc. 105 Norwell Street, Dorchester, Mass., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance, and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the individual buildings or structures were not requested because it would be a practical, physical impossibility for several different contractors to conduct efficient contracting operations simultaneously in individual buildings or structures. Under such conditions, there would be much mutual interference and each contractor would be exposed to severe hazards, not under his control, by the operations of adjacent contractors. I also believe that the aggregate cost of individual bids would be much higher than the cost of one bid for the total buildings or structures to be demolished, and that handling the buildings or structures as one unit results in one administrative cost to the city rather than what would result from handling the individual buildings or structures as separate bids and contracts. Unit handling results however, in this case in a contract price of more than $2,000, or over the statutory limitations upon awards that can be made without advertising, unless your Honor approves the transaction.

Accordingly, the general public safety so requiring, I ask your Honor's approval for the awarding, without advertising, as required in the City Charter of a contract in the sum of $29,950, to the Napoli Wrecking Co., Inc., 105 Norwell Street, Dorchester, Mass.

Very truly yours,

FRANCIS W. GENS,
Building Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The following buildings or structures have been condemned by me as being in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Notices have been sent to the owners, but they have taken no steps to abate the dangerous conditions. These buildings are a menace to the neighborhood. The locations follow:

111 West Seventh Street, Ward 6; 52 Burrell Street, Ward 8; 54 Burrell Street, Ward 8; 469 Dudley Street, Ward 8; 311 Blue Hill Avenue, Ward 12.

Accordingly, in conformity with the provisions of chapter 802, Acts of 1972, as amended, particularly section 124 thereof, I have asked and have received your Honor's permission to enter these various premises and to raze the buildings or structures.

Bidders were requested to submit an aggregate bid for the entire lot of buildings or structures, but to break down their bids to show the charge against each separate address. This breakdown is necessary for later departmental use in billing demolition costs incurred against the individual property owner of each house.

We solicited invitation bids, award to be made to the lowest qualified bidder, and have received the following:

Ups and Downs Wrecking, $11,430; Mystic Wrecking, $12,000; John J. Duane Wrecking, $12,400; and Napoli Wrecking, $11,508.

Bid awarded to the second low bidder by Commissioner because Ups and Downs Wrecking Company, first low bidder, has too many uncompleted buildings on other projects and the razing of buildings on this project must be completed within eighteen days after signing of Mayor's award.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

Building located at 225 Harold Street, Ward 12, had been removed at time of bid because owner wishes to rehabilitate it.

Napoli Wrecking Co., Inc., 105 Norwell Street, Dorchester, Mass., has submitted the lowest aggregate bid. This company is thoroughly familiar with this work, it carries all necessary insurance, and it has done satisfactory work for this department in the past.

Bids for the individual buildings or structures were not requested because it would be a practical, physical impossibility for several different contractors to conduct efficient contracting operations simultaneously in individual buildings or structures. OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

LOUISE DAY HICKS

V L. 68

MONDAY, MAY 17, 1976

NO. 20

Nighttime Police Patrols Increased

Mayor Kevin H. White and Police Commissioner Robert di Grazia announced that sixty specially trained motorcycle officers have been assigned to combat nighttime violence throughout Boston, giving the city the highest concentration of visible police patrol in its history.

The sixty-man Mobile Operations Patrol (MOP) is being assigned to cover forty-six trouble areas in fifteen neighborhoods of the city.

The Mayor's announcement came following the quick approval recently by Governor Michael Dukakis of Mayor White's request for State and MDC Police takeover of the Police Department's nighttime bus escort duties, thereby assigning the city's MOP officers for nighttime patrol.

"The violence and the fear of violence in this city must be ended," Mayor White said. "A small minority of this city's youth, both black and white, have been taking advantage of the school situation perpetuating senseless acts of violence."

"The vast majority of the people who live and work in this city want no part of violence, and they must be protected and assured that they can live, work, and move within their communities without fearing for their safety," Mayor White said. "We intend to use whatever police resources are available to end these random acts."

"Increased police protection is not a panacea for the violence and anger that has beset our city, but we will protect our law-abiding citizens, and quell disturbances before they become tragedies," he said.

The Mayor explained that since April 1 there have been eighty-one stonings that have caused twenty-one injuries to both black and white residents of Boston. The majority of stonings have taken place at night.

"The highly mobile motorcycle squads are the best resource we have for combating random and spontaneous outbreaks of violence," he said. "By deploying these motorcycle officers throughout the nighttime hours, a highly visible police presence will be brought to Boston's neighborhoods."

The assignment of the sixty-man Mobile Operations Patrol is in addition to the 151 foot patrolmen walking beats throughout Boston neighborhoods, and to the maximum daily deployment of 273 patrol cars answering calls to 911 for assistance.

Police Commissioner Robert di Grazia said that the motorcycle patrols will be deployed according to a computer breakdown of where gang disturbances and stoning incidents have been reported, but that they will be able to respond to problems across the city.

"Youth gangs are very mobile, and they gather and disperse in a short amount of time," Commissioner di Grazia explained. "Our regular patrol cars are mostly tied up answering calls to 911 and cannot devote all their time breaking up youth gangs."

"The new motorcycle patrols are the most effective tools we have in combating youth gangs. They are more visible and they can travel in parks, alleys, and other areas where a patrol car would be unable to maneuver," he said.

"The deployment of these new motorcycle squads will help alleviate fears by Boston residents that they cannot walk or drive in certain areas of this city in safety," he added.

Commissioner di Grazia said the Police Department has been averaging about 200 calls a night complaining of youth gangs and that the MOP unit would now handle all these calls and break up any youth gangs before they cause residents to call 911.

The following is the number of Mobile Operation Patrols assigned to Boston's neighborhoods:

North End, Downtown, Beacon Hill — four (District 1).

Roxbury — six (District 2).

Mattapan — seven (District 3).

South End, Back Bay — five (District 4).

West Roxbury, Hyde Park — seven (District 5).

South Boston — four (District 6).

East Boston — one (District 7).

Jamaica Plain — one (District 13).

Brighton-Allston — one (District 14).

Charlestown — one (District 15).

In addition, fourteen MOP Patrols will be held as a city-wide reserve.

BOSTON'S NEW WATERFRONT PARK DEDICATED

Dedication ceremonies for Boston's new waterfront park were held May 9, according to an announcement by Robert T. Kenney, Director of the Boston Redevelopment Authority.

The 4.5-acre park, constructed as part of the BRA's waterfront renewal project, is located in the area between Long Wharf and Commercial Wharf.

Built at a cost of $2.5 million, the park is dedicated to the late Frank S. Christian, a Boston businessman who was instrumental in launching the waterfront renewal project.

Funds for the park were provided in equal shares by a grant from the Department of Interior's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and from money allocated by the City of Boston as its share of the waterfront renewal program.

The dedication of the park was staged as the lead-off event of National Historic Preservation Week, which ran from May 9, through May 15.

"The new park is the centerpiece of our renewal effort along the waterfront," said Mr. Kenney. "What was once an area of decaying wooden sheds and warehouse buildings has become one of the great public places in this city.

"This park is the most significant addition to the city's system of parkland and open space since the construction of City Hall Plaza. It is an urban amenity that ranks in importance with the Public Garden and the Common.

"But the park is also important in a symbolic sense. Boston had once turned its back on the waterfront. The completion of this park reestablishes Boston's historic connection with the sea. For the first time in almost a century people now have visual and physical access to the harbor."

Mr. Kenney noted that the original urban renewal plan called for a park which would be two acres in size. However, the BRA, working with citizen groups from the North End and Waterfront, modified the plan so that the size of the park has been doubled.

In order to expand the park, Atlantic Avenue, which once ran along the water's edge, has been narrowed and realigned so that it curves away from the water towards the Central Artery and then returns to its old alignment at Commercial Street.

The park, designed by Sasaki and Associates, in conjunction with the BRA Urban Design Department, has been described as an "Arboretum on the Sea."

The dominating feature of the park is an arch-shaped trellis of natural wood which runs 340 feet, almost the entire length of the park. The trellis will be covered with climbing roses and wisteria.

All plant materials—which include 180 trees and 883 shrubs—are indigenous to the waterfront location.

The seaport flavor of the park further enhanced by the use of materials such as cobblestone, brick and granite. (The cobblestone were salvaged from streets in the area when they were torn up to allow for construction of the park. In addition, the nautical flavor of the park is reflected in the light fixtures, which assemble a ship's lantern, and the cast-iron bollard linked by anchor chains, which run along the sea wall of the park. Approximately one acre of the park is covered with grass.

Additional lighting will be provided with lights which are incorporated into the wooden trellis.

Aside from the seating area provided by the steps and grassy slopes, the park will contain ninety-eight benches with backs and thirty-eight backless benches.

The park has been designed so that it slopes towards the water and thereby provides greater visibility of the harbor. This slope effect also provides a screen from the noise of traffic passing on Atlantic Avenue and the Central Artery.

There will be two fountains in the park, one an ornamental fountain which will be located in a grove of trees and the other a spray fountain which is part of a children's play area.

The children's play area will also consist of a tot-lot that will have a sandpit and a timber-form ship.

The park, particularly its southern portion, is the terminus of the Walkway to the Sea, a pedestrian path that begins in the Government Center and continues through the Faneuil Hall Markets area, under the artery and into the park.

Other features of the park include four triangular-shaped information pylons that are eight feet high and contain text and graphics which relate the history of the waterfront from colonial days through the era of redevelopment that has occurred over the past decade.

The park also contains a dog station. The dog station is a fenced-off area which contains three brightly colored fire hydrants.

FIAT RAILROAD CAR ARRIVES IN HUB

A Fiat railroad car, manufactured in Turin, Italy, and leased by the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) for a year's operation in its commuter railroad service, arrived in Boston April 28, aboard the Italian freighter "Pia Costa."

On hand to observe the unloading of the car were Emilio G. Anchisi, president of Fiat United States Representative, Inc., New York; George Gallagher, superintendent of the Boston & Maine Railroad's Boston Division, and MBTA officials. With Mr. Anchisi were his management assistant, Francesco Cordano; and Aldo Voglino, Fiat technician assigned to the car for the year it will be in the Boston area. Representing the MBTA were Wallace W. Williams, chief of commuter rail operations; his assistant, Paul W. Frazier; and Walter True, chief mechanical officer.

Built for the Italian State Railway and modified for use in the United States, the car is being introduced to the American commuter railroad market under the auspices of the MBTA and the Urban Mass Transportation Administration, United States Department of Transportation. The year's lease agreement was signed by Robert R. Kiley, MBTA chairman, and Mr. Anchisi in Boston on March 26.

Unloaded directly onto tracks at dockside, the car was pulled by a Boston & Maine switching engine to the Boston Engine Company shops near North Station. After being checked over and tested, the car will initially be operated in non-revenue service while Boston & Maine crews are trained in its operation. Following this training period, the car will be scheduled for regular passenger service on Boston & Maine routes.

The Fiat car is 74 feet long, 9½ feet wide, and 12 feet high and weighs 83,000 pounds. It has seats for sixty-eight passengers. It is powered by two 250-horsepower diesel engines. Built of steel, it is smaller and lighter than the rail diesel cars (Budd cars) now operating on the Boston & Maine routes.

HUB CONVENTIONS INCREASE

Tourism officials report a record number of 283 conventions and other meetings have been scheduled in Boston this year, and there have been no cancellations. "We still expect the Bicentennial to attract between six and nine million visitors this year, with the heaviest turnouts in July, August, and October," said Harron Ellison, director of Boston 200. Boston had 4.5 million visitors last year at the beginning of bicentennial activity, about 1.5 million more than the average.

WATERCOLOR EXHIBIT AT BPL

In observance of the thirty-fifth anniversary year of the Boston Public Library's Albert H. Wiggin Collection and Wiggin Gallery, the Library celebrates an artistic medium — watercolor — which has long been honored by practitioners and collectors in Boston.

Exhibited on the walls of the Wiggin Gallery now through June 10, 1976, will be a selection by poet and watercolorist David McCord and of watercolors and drawings by D. Y. Cameron, Muirhead Bone, and James McBey. Albert Wiggin had the pleasure of knowing these artists and of building unique collections of their work.

In the center cases of the gallery, an exhibition of earlier English watercolors from the Wiggin Collection helps to give a sense of a long tradition which is still very much alive today.

NORTH STATION "EL" TO BE RAZED

The old elevated North Station, closed on April 4, 1975, when the Orange Line's new Haymarket-North Extension with a new subway North Station was opened for service to Charlestown, is going to be torn down around the middle of June.

The station is the last visible part of the old "el" that served Boston's North End, Charlestown, and Everett for nearly three-quarters of a century.

Approval for Cleveland Wrecking Company, which began demolition of the elevated structure and stations last Spring, to raze North Station was given recently by the Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA). The work will cost an additional $82,500, increasing the cost of demolishing the 2.9-mile long line to $469,500.

Commissioner's Memorandum No. 76-35

To: All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

In a recent decision, Arbitrator Daniel G. MacLeod of the American Arbitration Association ruled that the city violated Article IX, section 2 of the agreement in requiring men in District 6 and District 11 to accept involuntary overtime on a number of occasions commencing October 9, 1973. No monetary award was called for.

The issue arose when patrolmen — day men called in early and morning watchmen held over — were assigned to overtime duty at key locations in South Boston and Dorchester between October 9 and 16, 1973, because of episodes stemming from racial tensions in these areas.

The B.P.P.A. argued that the assignments in question violated Article IX, section 2, in that the overtime was not offered to the low men on the daily roster but was rather assigned on an involuntary basis to specified patrolmen, without reference to their desires or their positions on that roster. No emergency, which may warrant deviation from normal, voluntary, overtime procedures, had been shown, said the association. It was also argued that the city avoided its minimum guaranty obligations under IX-3B, when it held over and called in early, rather than recalling other men in accordance with standard overtime practices.

"Patrolmen," said the city, "do not have an absolute right to refuse overtime," and pointing to the first sentence of IX-2, the city argued that an emergency in the broad sense (as suggested by the "needs of the service" concept) was present. There was a perceived need, said the city, to have men worked additional hours in order to avoid violence and IX-2 recognizes the city's prerogative to require such overtime service. This prerogative, the city acknowledged, was not without limit, being subject to a "reasonableness" standard and the Article's provision of fair and equitable distribution.

Focusing on the distinction between the two basic kinds of overtime work — voluntary and assigned — which runs throughout Article IX, section 2, the arbitrator read the first sentence as expressing the power of the department to compel individuals to work overtime on an assigned basis where the need for such compulsion is demonstrated to exist, i.e., to respond to conditions of necessity. He opined that the thrust of the balance of the clause is in the direction of voluntarism, and one gets the sense that the great bulk of overtime assignments are routine and are to be handled on a voluntary basis. Applying that reading to the instant case, the arbitrator concluded:

"... If one excludes the first day — as to which considerations of time and necessity arguably were present — it is difficult to see that the overtime assignments were other than routine. . . . None of the specific conditions of the third sentence (relating to available manpower, time, or job exigency) nor the ultimate need standard of the sentence covers the case. . . ."

The following communication was received by this department from Gerald Parker, director, Radiation Control Program, Department of Public Health, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, for the information of all personnel.

This letter is a reminder from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health to call for assistance procedures involving radioactive materials. Only one phone call to the Communications Center of the Massachusetts State Police is necessary to obtain aid from qualified state agencies.

The number to call is (617) 566-4237, Extension 237, 238, or 239.

Please be advised that it is most important to ask for Extension 237, 238, or 239.

The department has become aware of the past several years that often some confusion arises when one first realizes that is involved with radioactive materials. The following guide has been developed to suggest some steps in responding to a radiation emergency.

We have found the following sequence of relaying information over the telephone very simple and most effective.

1. Identify the call as a radiation emergency. The State Police will notify Nuclear Incident Advisory Team of Massachusetts Department of Public Health.
2. Identify yourself and your location.
3. Leave phone number where you can be reached.

The following guide lines are suggested:
1. Perform life-saving and rescue emergency first aid.

olate incident area as quickly as possible. Do not touch or move anything suspected of being contaminated until checked by Nuclear Incident Advisory Team (NIAT).

4. Stay upwind of fire.
5. Obtain names, addresses, and phone numbers of all persons involved.
6. Detain all persons involved until advised by NIAT personnel.

Special Order No. 76-39

To: All Bureaus, Divisions, Districts, Offices, Sections, and Units.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

As a result of a decision by the Suffolk Superior Court, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, ruling that the City of Boston was not in violation of any laws in the practice of towing stolen vehicles and certain motor vehicles involved in accidents throughout the city, the following special order is hereby issued.

The provisions of Special Order No. 75-47, dated May 21, 1975 (Guidelines for Towing), are reinstituted, Monday, April 26, 1976, with certain changes which are underlined.

Effective at 8 A.M., Monday, April 26, 1976, all vehicles authorized to be towed by the Boston Police Department in the following districts will be towed by Police Department tow trucks to the following designated police lots. These lots will be operational twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week.

District 1, Lot 1, 240 Albany Street;
District 2, Lot 4, Atkinson Street, Roxbury;
District 4, Lot 1, 240 Albany Street;
District 6, Lot 1, 240 Albany Street;
District 7, Lot 2, Haverhill Street, North Station;
District 11, Lot 4, Atkinson Street;
District 14, Lot 3, Cambridge Street, Allston;
District 15, Lot 2, Haverhill Street, North Station.

No private tow companies are to be used under any circumstances in these districts when a tow is ordered or authorized by a Boston police officer. No officer is to suggest or recommend any private tow company to any person requesting a tow but rather refer that person to the yellow pages of the phone book.

A police lot is now being readied for use by District 3, District 5, and District 13. When this lot is ready for use, these three districts will be notified of its location and the date to commence police towing. Until that time, these districts will continue to distribute their towing evenly among private tow companies.

The following are the guidelines to be used when a vehicle must be towed:

All requests for a tow truck will be made on Channel 1.

Stolen Vehicles

Only those stolen vehicles where the owner has authorized towing will be towed with the following exceptions:

1. All vehicles reported stolen outside of the city, but recovered in Boston.

2. Any vehicle found in an artery of travel, impeding the free flow of traffic, with or without the owner's consent, where its continued presence would constitute a traffic hazard, in which event approval of the officer in charge of operations should be secured. Where practicable, vehicles may be moved to the side of the road if its being there would not constitute a traffic hazard.

Locating officers shall notify the tow lot of the vehicle's condition, i.e., burned, no wheels, etc.

Vehicles Involved in Accidents

All vehicles involved in accidents will be towed by a means secured by the owner. People should be referred to the yellow pages for a private towing company. No suggestions as to any specific tow company should be offered by any officer. Only in the event the owner or driver of the vehicle is so incapacitated as not to be able to secure his own towing, and the vehicle is in violation of Article X, section 2, General Prohibitions Tow Zones of the Traffic Rules and Regulations, will the vehicle be towed by the department's tow truck.

Violation Towing

General prohibitions for towing are set up under Article X, section 2, of the Traffic Rules and Regulations (see attached copy of these prohibitions). These General Prohibitions do not require the posting of "Tow Zone" signs.

Specific Prohibitions for towing are set up under Article X, section 3 of the Traffic Rules and Regulations (see attached copy of these prohibitions). In the case of this section, these prohibitions require that signs containing legend "Tow Zone" be posted.

In the case of violation towing, to meet the requirements of pertinent statutes, if an officer below the rank of sergeant is doing the towing, authorization for the tow shall be requested from the supervisor of towing, assistant supervisor of towing, or duty supervisor, or other officer of rank so designated in operations.

In all cases involving violations towing, it is the department policy to release the car if the owner or driver appears on the scene during the towing operation. This vehicle will, in any event, still be ticketed.

Tow and Hold Vehicles

Vehicles accumulating five or more unpaid tickets may be towed under the Acts and Resolves of 1929, chapter 263. These vehicles are to be towed to the appropriate tow lot and held until a letter of release is received from the court and towing and storage fees are paid. At this time, the department's computer has a list of all out-of-state tow and hold cars. In the future, we will be obtaining a list of all Massachusetts tow and hold cars. In either case, a check of vehicle to ascertain if it is a tow and hold car can be made at operations on Channel 1. The tow truck driver should be told the names of the courts so that they may be put on the Vehicle Condition Report when a car enters the tow lot.

In those cases where an owner or driver is in the car, the officer should politely inform the driver that his vehicle is impounded by the court for nonpayment of more than five parking tickets.

Towing on Orders of Fire Chief

The Tow Unit will tow all vehicles upon the order of a chief or other so designated person of the Boston Fire Department. In this case, the tow truck driver will be given the name of such person ordering the tow, with the reason for the tow. This information will be put on Vehicle Condition Report filled out by tow truck driver and filed at the respective tow lot. The name of the police officer handling the towing incident will also be given to the driver for his report.

General Prohibitions, Tow Zones, Article X, Section 2 of Traffic Rules and Regulations.

(2) General Prohibitions, Tow Zones

(f) Upon a street or highway within ten (10) feet of a fire hydrant.

(g) In front of any public or private driveway.

(h) Upon any roadway where the parking of a vehicle will not leave a clear and unobstructed lane at least ten (10)-feet wide for passing traffic.

(i) On the roadway side of any vehicle stopped or parked at the curb or edge of a roadway.

(j) Upon any roadway in such a manner as to obstruct the movement of any streetcar, trackless trolley, bus, or railroad train.

(k) Adjacent to or upon any center division strip, streetcar reservation, or island placed upon and being a part of any public way, unless the vehicle is entirely within a parking meter space or in a space otherwise provided in these regulations.

(l) In any street or part thereof where signs prohibit parking for the purpose of facilitating snow removal, unless the vehicle is a passenger vehicle stopped temporarily during the actual receiving or discharging of passengers, or a commercial vehicle stopped during the actual loading or unloading of goods.

(m) Upon any street or highway within fifty (50) feet of an intersecting way where official signs are erected.

Specific Prohibitions, Tow Zones, Article X, Section 3 of Traffic Rules and Regulations

(3) Specific Prohibitions, Tow Zones

(a) No driver shall stop, stand, or park any vehicle in any street or part thereof in violation of any of the provisions of sections 2, 2A, and 18 of Article IV and sections 3, 3A, and 8 of Article IV A, or in the following streets or parts thereof, in violation of any of the provisions of section 3 of Article IV and sections 4 and 7A of Article IV A:

The list of "streets or parts thereof" referred to in the preceding paragraph is on file at the office of the Traffic and Parking Department.

(b) No driver shall stop, stand, or park a vehicle in any of the following places:

In any area designated as a bus stop (except buses).

In any area designated as a loading zone.

In any public hackney carriage stand which has been officially established by the Boston Police Department.

(4) Official Traffic Signs

The provisions of part 3 of this section shall be effective only during such time as a sufficient number of official traffic signs bearing the legend "Tow Zone" are installed, erected, maintained, and located so as to be visible to approaching drivers, said signs to be appended above or incorporated into the legend of signs prohibiting stopping, standing, or parking.

(5)

Whoever violates any of the provisions of parts 2 and 3 of this section of the Traffic Rules and Regulations shall be liable to charge for the removal and storage of the vehicle as well as subject to punishment by fine.

Arrest of Operator or Person in Control of Vehicle

If a person is arrested and the vehicle is not concerned in the arrest, to insure safety of arrested person's property, the vehicle should be towed in for safekeeping. If the vehicle is to be further investigated, such as in the case of prints or chemical analysis, the vehicle should be towed to the police district garage wherein the tow was made. The Tow Unit will provide towing, but it will be the responsibility of the arresting officer or officer in charge of the case to see that the owner of the vehicle is promptly notified after such examination. This will also apply in the case of a vehicle used in a major crime. In this type of towing, no fee will be charged to the owner of the vehicle.

Abandoned Vehicles

The Boston Police Tow Unit does handle abandoned vehicles. These vehicles will continue to be handled by the various districts in conjunction with the Department of Public Works through the submission of a Form No. 12.

Towing From Private Property

The Boston Police Tow Unit does not engage in towing from private property. If a complaint is received from an owner of property that a vehicle has committed trespass, such person should be informed of the procedure outlined in the Commission Memorandum of August 5, 1974. In circumstances are such that the officer in the field is unable to refer to this memorandum, he should inform the complainant to contact Operations on Extension 3 for further clarification.

Enclosed for your information is the procedure for retrieving a towed vehicle.

City-Wide Towing Program Towing and Storage Rates Charged by Boston Police Tow Unit

Completed responses shall be made by companies after all members have been interviewed, and all responses shall be forwarded to Capt. Mullen, Personnel Division, at Headquarters, by May 5, 1976. For additional information contact Ext. 200 at Headquarters.

V. COMMENDATIONS

Ladder Company 2 responded to Box 4 on March 20, 1976, for a fire in the buildings at Nos. 70, 72, and 74 London Street, East Boston. Heavy fire was showing from Box 74 on their arrival and people were trapped at No. 72 which was heavily charged with smoke.

Fire Capt. Shea and Fire Fighter Pelosi of Ladder 2 entered No. 72 and removed them from the second floor who told them a person was trapped on the third. It was impossible to reach the third floor from the stairway so a ladder was raised to the third. Fire Fighter Pelosi searched the floor but found no one. Capt. Shea went to the second floor and while assisting a man to safety heard a faint cry from the rear. He worked his way back and found a woman who was partially overcome and unable to walk. He carried her down the stairway to the street where first aid was applied and she was removed to the hospital.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend Fire Capt. Thomas R. Shea and Fire Fighter Lawrence F. Pelosi of Ladder 2 who performed the rescue work under adverse conditions of toxic fumes and heated gases, and before fire fighting operations had begun.

On March 29, 1976, Box 6112 was struck for a two-alarm fire at 264 Webster Street, East Boston. Enroute companies were notified people were trapped in the building. On arrival a man was hanging from a third-floor window and a woman was at another window.

Aerial ladders were raised to each window. Senior man Sacco, Fire Fighters Laureana and Chisholm went to the aid of the man and led him to a small ledge-type roof. He told them a woman and an elderly man were still inside. Fire Fighter Chisholm led the man to safety. Senior man Sacco entered the window and found a second man, led him to a window where Fire Fighters Laureana and Chisholm assisted in getting the man on to the roof.

Meanwhile Fire Fighters O'Brien and Yanovitch broke the window, calmed the woman, and succeeded in passing her out the window. The fire then broke out overlapping the front of the building and temporarily trapping the fire fighters and one of the victims on the roof. By this time fire fighting operations were in effect and all were brought to safety.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend the following members of Ladder 2 for their outstanding performance in saving the victims.

Senior man George M. Sacco, Jr., Fire Fighter Daniel J. Chisholm, Fire Fighter Gerard A. Yanovitch, Fire Fighter Richard A. Laureana, Fire Fighter Martin J. O'Brien, Jr.

VI. AERIAL TOWER RESPONSES

(Effective 0800, May 1, 1976)

The automatic response of an aerial tower to multiple alarms in Divisions 1 and 2 is hereby rescinded. Response of an aerial tower to alarms in Divisions 1 and 2 shall be as indicated on the assignment cards.

Aerial towers are primarily ladder companies. The response of an extra ladder company so as to compensate for the aerial tower's presence at a multiple alarm is not necessary. The officer in charge at an alarm can special call an aerial tower.

VII. LETTER OF THANKS

"April 22, 1976.

DEAR COMMISSIONER PAUL:

On behalf of the Court House Commissioners and all of the personnel of the Suffolk

County Court House, I wish to personally thank you and the officers and members of the Boston Fire Department for their response and actions during the period after the explosion on the second floor of the New Court House earlier today.

There is no question in our minds that the swift action of the Boston Fire Department was instrumental in the saving of so many lives.

I would hope that you would express our thanks to those members of your department especially those members who exposed themselves to a possible second explosion while ascertaining that there were no occupants left in the building.

I would also appreciate your conveying our gratitude to Deputy Fire Chief George Thompson, who, in his inimitable fashion was completely in control of all aspects of the situation.

Kindest personal regards,

ALBERT SHERMAN, Chairman."

The city has awarded a previous contract to the Roxbury Multi-Service Center, Inc. for the provision of the same or similar services as those proposed.

Therefore, for the reason cited above, it is my view that public advertising would not serve any useful or practical purpose at this time.

Sincerely,
DAVID STROHM,
Director.

PLANNING AND RESEARCH

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I hereby request your permission to dispense with bidding and to award a contract in an amount not to exceed $12,000, to the Massachusetts Air Pollution and Noise Abatement Committee (MAPNAC), an unincorporated organization, located at 65 London Street, East Boston, Mass., for the provision of planning and research services. Payment for this contract will be made from the Community Development Block Grant.

Sincerely,
DAVID STROHM,
Director.

PAINTERS AND SUPPLIES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I hereby request your written authority to award a contract for modernization of public housing to the Boston Housing Authority and to dispense with advertising in the City Record, in connection with the award of the contract. The contract will be in an amount not to exceed $440,000. The term of the contract shall be from September 1, 1975, to December 31, 1975. The source of funds for

The Boston Housing Authority has the sole authority to manage and maintain public housing in the city. In light of the above, I strongly recommend that the Boston Housing Authority and the city join in this effort.

Sincerely,
DAVID STROHM,
Director.

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I hereby request your permission to dispense with bidding and to award a contract in an amount not to exceed $13,000, to the Women's Improvement League, Inc. (W.I.L.), a nonprofit corporation, located at 5 Gannett Street, Dorchester, Mass. Payment for this contract will be made from the Community Development Block Grant.

Under the terms of the agreement, W.I.L. will select and subcontract with a third party for performing physical renovations, alterations, and other improvements in the basement area at Wesleyan Holiness Church, 20 Tonawanda Street, Dorchester, Mass., to be leased by W.I.L. for use as a day care center. The work is required to meet the rules and regulations for the licensing of such centers. The period of performance will terminate one year from the date of the Mayor's signature to the contract, but shall not, in any event, extend beyond May 30, 1977 without prior written approval from the city.

On the basis of W.I.L.'s qualifications and previous experience in working with and developing programs specifically for children and youths, I recommend that a contractual relationship between the city and W.I.L. be established at this time to upgrade the proposed day care facility. Moreover, it is my view that public advertising would not serve any useful or practical purpose.

Sincerely,
DAVID STROHM,
Director.

Sincerely,
DAVID STROHM,
Director.

The period of performance shall be from March 1, 1976, through December 31, 1976.

Due to the specialty of the services provided by the Herter Center, Inc., and previous experience it has had in conducting a gardening program, I recommend that a contractual relationship between the city and the Christian A. Herter Center, Inc. be established at this time.

Therefore, for the reasons cited above, it is my view that public advertising would not serve any useful or practical purpose.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HOSPITALS

AUTOMOTIVE REPAIRS

MR. SIR:

On December 15, 1975, this department, upon an advertisement appearing in the City Record, invited interested, competent firms to submit proposals for the repair of the department's ambulance garage, at 100 Albany Street in Boston, whether or not located within the City of Boston, to enter into a contract with the City of Boston for estimating periodically the cost and thereafter, upon the lowest responsible estimate, performing the work of, miscellaneous repairs to Health and Hospitals ambulances, trucks, and passenger vehicles, during the period January 15, 1976, through June 30, 1976.

This contract, which is similar in nature to the contract developed by the Police and Fire Departments, provides for bids to be submitted on each vehicle requiring repairs amounting to $200 or more, with the lowest written offer in each case receiving the work. This method enables the city to obtain the most economical prices per unit of work and to complete the work in the most efficient manner.

The December 15, 1975, invitation resulted in the following firms, located within a reasonable distance of the ambulance garage, declaring their intent to enter into a contract with the city under the above conditions. Therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by vote of the Board of Health and Hospitals, at its meeting of December 14, 1975, I respectfully request your Honor's written authorization to dispense with further public advertising and to enter into a contract with the below-named firms:

Bay State Auto Spring Manufacturing Co., Inc., 83 Hampden Street, Boston, Mass.; General Rental Co., Inc., d/b/a New England Truck Body Repair Center, 103 North Beacon Street, Brighton, Mass.; Woodward's Spring Shop, Inc., 111 McGrath Highway, Quincy, Mass.; Wilbur F. Adams, d/b/a Adams Sunoco Service, 241 Old Colony Avenue, South Boston, Mass.; President Chevrolet, Inc., 540 Southern Artery, Quincy, Mass.; Angelo LaPaglia, Mario Conti, and Martin Downey, d/b/a World Wide Motors, 1153 Dorchester Avenue, Dorchester, Mass.

I propose to enter into one contract to be signed by each of the approved firms. In no event shall the payments to be made nor the liabilities of the city under this contract for miscellaneous repairs of ambulances, trucks, and passenger vehicles, for the period January 15, 1976, to June 30, 1976, exceed the total sum of $12,000.

Very truly yours,

DAVID L. ROSENBLUM,
Acting Executive Director.

REPAIR OF PUMPS

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals, held on November 19, 1975, it was voted to enter into a contract, without advertising, with Technicon Instruments Corporation, Tarrytown, New York, for the repair of four (4) proportioning pumps in the Biochemistry Laboratory at Boston City Hospital. This contract is for the period January 1, 1976, through January 31, 1976, in an amount not to exceed $2,463.33.

These pumps are the heart of a SMA 12/60 instrument in the Biochemistry Laboratory at Boston City Hospital which performs 1,200 chemical determinations per day. The cost for replacement of the pumps alone would be $10,000, and for the complete instrument $120,000. Technicon Instruments Corporation is the only company that makes, and is able to repair, this delicate instrument. The cost of repairs, in our judgment, is reasonable.

In view of the above no useful purpose would be served by publicly advertising for these repair services. Your Honor's permission is, therefore, respectfully requested to award this contract to Technicon Instruments Corporation, without advertising, under the terms and conditions stated above.

Very truly yours,
DAVID L. ROSENBLUM,
Acting Executive Director.

HOUSING INSPECTION DEPARTMENT LEASING CERTAIN PREMISES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I hereby respectfully request permission to dispense with public advertising in the City Record, for the leasing of 1,296 square feet of space in the building located at 263, 265, 265A Bowdoin Street, Dorchester, and to enter into a lease with Harold E. Stone, for this space. The premises are needed by this department as a local office in connection with Housing Improvement Program activities. Your approval will permit the Housing Inspection Department to exercise the renewal option clause in last year's lease of the same premises.

The proposed lease is for a term of thirteen months — April 1, 1976, to April 30, 1977 — with two consecutive options on the part of the city to extend the term for an additional twelve months. The proposed rental fee is $225 per month.

It is my opinion that nothing is to be gained by public advertising.

Very truly yours,

FRANCIS W. GENS,
Commissioner.

LAW DEPARTMENT LEGAL SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request your written approval to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record, and to award to Robert Emmett Dinsmore, a contract, a copy of which is annexed, for his services in representing the members of the Boston City Council with respect to two actions in the Superior Court entitled, Molin, et al. v. O'Leary, et al., Civil Action No. 8575, and Roxbury Multi-Service Center, et al. v. Hicks, et al., Civil Action No. 8684, during the period November 5, 1975, through June 30, 1976, at a cost not to exceed $5,000. These are two actions brought against the members of the City Council seeking the removal of the letters ROAR from the Council windows overlooking City Hall Plaza.

In view of Mr. Dinsmore's experience and in view of the fact that the Council has requested his services, it is my opinion that public advertisement would serve no useful purpose.

Very truly yours,

HERBERT P. GLEASON,
Corporation Counsel.

PRESIDENT, CITY COUNCIL

NO. 21

Mayor Seeks New Tax Revenues

Boston Mayor Kevin H. White, in response to Federal Judge W. Arthur Garrity, Jr.'s court order to find new revenue to cover the School Department deficit, has sent a special tax package to the City Council to raise $29.3 million needed to carry out the judge's order.

The new revenues will require a special tax levy on Boston property owners, totaling $16.40 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The Mayor said that the special package is the "only sound and legally responsible way to raise the funds" to cover the $17.5 million necessary to keep the city's public schools operating until June 21, and to meet the $10 million Police Department deficit.

The tax package filed May 17, by the Mayor, includes the following three components:

—An order requesting the appropriation of $10 million to the Boston Police Department to cover the cost of overtime incurred because of desegregation.

—An order requesting the appropriation of $17.5 million to the city's Reserve Fund (rather than the School Department budget) for school purposes. This allocation will not increase the statutory appropriating power of the Boston School Committee.

—A home rule petition authorizing the city to levy a special, onetime tax in excess of the tax rate (not to exceed $30 million) and to spend it on the costs incurred in complying with the court order. This is the first tax levy of its kind in the city's history.

The tax package filed by Mayor White requires the City Council to take two steps and involves two procedures — the power to spend and the power to raise money.

Approval of the appropriation orders by the City Council will give the Police Department power to spend $10 million, and the School Department power to spend the $17.5 million.

Approval of the home rule petition by the city and the state Legislature will authorize the city to raise $29.3 million to meet these expenditures.

(The $29.3 million figure represents the combined $27.5 Police and School Department costs, plus a 6 percent overlay required to provide a margin against uncollected revenues.)

"When we began this fiscal year, our budgets were in perfect balance, with appropriations matching revenues," the Mayor said. "But now, what I had warned both the School Committee, and the court, more than six months ago, has happened — the costs of desegregation and the fiscal mismanagement of the city's public schools are resulting in a severe financial hardship to the city and its residents," he said.

"While I regret imposing an additional onetime tax on the already overburdened residents of this city, I believe it is the only responsible recourse I have," Mayor White said. "Sooner or later the city and its residents had to pick up the high costs of the court's order. If we borrowed now to cover the budget deficit, we would only be camouflaging the problem and placing the city in an even greater financial trap," the Mayor explained.

"Given the city's recent experience in the bond market and the reluctance with which investors have loaned the city money, except at abnormally high rates of interest, I believe that the onetime tax levy will, in the long run, save the city and its taxpayers more money," he said.

"It will be painful for our taxpayers, but it is the most efficient and responsible route the city can take. We must raise new money, and avoid borrowing against what we don't have.

"I believe that the expenditure for school purposes this year by the School Department, which is nearly $18 million more than the $154 million budget I approved last year, was extraordinary. The School Committee agrees that there has been overspending and extravagance," the Mayor said.

New Tax Revenues . . .

"But the court has not believed me. No controls were placed over School Department spending this year, and the court has refused to order controls over next year's funding.

"While I certainly want quality education to be provided to the children of this city, I am opposed to the use of desegregation as a device to cover waste and mismanagement in the school system, and to the way the court has dictated financial policies to the city," the Mayor said.

"As I warned, just six months ago, that there would be a nearly $20 million deficit in the School Department, I warn again that unless restraints are imposed next year on the level of spending in the school system, we will face another outrageous deficit."

EMERGENCY TASK FORCE ON SCHOOL COSTS NAMED

The Boston Municipal Research Bureau has announced the formation of an Emergency Task Force on School Costs. The task force will review present spending and budgetary practices in the Boston School Department and within the next sixty days will make specific and detailed recommendations concerning the fiscal year 1977 budget.

The Bureau, an independent watchdog agency for city administrative and fiscal affairs, acted in response to a request from Mayor Kevin H. White in his address to the Bureau's board of directors on April 30.

Gordon E. Emerson, Jr., chairman of the Bureau, said that "The Bureau is pleased to respond affirmatively to the Mayor's request, and I can assure him that we will analyze this issue in the impartial and evenhanded manner that it requires."

The task force will be under the direction of Bureau Executive Director John W. Delaney and will include the following members:

Gordon E. Emerson, Jr., executive vice-president, Cabot, Cabot & Forbes; Norman B. Leventhal, president, Beacon Construction Company; Herbert W. Gray, Jr., president, Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank; Donald M. DeHart, vice-president, Blackstone Management Corporation; Bertram A. Druker, president, The Druker Company; Thomas L. P. O'Donnell, Esquire, Ropes and Gray; Oliver F. Amcs, Fiduciary Trust Company; Francis W. Perry, president, A. W. Perry, Inc.; Robert J. Spiller, president, Boston Five Cents Savings Bank; John Larkin Thompson, president, Massachusetts Blue Shield; Joseph R. Barresi, vice-president, Scudder, Stevens & Clark, and former Bureau executive director; Eugene M. Freedman, partner-in-charge, Coopers and Lybrand; and Samuel R. Tyler, Bureau director of research.

The immediate objective of the task force is to provide data which could lead to school budget reductions consistent with the objectives of the federal District Court's orders concerning desegregation of the Boston Public Schools. The Bureau has for many years analyzed school expenditures and made recommendations for greater efficiency and is uniquely qualified to the Mayor's request.

Advertising and other copy must, except in emergencies, be in hand at the City Record office by noon, Tuesday of each week to insure its publication in the Monday issue.

Executive Director John W. Delaney, in commenting upon the formation of the task force, said "Court's desegregation order can be used to justify or ignore unnecessary spending in the School Department. The implementation Phase 2B cannot and must not lead to school expenditures in excess of the city's limited resources and taxpayers' ability to pay. Boston homeowner, rent payer, industrial and commercial property owner is facing a tax rate increase for 1976-77 in the $40 range ready — particularly with the recent order from the federal court to borrow funds to meet this year's deficit.

"It is time to act upon the obvious fact that fewer students in the school system requires fewer teachers. It is time for the city and taxpayers to have the assurance that the municipal finance laws the Commonwealth will be followed — that spending will be within, and not in excess of, appropriations.

"It is time for the taxpayers and workers in this city to be heard on this issue. Educational goals and programs must be achieved within the framework of what is financially possible. All services by this city must compete for limited tax dollars. These decisions must be made by municipal officers, and must be based on the most accurate data available. The Bureau, through this task force, will provide the data to the School Committee, the Mayor, the City Council, and the federal District Court. It is our hope that this information will enable all parties to take firm action to control school spending.

"Boston faces a financial crisis, one not wholly of its own making. Every person who works in the city, every person who lives in the city, and every person who owns home or operates a business in the city has a stake in solving it. Public awareness is now at a high level on the issue of school costs. What is needed now is rapid but careful analysis of the causes, and the courage to make the hard but right decisions to reduce costs. The Bureau is prepared to do its share."

MAJOR REACTS TO JUDGE GARRITY'S ORDER

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White, May 11, 1976.

A reaction to Judge Garrity's order will necessarily be brief. Both the social and legal implications of the order are profound and will require careful study by the city's legal and financial advisors before I can give you a detailed comment.

However, even with a quick reading of the Judge's order, three conclusions are inescapable:

First — The Judge did not believe me, or Kathleen Sullivan, or any other elected or appointed official who testified in his courtroom regarding the financial plight of the city or the mismanagement of the School Department.

Second — The Judge has established a five-party committee to run the School Department and that arrangement may well turn out to be unwieldy and unworkable.

Third — Because this order contains no guidelines for resolving the city's fiscal crisis in fiscal 1976 or 1977, there is no guarantee that the city can avoid another whopping school deficit next year.

The Judge has ordered me to find sixteen million dollars to bail out the School Department, and I will try — and I emphasize try — to comply with the order. But I do have doubts, as I told the Judge in his courtroom, that the city has the legal or fiscal capability to come up with this money.

Perhaps, more significant is Judge Garrity's indifference to my earnest attempts to acquaint him with the dimensions of the city's fiscal crisis. We said the city is unable to fund the school deficit — and he did not believe us.

We said that more power would have to be restored to the School Committee to insure good management — and he didn't believe us.

We said the School Department must have rigorous restraints imposed on next year's spending — and he didn't believe us.

The city's fiscal crisis is real and grave. But this city's inability to convince the Judge of that fact may, in the long run, pose an even greater challenge for Boston.

MAYOR VETOES CURFEW ORDINANCE

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White, May 12, 1976.

I have today vetoed the ordinance requiring a city-wide curfew for youths under seventeen years of age.

Given the public outcry for a simplistic solution to the problem of violence — the easiest thing, and perhaps the safest course politically — would have been to sign it.

But after careful consideration and consultation with Commissioner di Grazia, I have taken the more difficult course, but that dictated by common sense.

Even if my vote is ultimately overridden by the City Council, the people of this city should not harbor false expectations of a curfew's effectiveness and should recognize the enormous problems it poses.

The curfew proposed by the City Council carries no built-in guarantee of curbing the violence it seeks to address. Many violent crimes are committed before 10 p.m., and many arrested are over seventeen.

It is also so broad and so vague as to be virtually unenforceable. We have neither enough police to do the job, nor can we permit its enforcement to take priority over essential police duties.

Common sense dictates that authority begins in the home. Parents, and parents alone, have the responsibility to know where their children are at all times and with whom. The city is in no position to assume their authority, nor do I feel that the current situation requires it.

Most parents do their jobs. Most youngsters are law abiding. Existing laws already empower the police to arrest all those who are not. It is, therefore, needless and unfair to limit the freedom of all for the acts of a few.

While I appreciate the City Council's good-faith attempt to deal constructively with violence in the streets, a curfew at this time is unnecessary and impractical.

For your information the city will continue to do all in its power to curb violence and to see that youngsters are provided with every opportunity for constructive activity.

The evening motorcycle patrols, instituted by the police two weeks ago to break up street-corner gangs have been successful and will continue.

All 250 Youth Activities Commission workers will remain on a 2 p.m. to 11 p.m. schedule, with all twelve Youth Centers across the city remaining open during those hours.

Further, we will continue to work with the business community and the appropriate city, state, and federal agencies to see that both job and recreation opportunities for the summer are increased.

JOANNE A. PREVOST APPOINTED CHAIRWOMAN FOR UNITED WAY '76

Joanne A. Prevost, commissioner of the Real Property Department for the City of Boston, has been appointed central division chairwoman for the 1976 United Way of Massachusetts Bay fund-raising campaign, according to David R. Palmer, campaign chairman.

As central division chairwoman, Ms. Prevost is organizing and will coordinate fund-raising activities among all subunits of each community in her division.

The United Way raises and allocates funds for more than 160 agencies providing vital health, family, child care, and youth services to over one million people in the sixty-six cities and towns comprising the Massachusetts Bay area.

A recipient of the "10 Outstanding Young Leaders Award" presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Ms. Prevost served as Boston campaign chairwoman in the last two record-breaking United Way campaigns. She is the first woman to head the central business district which includes: Boston Proper, Somerville, Cambridge, Winthrop, Brookline, and Everett. Ms. Prevost is the first city government official to hold a major cabinet post with the United Way. She is most deserving of the honor.

A graduate of Burdett College, Ms. Prevost resides in Boston.

HANCOCK BUILDING OCCUPANCY BAN RESCINDED

Building Commissioner Francis W. Gens has lifted the occupancy ban on the new John Hancock Building following a favorable review of a company report that glass breakage in the building poses no safety hazard to occupants of the building.

The occupancy ban was ordered by Commissioner Gens on March 29 after glass breakage was found in the building's curtain wall, and an advisory committee was appointed to review engineering data submitted to Commissioner Gens by the Hancock Company.

In a meeting held late Monday afternoon, the five-man advisory committee said it was satisfied with the report's evaluation that glass breakage poses no safety hazard to occupants of the building.

"The engineering data submitted by the John Hancock Company indicates that the probability of occupants being ejected through a broken window in the Hancock Tower is negligibly small," Commissioner Gens said. "After a thorough study of the report, the committee and I concur that the building can be safely occupied."

However, the group cautioned that because the Hancock Company cannot guarantee against future glass breakage, immediate steps must be taken to maximize the safety of pedestrians walking near the building.

The committee recommended that the following precautionary steps be taken immediately:

- That an independent study of the probable cause of glass breakage be commissioned by John Hancock Company to supplement its own studies; and

- That a systematic monitoring system be established by the Hancock Company to review each window pane in the building every six months.

"While we do believe that the dangers posed by falling glass are small, every possible step must be taken to prevent future breakage," he said.

Evidence submitted to the committee by the glass manufacturer, Libbey-Owens-Ford, indicated that when tempered glass fails in a building, it immediately fragments into small, relatively harmless particles.

The decision was made following a month-long evaluation by Commissioner Gens and a five-man advisory committee comprised of the following persons:

- Earl Littleton, a Tufts University professor and structural engineer, who has served as a consultant to industry and head of the state's Design Selection Board;

- Miles Claire of the engineering consulting firm of Thompson and Lichtner;

- Richard Bolt of the engineering firm of Bolt, Beranek and Newman;

- Thomas Sampson, president of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce;

- Dr. Walter Koltun, president of the Back Bay Neighborhood Association and assistant director for Harvard-MIT program for health sciences, and technology.

BARGAIN RATES AT SCIENCE MUSEUM

Boston's Museum of Science announces a new schedule of reduced rates on Friday nights when the Museum is open from 5 until 10.

The current rates are $1.50 for adults and $1 for ages five to 16, students, senior citizens, and active duty military with Ids.

At the same time the Museum announces an increase of 50 cents in the regular adult admission, bringing it to $3. The raise was made necessary because of "soaring costs of just about everything it takes to run a museum," a spokesman said.

Regular admission for all other categories of visitors remains the same at $1.50. Members and children under five are admitted free.

Friday night programs in June feature a film, "The Early Americans," showing how scientific evidence is used to construct the life of ancient man. July film programs will be on outer space.

There is no charge above Museum admission for these programs.

ASPIRIN STUDY GROUP NEEDS 150 VOLUNTEERS

A major research program aimed directly at preventing recurrent heart attack — cannot begin unless sufficient numbers of participants volunteer to help make the program work.

Called the "Aspirin Myocard Infarction Study," AMIS, the nationwide collaborative study is being conducted by thirty centers in twenty more places left at this time and is designed to determine whether aspirin will decrease the risk of recurrent heart attacks in patients who have had a previous heart attack.

Why get involved? Because you can personally benefit from the study and future generations may also benefit greatly from your involvement.

Nationwide, 4,200 women and men are expected to participate in this massive research program. Locally, 150 participants are being sought.

Anyone, between thirty and sixty-nine, who has had a documented heart attack within the last five years, and who does not have any other major disease, may participate.

In New England, the University Hospital, a part of the Boston University Medical Center, is the clinical center. The study is sponsored by the National Heart and Lung Institute and the National Institute of Health, HEW.

Dr. Harry R. Mushlin, vice president, Corporate Medical Affairs, urged Hancock employees and/or their family members who qualify, to participate in this "very important study."

Individuals interested should contact the Health Clinic at 3100 and members of the Health Clinic will review the study's requirements and assist in putting participants in touch with the AMIS study group.

The AMIS Clinical Center is located in Room 401 of the New Evans Building, at University Hospital. Interested individuals should contact our clinical coordinator, Mary Anne Hanley, at 247-5100 or 247-5101.

MEMORIAL DAY

Each year every state in the Union sets aside a day to commemorate the services of the soldiers and sailors in the Civil War and, since 1898, of those in the Spanish-American and other wars.

The custom arose from the practice in the south of decorating the graves of the Confederate dead; this is the derivative of the name "Decoration Day."

It is observed in all northern and southern states alike, and in most of the states on the same day, May 30 — this year May 31. In many localities the day has come to be a commemoration for all dead, and graves, even those of nonsoldiers, are decorated with flowers and wreaths.

DIRECTOR DANIEL MILANO HONORED

Mr. Daniel G. Milano, Director of Environmental Health Services for the City of Boston's Health and Hospitals Department, received national honors at the Massachusetts Environmental Health Association meeting held at Valle's Steak House, 300 Boylston Street, Newton, Wednesday, May 19. The noted honor was the awarding of the Joseph Goldfarb Award for Excellence in the Profession for sustaining of environmental quality in and around the City of Boston. Dan has been in public health service for many years and has been a bureau chief within the department for more than ten years. His service to the community has been noted in other areas, but especially in that of public health in a key city of the nation is it noteworthy.

The award was the major event of a full agenda which had Mrs. Erva Jean Mintz, Director of Registrations for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, as guest speaker who discussed board problems and resolutions for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Also on the agenda was the swearing in of the new officers of the Massachusetts Environmental Health Association — Jack Bush as president; Jack Carr, vice-president; Walter Irvine, treasurer; Jerry Collins, secretary; and John Canning, Robert Jacques, Ted Dumas, board of directors. They represent the Massachusetts Affiliate of the National Environmental Health Association. A business meeting was held, plus a discussion of Title Five (private disposal systems), the coming Yankee Conference (an educational conference), and other public and private health-oriented meetings for the professionals.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

MANPOWER ADMINISTRATION

PROGRAM DESIGN

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to ABT Associates, a corporation with offices located at 55 Wheeler Street, Cambridge, Mass. 02138, to design and implement for basic models for affirmative action programs, for a total cost not to exceed $39,614. Funds for this activity will be provided from a federal government grant to the City of Boston through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, P.L. 93-203. The effective date of operation for this contract will be February 9, 1976, through May 28, 1976.

Under the terms of this proposed contract ABT Associates will work with the City of Manpower Administration, CETA Title Contractors, CETA clients, and the Mayor's Employment and Training Advisory Committee in the design and implementation of the affirmative action models.

Due to the fact that the Manpower Administration did send out requests for proposals to approximately 120 agencies capable of providing this specialized service, did receive five responses, it is my opinion that no useful purpose will be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Acting Director

INFORMATION SYSTEM

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to Northeastern University, a corporation, 360 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Mass. 02115, for conducting a follow-up information gathering system for programs developed under Comprehensive Employment and Training Act contracts with community agencies throughout the City of Boston, for a total cost not to exceed $65,000. Funds for this activity will be provided from a federal government grant to the City of Boston through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, P.L. 93-203. The effective dates of operation for this contract will be from January 1, 1976, through September 30, 1976.

Under the terms of this proposed contract Northeastern University will collect and compile data on the post-training income and employment status of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act participants who will receive direct job placement, institutional training, and on-the-job training among other services. The data will be forwarded to the Mayor's Manpower Planning staff for analysis in order to determine effectiveness of various agency programs enhancing the income and employment status of various manpower services and the agencies which provide them under the contract with the city.

Due to the fact that Northeastern University has the professional and technical expertise for the above-mentioned data collection, compilation, and this is an extension of a previous contract, it is my opinion that no useful purpose will be served by public advertising for bids.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Acting Director

MBTA Lists Summer Timetables

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) has announced the summer timetables, which will take effect Saturday, June 19.

The timetables reflect a concerted effort by "T" management to find the savings necessary to absorb, within the approved budget, the $4 million increase in costs caused by the 4.3 percent increase in the cost of living for the first quarter of the year, which we were forced to pay. This savings is in addition to the savings required by the $6.5 million cut in the 1976 MBTA budget made by the MBTA Advisory Board on December 30.

Chairman Robert Kiley said: "We have made excellent progress in achieving the savings required by the Advisory Board cut. In the first four months, the operations directorate already has reduced its manpower by ninety employees. We have tightened up the operations to reduce the number of men needed for vacation relief and to cover the duties of personnel who are out sick."

"Now, however, we are faced with the need to find $4 million of savings in the remaining months of the year. Because our budget already is tight, this savings will, of necessity, involve cuts in service greater than usual in the summer timetable."

"The savings we have realized in the timetable are in the least effective, least popular routes of the surface bus and trackless trolley system."

"We have maintained a normal summer schedule on the Red, Orange, Blue, and Green lines, which are the heart of the T system."

"We made an extensive study of the bus routes, using the Service Policy for Surface Transportation, adopted last December 30 by the representatives from the seventy-nine cities and towns on the MBTA Advisory Board.

"The Service Policy provides that the cutoff point for a regular route on economic grounds is that it should not be subsidized by the taxpayers for more than 70 percent of its direct cost in manpower and vehicles. In short, a regular route should be popular enough to attract sufficient riders to cover at least 30 percent of its cost. That 30 percent cutoff point is halved to 15 percent if the customers are totally dependent on public transit, or are elderly."

"We found a route which was so little used that it was costing the MBTA and the taxpayer more than $6.40 per passenger to operate. The farebox money covered only 2 percent of the cost. This is the kind of route that just can't be justified for mass transportation. A Boston taxi could take a passenger on that route for $4.40, $2 less than it was costing the MBTA."

"This is the kind of heavy deficit route which we concentrated on.

Five routes were eliminated, all of which cost the taxpayer anywhere from nine to 100 times what was taken in at the farebox. Another eight routes — which were in competition with MBTA alternate means of transportation — also were cut out, but parallel public transportation is still available in these areas. Another eight routes, which were little used during off-peak hours, had their off-peak service curtailed.

"There were minor adjustments on eighty-seven other routes. For example, on one line, we saved the cost of two buses and two operators by having the buses run every four and one-half minutes instead of every four minutes."

"Quite frankly, it was a painful process. It is the kind of pruning of bus service which normally might have been spread over the timetables for three seasons."

"But it is the kind of pruning of the dying branches of our service which is needed if the healthy trunk and limbs of our transportation network are to survive in this period of high inflation. It is the kind of pruning which is needed if we are to gain control over the MBTA's operating costs."

These schedules will be effective through Friday, September 10, 1976.

On all bus routes, "Sunday" service will be operated on Sunday, July 4, and Monday, July 5,

MBTA Timetables . . .

Independence Day, and also on Monday, September 6, Labor Day.

Printed timetables will be available after June 19 at the Park Street information booth, MBTA car-houses and garages, the MBTA's Customer Service Center at 145 Dartmouth Street (the second floor of Boston's Back Bay Station), and the MBTA Operations Center at 45 High Street, Boston, Mass. 02110.

Significant service changes in local areas are as follows:

CHANGES IN BOSTON

The major changes in Boston beginning June 19 include the discontinuation of the Brighton minibus (Route 597), which is a service that was costing the MBTA $6.60 per passenger to operate, although a Boston taxi could take a passenger on the route for $4.40. It simply wasn't attracting sufficient ridership to be anywhere close to the economic standard for a transit-dependent route, which is 15 cents fare for every dollar of cost.

The MBTA announced in March, that the Sullivan Square, Charlestown to Wellington Station, Medford bus (Route 129), was to be eliminated due to lack of passengers. It is being consolidated with Route 95, which goes from West Medford to Sullivan Station via Mystic Avenue.

The Airport shuttle bus (Route 98), between the MBTA's Airport Station and the airport terminals is being taken over by the Massachusetts Port Authority. Massport expressed dissatisfaction with the MBTA's operation of the route on Massport property.

Route 20 (Fields Corner Station to Neponset and Adams Street-Gallivan Boulevard) will be extended all day into the Hallet Square area as it is now in the afternoon. This is a consolidation with Route 12 (Hallet Square-Ashmont). The Hallet Square residents will go to Fields Corner via Neponset Avenue in the morning and return at night via Adams Street. Rush-hour service in the morning to the station and in the afternoon from the station will be every fifteen minutes. In the off-peak, service will be every half hour.

For those residents of the Hallet Square area who need to go to the Ashmont area, Route 215 (Ashmont-Quincy Center) can be caught on Granite Avenue.

Other changes in the Dorchester area is the provision of through service from Fields Corner all the way to Quincy Center Station for half the present fare. This route combines two 30-cent fare routes, Route 250 on Neponset Avenue from Fields Corner to North Quincy, and Route 210 on Hancock Street from North Quincy to Quincy Center. The extended route, designated Route 210, allows Dorchester residents with friends, relatives, or business in Quincy to travel straight through for 30 cents without a transfer and another fare at North Quincy Station, as is now required. This will mean substantially more service for Dorchester. Rush hour buses will be every thirty minutes instead of every forty minutes. Off-peak service, between 9 A.M. and 2:30 P.M., will be introduced and run every half hour. The last bus will leave Quincy Center at 9:40 P.M., arriving in Fields Corner a half hour later.

Another change for Dorchester and Quincy will be to end the confusing situation in which the R 215 bus out of Quincy Center presently has two end points, North Quincy Station on the South Side Red Line, and Ashmont Station on the Dorchester Red Line. This change will go via West Quincy, East Milton Square, will have a late night bus for Quincy Center shoppers which will leave Quincy Center at 9:55 P.M. week-nights. This will replace late night service from Quincy Center to North Quincy. The next-to-last bus will leave Quincy Center at 6:35 P.M. and the last bus from Ashmont will leave at 6:25 P.M.

DANISH FURNITURE DISPLAY

A display of modern Danish furniture emphasizing the inspiration Danish designers received from American Shakers has just opened at Boston's Museum of Science. It is the Danish government's contribution to the Bicentennial.

Sponsored by the Smithsonian Institution, the exhibit was launched recently on a tour of the country by Queen Margrethe II and her husband, the Prince of Denmark, in ceremonies at the Museum.

The Shakers, a sect that flourished in the early nineteenth century, were far ahead of their time in creating environments marked by tranquility and efficiency. Since the Danes' 1920s discovery of the Shaker origin of a rocking chair they admired, they have been attuned to the enduring qualities of Shaker design. Although most Danish furniture is now factory-produced, it owes its beginnings to the presence of dedicated cabinet-makers who, with the designers, believed in the integrity of wood construction.

In the Museum's exhibit, background information on the leading Danish teachers and designers, including measurement drawings, are given in panels hanging from a wall peg system very like the pegs which were used for chairs, clothing, and utensils in Shaker buildings. The pegs in the display (Skilderiliste) are planned as an integral part of the garden furniture unit.

The exhibit will remain through June 20. Hours are every weekday from 2 P.M. until Museum closing, and all day Saturday and Sunday. There is no charge above Museum admission: $3 for adults; $1.50 for ages five through sixteen, senior citizens, and students with Id. Friday night admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for others.

TASTY LUNCHES ON THE PLAZA

In keeping with the pedestrian, open-air and marketplace traditions of Boston, the city, for the first time, has licensed local food vendors to operate concessions on City Hall Plaza, Mayor Kevin H. White has announced.

Nine food vendors are currently operating portable stands on the Cambridge Street side of City Hall Plaza serving a variety of international foods, ice cream, seafood, fruits, and an assortment of unusual moderately priced dishes, Monday through Friday, from 10:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M.

The new vending program is part of the city's effort to promote greater use of the eleven-acre, red brick plaza and add to the Government Center area a more active, colorful, and social city space.

"Downtown Boston is not just a place to work. It is a place to walk in, to meet people — a place to enjoy," the Mayor said. "City Hall Plaza is a unique and active spot. It is a place for Bruins celebrations, rallies, or a place where you can just sit in the open air and eat a quiet lunch," he said.

"The plaza has always been used by city employees and others who work in the Government Center complex, but people visiting downtown from other parts of the city, and other parts of the country have not been familiar with the facilities offered in the area," he said.

"Now, by providing easily accessible, and moderately priced food stands, more people will become acquainted with an area that Ada Louise Huxtable of the New York Times called one of the most impressive urban spaces created in twentieth century America," Mayor White said.

In addition to the vending program, Boston 200's Visitor Hospitality Center has opened a food service center on the mezzanine level of City Hall to serve residents and visitors alike from 10:30 A.M. to 3 P.M., seven days a week.

The plaza vendors will be joined throughout the summer by a series of noontime plaza events sponsored by the Mayor's Office of Cultural Affairs. The events will include theatre productions, Summerthing openings, jazz quintets, variety acts, and performances by Bicentennial bands from across the country. A special noontime concert series is planned every Wednesday during July and August; and on Fridays, local poets will read their works to the public.

This is the first year the city has licensed vendors to operate concessions in the plaza area. A pilot vending program was undertaken during the 1974-75 summer season to assess vendor impact on the plaza.

According to Assistant Real Property Commissioner James Ronayne, vendors were selected on the basis of food quality, cart and uniform design, and ability to maintain the plaza in good condition.

Each vendor will pay a monthly rental fee of $200, and together the vendors will be responsible for rubbish collection and maintenance.

The following vendors will operate concessions on City Hall Plaza:

— Bavarian Wurst Stand Max, Inc., Mr. William Monis — to serve beerwurst, bratwurst, knockwurst, meat knishes, etc.

— International Fare, Mr. William Capone — to serve Italian sandwiches and gourmet dishes.

— Salty Dog Seafood Market, Mr. Roland Prevost — to serve shrimps, lobster, spinach salad, and seafood salads.

— Blazing Salads, Inc., Ms. Vicki Thomas — to serve Syrian sandwiches, pastries, and cold drinks.

— Ben Central, Mr. Elliott Baker — to serve ice slush drinks, fresh fruit, and snow cones in thirteen flavors in honor of the thirteen original colonies.

— Gourmet Kosher Food, Mr. Thomas Gottschlich — to serve kosher franks, sauerkraut, and condiments.

— Caravan of Salads, Mr. A. Kouyoumdjian and Ms. K. Bellotti — to serve Middle-Eastern sandwiches.

— Josephine Arigo — to serve Italian sandwiches, fresh fruits, and Italian pastries.

— Mr. Steven Blum — to serve natural juices, ice cream, and fresh fruits.

HUD ANNOUNCEMENT

The United States Department of Housing and Urban Development has announced a proposal to make loans available for preserving historic residential structures.

The program is designed to enable owners of these structures to obtain property improvement loans from private lenders of up to $15,000. The loans are to be insured by HUD's Federal Housing Administration.

The proposed regulations will implement a section of the Emergency Home Purchase Assistance Act of 1974. They will increase regular FHA home improvement loan limit from its usual maximum of $10,000.

Those eligible for loans are owners of residential structures which are on the "National Register of Historic Places," or which are determined by the secretary of the interior to be eligible for the register. Structures must be used as dwellings for one or more families. All proposed improvements must be approved by the state historic preservation officer in the state where the structure is located before loans can be approved.

Other features of the program include the maximum maturity of the loan is up to fifteen years and thirty-two days; the maximum permissible financing charge may not exceed an annual rate of 12 percent and no discount charge will be permitted in making the loan.

Proposed regulations for the program were published in the "Federal Register," May 10. Public comments are invited and those received before June 11 will be considered before final regulations are published. Comments should be addressed to the Rules Document Clerk, Room 10245, HUD, Washington, D.C. 20410.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

Mayor Kevin White has announced the appointment of Ms. Patricia Lyons of Boston to be the Mayor's press secretary and the promotion of George K. Regan, Jr., to be director of broadcast, and Ms. Chitity Brown to be deputy press secretary.

Frank Tivnan will remain as director of communications in charge of overall communications policy in planning, and will continue to serve as a member of the Mayor's cabinet.

Ms. Lyons, who has been an assistant press secretary since 1974, succeeds Barry Brooks, who has been appointed government relations representative at the State House, working with the Legislature and state agencies in furthering the city's interests in state government.

Ms. Lyons was formerly a program developer in the president's office at Boston College and later a freelance journalist in Buenos Aires, Argentina. In addition to general press duties, she has directed special events for the Mayor, and in 1975, directed the public information program for the city's campaign against 100 percent regulation.

Ms. Brown joined the city as a researcher in 1973 and became assistant press secretary in 1974. She is also voluntary cochair of the Media Task Force Committee to ratify the Massachusetts Equal Rights Amendment, and is media coordinator for the Massachusetts Women's Lobby.

Ms. Lyons and Ms. Brown will coordinate daily press activities for the Mayor with the print media, arranging press conferences, handling press inquiries, and coordinating public information and press projects for the various city departments.

George Regan, a former reporter for the Globe, has been an assistant press secretary since 1974. As director of broadcast, he will have primary responsibility for communicating administration policies to the broadcast media for the Mayor, the cabinet, the four deputy mayors, and for all municipal departments.

"Every administration has a basic duty to respond to the public's right to know how and why government policies are being established and implemented, and the press office is the city's principal arm in meeting that responsibility," the Mayor said. "The promotions announced here reflect a staff commitment to hard work, a dedication to the city, and a desire to cooperate closely with the media. We all recognize the media's essential role in helping us meet our responsibility, and I know these people will continue to carry out their duties with a high degree of professionalism."

CARE TO VOLUNTEER?

With an influx of Bicentennial out-of-towners anticipated, Boston's Museum of Science offers college students, and other adults possessing an interest in science, an opportunity to expand their backgrounds in its visitor guides program this summer.

The volunteer guides help adults and children to understand aspects of exhibits that might otherwise be missed and orient them to the variety of Museum presentations. The guides talk informally with visitors rather than conducting tours.

Training sessions precede the assignments which require a minimum of one-half day per week during the summer.

To arrange an interview, call the Volunteer Office at 723-2500.

V. COMMENDATION

At 1102 hours, April 16, 1976, Engine 1 and Ladder 16 responded to a building alarm at 67 Tampa Street, Mattapan. On arrival, smoke was showing on the second floor, and they were informed a woman was still in the second-floor bedroom. Attempts to reach her had not been successful because of the heavy smoke and heat.

Fire Fighters McGee and White crawled up the stairway, heard a faint cry, and traced it to the woman who was wedged between the bed and the wall. They freed her and carried her down the stairs to the street where she was given first aid and sent to hospital.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to highly commend Fire Fighter Charles F. McGee, Ladder Company 16 and Fire Fighter James F. White of Engine Company 45, who performed this rescue at great personal risk before fire fighter operations had begun, without respiratory equipment.

1776 Past, Present, and Promise

On July 4, 1776, the thirteen United States of America made a statement to the people of the world. They boldly sought respect and support for a new nation, founded on a new idea of man and a new goal for human government.

On July 4, 1976, the fifty United States of America will celebrate the two-hundredth anniversary of that momentous day. This anniversary is a magnificent opportunity for America and the world. It is a chance to acquire new insights into the men and events of 1776. It is a summons to rededicate ourselves, in a spirit of daring and high endeavor, to their ideals and principles.

It is not enough merely to invoke the hallowed words of the past. Unless we find in them new depths and new insights for the present, we risk betraying their promise.

The Heart of the Revolution

We all know that the heart of the revolution was the Declaration of Independence, and the heart of the Declaration, Thomas Jefferson's immortal words: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

But Jefferson, when he commented on the Declaration in his later years, said: "It was intended to be an expression of the American mind." A rather startling statement — Jefferson obviously felt he deserved no special credit for the ideas in the Declaration.

How could there be an American mind when there was not yet an American nation? In the series of classic letters Thomas Jefferson and John Adams exchanged in their old age, the two men most responsible for the Declaration answered that question.

One of their favorite topics was the real history of the American Revolution. "What do we mean by the Revolution? The war?" Adams asked Jefferson. Hardly, he went on. The war "was no part of the revolution. It was only an effect and consequence of it." The revolution, Adams maintained, "was in the minds of the people, and this was effected . . . before a drop of blood was shed at Lexington." Elsewhere in their correspondence, Adams maintained that "the Revolution . . . began as early as the first plantation in this country."

"There is nothing more common than to confound the terms of American Revolution with those of the late American war," wrote Benjamin Rush, a close friend of Jefferson and a signer of the Declaration of Independence, in 1787. "The American war is over, but this is far from being the case with the American revolution. On the contrary, nothing but the first act of the great drama is closed."

Aspirations of a People

Doctor Rush's words make it clear that the American Revolution was an inward experience as well as an outward act. It was not born — and did not die — with its decade because it crystallized the spiritual aspirations, not of a tiny group of conspirators, but of a whole people. Beneath and beyond the blunders of English politicians and the masterful leadership of American spokesmen, the revolution was caused by an explosion of American identity, a sudden consciousness that America had become a nation.

An Innate Spirit of Freedom

The image of themselves as free men was a central idea in the minds of all Americans.

"I am . . . a mortal enemy to arbitrary government and unlimited power. I am naturally very jealous for the rights and liberties of my country," wrote sixteen-year-old Benjamin Franklin in 1722. "An innate spirit of freedom" was George Washington's explanation for his decision to resist British oppression.

Private Hezekiah Hayden of Connecticut wrote to his mother and father from New York on July 4, 1776: "The time is now near at hand which must probably determine whether Americans are to be free men or slaves . . . Let us therefore animate and encourage each other, and show the whole world, that free men contending for liberty on their own ground are superior to any slavish mercenary on earth."

The American Revolution was unique. The war was begun — with the utmost reluctance — because the Americans believed the British government was threatening a precious heritage they already possessed. Nothing illustrates this more starkly than George Washington's words in the dark winter of 1776, when he learned that Congress had temporarily given him near dictatorial powers to rescue the faltering war effort.

"Instead of thinking myself free'd from all civil obligations by this mark of their confidence, I shall constantly bear in mind that as the sword was the last resort for the preservation of our liberties, so it ought to be the first thing laid aside, when those liberties are firmly established."

A Mixture of Races and Creeds

There is another reason why the Americans of 1776 spoke with a confidence that the world would listen. Although their heritage was predominantly English, they had already experienced within the American community the vigor and enthusiasm with which people of other creeds and races embraced the principles for which they were fighting.

As early as September 25, 1608, six Polish laborers strode ashore at Jamestown to operate the first factory in America. Twenty-three Jews, refugees from Portuguese persecution in Brazil, arrived in 1654. French Protestants, driven from France by religious persecution, Germans, Swedes, Irish, and Scots followed them in even larger numbers. Americans keenly appreciated the contributions of those non-English immigrants. British attempts to prevent their influx was one of the major grievances cited in the Declaration of Independence.

In the eight long years of the Revolutionary War, these "foreigners" played a vital role. Of the fifty-six signers of the Declaration of Independence, eight were non-English stock and eight others were first generation immigrants. Charles Thomson, secretary to the Continental Congress, the man who was called "the life of the cause of liberty in Philadelphia," was born in County Derry, Ireland. Commodore John Barry, "the father of the American Navy," was born in Tacumshane, County Wexford, Ireland.

Another patriot was Nicholas Herkimer, a German, of upstate New York, who commanded fellow German-Americans in the crucial guerilla encounter at Oriskany, where he was mortally wounded.

The Jewish banker, Haym Salomon, consumed his personal fortune advancing cash to Congressmen, army officers, and the bankrupt American government. Francis Salvador was another Jewish patriot. He rallied the South Carolina back-country militia to defeat a British-led Indian invasion, and died in the fighting.

The Italian frontiersman, Giuseppe Mario Francisco Vigo, played a dynamic role in the capture of Fort Vincennes, key to the Northwest Territory, in 1779 — from Ireland came volunteers Pulaski and Kosciuszko; from France, Lafayette and Rochambeau.

By the time the Revolutionary War ended, keen observers such as Hector St. John Crèvecoeur, Frenchman who lived on a farm in Orange County, New York, were already noting that "here individuals of all nations are melted into a new race of men." The leaders of the American Revolution were determined to keep this tradition alive. In December, 1783, George Washington wrote to a group of recent Irish immigrants: "The bosom of America is open to receive not only the opulent and respectable stranger, but the oppressed and persecuted of all nations and all religions."

Another group of men who responded enthusiastically to the Revolution's fight for freedom were black Americans. After decades of neglect, historians are beginning to discover black soldiers such as Cuffee Whittmore, Peter Salem, and Caesar Bason, all of whom fought at Bunker Hill. Jack Sisson played a vital role in a commando-raid that kidnapped the British commander-in-chief at Newport, Rhode Island, from his bed. At the time the ordeal at Valley Forge ended and the American army marched out to fight the British at Monmouth Court House, one of every ten of Washington's soldiers was black. Black men fought in state militia, in the continental navy, and in the marines.

There were stirrings of freedom for another group of people — women. In the Pennsylvania Magazine, Thomas Paine said they were "constrained . . . in the disposal of their goods, robbed of freedom by the laws" and victimized by a pernicious system of double standards. A few months later Abigail Adams wrote to her husband in Congress telling him that in the new code of laws for an independent America, she hoped he would "not put such unlimited power in the hands of husbands."

"Remember," she said, "all men would be tyrants if they could."

VNA EXPLORES QUALITY ASSURANCE PROGRAM

As the entire health care industry is moving rapidly into a new era of professional standards review, the Visiting Nurse Association of Boston also has begun to explore the most feasible system for embarking on a full-scale quality assurance program.

Professional review as a concept is far from new to the agency, which has practiced utilization review and performance review for some time both as a self-guide to maintain standards and as part of the national accreditation process.

The new program, however, will reflect a heightened awareness of accountability to the consumer and more closely dovetail community health nursing in a home-care setting with standards set for quality assurance systems in nursing, generally.

Nursing constitutes a relatively new component of health care to be measured in this fashion.

As a preliminary step, VNA Associate Director Penelope Hope and Assistant Director Joan Goldsberry attended a "Workshop on Quality Assurance in Nursing," held in Hartford, in March.

They have presented for consideration by the agency a "model" that can be used in either a hospital or home-care program that was outlined in "Guidelines for Review of Nursing Care at the Local Level" by the American Nursing Association.

"We hope to integrate some of these concepts for quality assurance into our VNA programs," Ms. Hope said, "but feel that it will take a year to complete the arrangements."

Importantly, she feels, the adaptation of the standard guide should strive for a greater "client"-focused audit, maximizing "expected patient outcomes."

Since few tools currently exist for this kind of measure, extensive groundwork will have to be put in place by VNA staff.

"This is an ambitious undertaking," Ms. Hope and Ms. Goldsberry agree, "one, however, that is thrilling in its potential to contribute to the quality of human services."

"We have the opportunity to take a giant step forward as professionals if — we place our values upon the client, direct our efforts to specific outcomes, and can show and document that what we did made a difference in the well-being of the patient."

Rolling with the Times

For reasons of both efficiency and safety the VNA began transporting some of its staffers to and from house calls in its own twelve-passenger van last January.

Under a contract with Protect-O-Alarm Security Systems, a Roxbury firm, escort services are combined with telephone-radio relayed bus pickup and delivery.

The agency purchased the van, a VNA-blue vehicle with a sliding cargo door for easy entry and egress, and bearing a stenciled identification of the Visiting Nurse Association of Boston on its side.

At present the service is transporting staffers daily on their rounds in the Roxbury, Dorchester, Jamaica Plain, and South End districts. Staff members can also have escort service to and from the premises of patients, as needed.

Savings from this transportation service are very real. It reduces the number of cars in the area, an important benefit to both the traffic controllers and the ecology-minded. It also reduces the risk of vandalism to staff cars and the expense and inconvenience of repairs or replacement.

In terms of patient care, the use of the van is expected to increase the time the staff will have to spend directly with patients by decreasing the time that previously had to be spent in individual transit, finding parking spaces, and fighting traffic.

Remember . . .

Everyone in Boston is entitled to have visiting nurse services, and now, Chelsea, Winthrop, and Revere, too!

DIRECTIVE ON ELK LODGES

To All Department Heads:

Authorization is hereby granted to employees serving as delegates to the Annual Convention of New England States and East Canada Association of Elk Lodges, I.B.P.O.-E.W., to attend the Annual Convention to be held on June 16, 1976, through and including June 20, 1976, in Hartford, Connecticut.

SUMMERTHING'S NINTH SEASON

Summerthing's opening day will again coincide with June Art in the Park, the annual two-day, all-day exhibit by hundreds of artists on Boston Common. J.A.P. will be held June 19 and 20, and Summerthing's special opening day happens on the 20th. Watch your newspapers for details as this important weekend draws closer!

Our Performing Arts Department is busy lining up talent for Summerthing's ninth season. So far, the roster boasts performances by the Mandala Folk Dance Ensemble, Piccolo Puppets, URI Circus Wagon Theatre, Boston Ballet Company, Boston Symphony Esplanade Orchestra, Pocket Mime Theatre, Circus 369, and the Dance Company of the National Center of Afro-American Artists.

Fund Raising

A good portion of our programming depends on the support of Boston's private sector, and thanks to the generosity of Boston businesses, foundations, and individuals, our fund-raising efforts are going well this year. Our total goal for 1976 is $160,000.

The Corporate Identification program is going well, too. To date, corporate sponsors have "bought" ten neighborhood vehicles, several Jamboree units, Showmobile I, the Moviebus, and Senior Summerthing.

Boston University is once again donating proceeds from the 700 Commonwealth Avenue parking lot to Summerthing. If you park there during the Red Sox games, you'll be helping Summerthing. Last year, the B.U. lot netted over $3,000 for Summerthing. We are very, very grateful!

A wonderful gift of $7,034.75 was made to Summerthing by the popular J. Geils Band. The net gains of their April 28 concert at the Music Hall all went to Summerthing. The band, which had performed for Summerthing when both the band and the program were relatively new, heard Summerthing was having financial setbacks so lent a great helping hand.

Summerthing's ninth season promises to be our most challenging — and potentially rewarding — summer yet. As we are all aware, the past year in our city has not been an easy one. Tensions have been high due to busing, the economy — but Summerthing, through the efforts of neighborhood and central staff, volunteers, contributors, artists, community agencies and cultural institutions, offers Boston residents the opportunity to become involved in something that transcends all differences — the arts. Through the arts, we can speak the same language, that of appreciation, enjoyment, and positive discovery.

BIKE MARATHON FOR CAMP JOY

Commissioner Peter Meade has announced that the Boston Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor on Sunday, June 13, 1976, a bicycle marathon in cooperation with the Prudential Insurance Company of America, St. John's Evangelist Church in Hopkinton, Mass., the League of American Wheelmen and various local cities and towns to benefit the "Camp Joy" Recreation Fund for Special Children and Adults.

According to Lou Antonelli, bicycle coordinator for Parks and Recreation, the riders will follow the famous 26-mile, 385-yard B.A. Marathon route, registering at 11: A.M. at the St. John's Evangelist Church, Parish Hall, Hopkinton, leaving Hopkinton at 1 P.M., passing through Ashland, Framingham, Needham, Wellesley, Newton, and Brookline, finishing at the Prudential Center in Boston at approximately 3 P.M.

Each rider will secure pledges for mileage covered and note the pledges on the forms available at the Parks and Recreation Department at Boston City Hall or local Little City Halls. All funds will be donated to the "Camp Joy" Recreation Fund for Special Children and Adults.

LET'S KEEP AMERICA CLEAN

HIDDERS, TAKE NOTICE

Statement of Deputy Mayor Robert J. Vey, May 25, 1976.

The situation at the Boston Navy Yard is the exact situation the public has demanded we avoid over and over again.

Braswell Shipyard, Inc. wishes to obtain a five-year lease on the yard without giving any other shipping firm a chance to make a better offer at the city.

To give a lease without competitive bidding to Braswell flies in the face of free competition.

The city has an obligation to seek the highest possible return for its taxpayers and rentpayers on any valuable property it controls.

It should be pointed out as well that the successful bidder for the yard must offer much more than the highest dollar figure for the lease.

The successful bidder must also offer the best combination of new jobs for the Boston economy, and new jobs for the unemployed of Boston.

Braswell, compared with established Boston firms, is in an excellent position to bid.

Established Boston firms would most surely have to offer to expand their operations greatly in order to make a more attractive offer to the city.

Braswell is pulling a dramatic maneuver in an effort to embarrass the city into granting the lease without competition.

I respect their tactics, though, in this case, they are transparent, and, to that extent, a hoax on the 45 employees laid off yesterday.

Business is business. No one should place serious business negotiations into the context of melodrama.

DIRECTIVE ON MASS. AMVETS

To All Department Heads:

SUPPLEMENTAL RETIREMENT PLAN

To City of Boston Personnel.

We are pleased to announce that the City of Boston has entered into an agreement with the Capitol Life Insurance Company for a voluntary supplemental retirement plan for its employees.

This is the third agreement entered into by the city whereby a deferred compensation plan will allow employees to set aside a portion of their income through regularly weekly payroll deductions to provide retirement benefits in addition to the Massachusetts pension plan. No federal income tax is payable on amounts deferred until they are paid at death, retirement, or in the event of a withdrawal due to an unforeseen financial hardship.

We suggest that you give this excellent benefit every consideration after comparing the advantages offered by the three organizations with which we have signed agreements. The plan is entirely voluntary; and, depending upon your individual circumstances, you may find it a welcome addition to your overall financial planning. This agreement between the City of Boston and its employees has been approved by the Internal Revenue Service.

Meetings will be arranged, through the cooperation of department heads, which will afford an opportunity for all interested to meet with the coordinators of the Capitol Life Insurance Company to answer your questions and furnish assistance in selecting a plan. In the interim, any questions regarding this specific plan may be directed to the Capitol Life Insurance Company's representative, Mr. Charles Cahill, at 267-2100.

EDWARD T. SULLIVAN,
Director.

Fares to more distant points shall be classified as flat rates, with the specific understanding that the price shall be agreed upon in advance and a receipt tendered therefor. Fleet and Association Identification Numbers

Fleet and Association numbers shall be displayed on the police medallion number and will permanently identify each taxicab. These numerals shall be at least 3 inches in height and shall be painted on both sides and in the rear of each taxicab, plainly visible to the public.

Display of Gummed Rate Cards

Gummed rate cards and notices to passengers must be affixed to the driver's side of partition in such a manner as to be clearly seen by passengers. They shall not obstruct the driver's view to the rear, nor shall they obscure the passenger's view of the taximeter. The medallion and hackney license of owner and driver will be revoked in the event of failure to display these gummed rate cards.

Illegal Fare-Escalating Devices

Tampering with, modifying, or attaching any instrument or device to the taximeter shall be sufficient cause to revoke the medallion and hackney license of the individual concerned.

Qualifying Examination for Drivers

Every new applicant for a license to operate a hackney carriage must satisfactorily complete a qualifying examination to determine his suitability to be so licensed.

Implementation of Three-Year Hackney License

The Police Commissioner for the City of Boston may grant hackney carriage driver licenses in said city to suitable persons. Such licenses shall be valid for three years and shall become void on the birthday of the licensee.

THE CITY SEAL

As it appeared prior to 1827

The City Seal was adopted by an Ordinance to Establish the Seal," passed January 2, 1823, which provides "That the design to be annexed, as sketched by John R. Penniman, giving a view of the City, be the device of the City Seal; that the motto be as follows, 'Sicut patribus sit Deus vobis'; and that the inscription be as follows:—'Bostonia condita, A.D. 1630. Civitatis regimine donata, A.D. 1822.'" The motto is taken from 1 Kings, viii, 57: "God be with us, as He was with our fathers."

The seal as it first appeared is shown above.

The seal as it was afterwards changed, and has ever since continued to be used, was first shown on page 221 of the volume of laws and ordinances commonly known as the "First Revision," published in 1827, and is established as the City Seal at the present time by Revised Ordinances of 1914, Chapter 1, Section 5, which provides that the seal of the City shall be peculiar in form; shall bear a view of the City; the motto 'SICUT PATRIBUS SIT DEUS NOBIS,' and the inscription, 'BOSTONIA CONDITA, A.D. 1630. CIVITATI; REGIMINE DONATA A.D. 1822.'"

OLD STATE HOUSE

Here "the child Independence was born" according to John Adams, our 2nd President. Built in 1713, it was the seat of the Colonial Government and the center of activity for such patriots as James Otis, John Hancock, Samuel and John Adams. It was known as the Town House until Massachusetts became a state. Just outside, the Boston Massacre occurred. The Declaration of Independence was first read in Boston from the East balcony, and President Washington here reviewed a parade in his honor in 1789. It was here, too, that John Hancock served as first governor of the Commonwealth.

Open Monday through Saturday, 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. Closed Mondays, December through April.

Part 2

The Blot of Slavery

The enthusiasm and courage of black soldiers made the Revolutionary generation uncomfortably aware that the rights of man had not been extended to the vast majority of their black brothers. Washington, Franklin, and especially Jefferson condemned slavery as a blot on America's honor. From his attack on it in the original draft of the Declaration, to his death fifty years later, Jefferson repeatedly exhorted his fellow Americans to produce a plan that would gradually eliminate the "evil" as called slavery.

"The love of justice and the love of country plead equally the cause of these people," he said, "and it is a moral reproach to us that they could have pleaded it so long in vain. . . ."

But slavery was more than 150 years old by the time the Revolution began. Many thoughtful Americans wrestled in anguish for a solution.

Brilliant Compromise

The overmastering challenge to the men of 1776, once Britain's armies had been defeated, was the reconciliation of freedom and national order. The leaders of the revolution soon learned that an American political identity, a sense of nationhood, was not the same as national sovereignty. The clash of interests between large and small states, between farmers and merchants, state legislatures and Congress, became acute.

A few reckless men threatened rule by armed mob, when public officials did not instantly heed their demands. Prodded by George Washington's call to "raise a standard to which the wise and honest may repair," Americans met "in convention" once more in 1787, and framed that brilliant compromise between local and human rights and the responsibilities of the national community — the Constitution of the United States.

The Hand of Divinity

Americans rested their claim to liberty and all the rights that flowed from it in nature, and God.

No better example of this exists than nineteen-year-old Alexander Hamilton's reply to the royalist argument that the province of New York had no charter from the crown and therefore New Yorkers had no charter rights: "The sacred rights of mankind are not to be rummaged for among old parchments or musty records. They are written, as with a sunbeam, in the whole volume of human nature, by the hand of divinity itself, and can never be erased or obscured by mortal power."

John Dickinson of Pennsylvania put it graphically and bluntly in a letter to American sympathizers in the Barbados Islands. "Kings or Parliaments could not give the rights essential to happiness . . . we claim them from a higher source — from the King of Kings, and Lord of all the earth. . . . They are born with us; exist with us; and cannot be taken away from us by any human power, without taking our lives."

Americans of 1776 were acutely conscious that those natural rights were meaningful to all men. "Our cause is the cause of all mankind," Benjamin Franklin wrote from France.

But it was the voice of Thomas Paine who sounded this note with unforgettable vigor and clarity. "The sun never shined on a cause of greater worth. . . . 'Tis not the concern of a day, a year or an age; posterity are virtually involved in the contest, and will be more or less affected even to the end of time by the proceedings now." This was the global promise Americans saw in the American Revolution.

But Freedom in Community

A profound and vital conclusion flows from this insight into the fusion of the ideas "freedom" and "American." From the beginning, freedom was not a value to be exalted at the expense of the community. On the contrary, when Americans of 1776 talked about freedom, they presupposed a community, a people. For Americans, freedom was never the right to do as they pleased.

In fact, for the Americans of 1776, freedom was a shorthand word for a complex of rights which protected and enhanced both the individual and the community. At the age of ninety-one, a veteran of the clash at Concord Bridge was asked why he had fought. "Young man," the veteran said, "what we meant in going in for those redcoats was this: We always had governed ourselves and we always meant to. They didn't mean we should."

Self-government — This was "the first grand right" underscored by the First Continental Congress in their Declaration of Rights in 1774. The other rights were trial by jury, habeas corpus, and freedom of speech and of the press. Again, the ideas demonstrate the deep instinctive sense of community at the heart of American freedom.

It was this sense of community that inspired John Adams and the men of Massachusetts in 1780 to base their right to create a constitution on a unique, hitherto unheard phrase: "We the people . . ." They were well aware that they were making history. Turning to the people as a sovereign source for fundamental law was, John Adams pointed out, "a phenomenon in the political world that is new and singular." But would this have been possible, if the people were not already animated by enthusiasm for the human rights which the rule of law was intended to protect?

The Principles of Union

To cope with her immense challenges, America had two primary resources. Her heritage of freedom, and her profound sense of national selfhood centered in the principle of union. The sense of freedom on a continental scale created unparalleled power. The heirs of the Revolutionary generation saw this with remarkable clarity. John Quincy Adams said: "Liberty is power."

It would be naive to assert that all Americans have always agreed on the meaning of liberty, or to deny that there have been times when some parts of the American community have tried to ignore the promise in the word. But again and again, they have been summoned to return to their historic task by the voices of their great leaders. "I have often inquired of myself," said Abraham Lincoln, "what great principle or idea kept this federation so long together. It was that which gave promise that in due time the weights should be lifted from the shoulders of all men and that all should have an equal chance."

"Jefferson's Declaration of Independence," said Woodrow Wilson, at a time when the laboring man was crying out for justice, "is not a thesis for philosophers but a program of action."

Achievement and Failure

In turning from the past to present and future, we speak with a proud consciousness of what Americans have achieved in years — and with clear-eyed historical knowledge of where they have failed and where these failures persist.

We have sometimes permitted a few men to exploit their fellow Americans in the name of a spurious freedom. We have not always done equal justice to all Americans — especially to women, to those whose skin was a different color, or whose voice spoke with an accent. We have made mighty efforts to overcome these failures, but we have not completely succeeded.

We know the problems we face today: wars that cannot be won in the old ways; cities threatened by blight and anonymity; black and Spanish-speaking Americans declaring they have no desire to stay in ghettos any more than the immigrants who preceded them; Indians demanding an end to segregation and neglect on their reservations; natural environment in danger of being overwhelmed by pollution and litter; students, young people, women demanding an equal voice in our national life; prophets of despair on the right and left telling us we cannot succeed, that we must either deny freedom or destroy order.

The framers of the Constitution declared their intention to form "a more perfect union." They did not claim they were creating a perfect government, any more than the men who signed the Declaration guaranteed happiness to all those who heeded their call. It is to this pursuit of a more perfect America that we are summoned on this two hundredth anniversary of our national birth.

A Reflection

America is incomplete and even in need of reform. The balance among executive, legislative, and judicial branches is repeatedly tipping to far one way or the other.

Being incomplete, America is a nation with a future. Shaping that future is our part in the ongoing American Revolution. The future depends on a decision by "We the People" to make government our business by active participation in its processes.

LEARN TO SWIM!

Commissioner Peter G. Meade announces that under the auspices of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department a massive "Learn to Swim Campaign" will get under way the week of July 12, through July 16.

The objectives of the aquatic staff of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department will be to develop in young men and women positive attitudes toward safety around swimming and boating areas; to wear lifejackets when boating; not to swim out too far; to understand panic, which is sudden and unreasoning fear; and to learn that drowning is closely associated with panic.

National statistics indicate that approximately 7,000 lives are lost each year and that drowning is the fourth most common cause of accidental death in the United States. Causes can range from swimming in unsupervised areas, such as a backyard pool, to a family boating outing that ends in a mishap.

Operation Drownproof will utilize throughout the City of Boston fourteen indoor pools, two outdoor pools, and the L Street beaches, tide permitting. The courses will be five half-hour sessions, for five days, with a follow-up on all slow learners who join our regular beginners' classes throughout the summer. Classes will be free, and all that is required is that participants bring their suits, soap, and towels. All are invited — both male and female, ages eight to eighty.

If you desire further information relative to the Boston Parks and Recreation Department's Summer Aquatic Program, and the swimming facility nearest your home, please call John T. Landry, Principal Coordinator (Aquatics), 725-995. Registration closes July 9, 1976.

JOHN M. ROBINSON HEADS ELECTION DEPARTMENT

Deputy Mayor Clarence Jones has announced the appointment of John Morris Robinson as chairman of the City of Boston Board of Election Commissioners. Mr. Robinson, named last February by Mayor White as one of four election commissioners, succeeds Joseph D. Murphy, who will remain as a member of the board.

Mr. Robinson's appointment marks the first time in the history of the City of Boston that a black man has served as chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners, and the first time in many years that a Republican has held that position.

A career government employee, he worked in the United States Postal Service for thirty-two years, beginning in 1938. He joined state government in 1974 as an investigator and a public information officer with the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination.

"John Robinson's appointment as head of the city's Election Department is a significant and important one," Deputy Mayor Jones said. "He is eminently qualified to handle the intricate procedures involved in streamlining voter registration and eliminating the many pitfalls that have made it difficult for Boston residents to register and vote in city elections in the past.

"Over the years we have witnessed increasing voter apathy and a lack of interest in the political process," he said. "John Robinson, will, I believe, introduce in the Election Department measures that can help reduce voter apathy and increase citizen participation in this city's electoral process."

Mr. Robinson, sixty-one, and a Republican native of Roxbury, graduated from Boston Latin School in 1934 and attended Howard University in Washington, D.C.

With his new appointment Mr. Robinson becomes the third black to head a major City of Boston agency. Victor C. Bynoe served as the commissioner of the Veterans' Services Department, and Reginald Eaves was the commissioner of the city's Penal Department before becoming the Public Safety Commissioner of the City of Atlanta, Georgia.

"I am proud and grateful to be given this opportunity by Mayor White, and I look forward to continuing the work begun by the former Chairman Joseph Murphy in decentralizing the voter registration process for city residents and, in general, making it less complicated for people to vote in Boston," Mr. Robinson said.

In addition to John M. Robinson, the city's Board of Election Commissioners includes Joseph W. Fitzgerald, Republican; Joseph D. Murphy, Democrat; and William A. McDermott, Democrat.

"T" HOLDS HEARING ON SOUTHWEST CORRIDOR PROJECT

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) will hold a public hearing on Tuesday, June 22, on its $313,418,498 federal aid application for the proposed Southwest Corridor Project. Robert R. Kiley, chairman of the board of directors has announced. The project involves the reconstruction of five miles of existing railroad right-of-way through the South End, Roxbury, and Jamaica Plain to provide for the relocation of the existing elevated Orange Line as well as improvements to the railroad line.

The hearing will be held at the State Diagnostic Laboratory, 305 South Street, Jamaica Plain, from 1 P.M. to 5 P.M., and from 7 P.M. to about 11 P.M.

Simultaneously, the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, according to Commissioner John W. Carroll, will hold a hearing on its plans for an arterial street parallel to the transit corridor from the vicinity of Ruggles Street to Jackson Square, and possibly from Jackson Square to Forest Hills.

The MBTA's project includes eight new rapid transit stations and related facilities. The new stations would be at the present Back Bay Station and in the vicinity of Massachusetts Avenue, Ruggles Street, Roxbury Crossing, Jackson Square, Boylston Street, Green Street, and Forest Hills. The stations at Back Bay, Massachusetts Avenue, and Ruggles Street would accommodate intercity railroad passengers as well as Orange Line riders. AMTRAK travelers would still be accommodated at a new Back Bay Station as well as at the existing South Station.

The estimated total project cost of the MBTA's project is $391,773,123. The Authority is requesting a $313,419,498 capital grant from the United States Department of Transportation, under the UMTA Act of 1964, as amended, or the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1973. The MBTA's share of the cost would be provided from bonding authorization already granted by the Legislature.

If federal assistance is approved, construction could start in two years and would take about four years to complete.

During construction, Orange Line service would be unaffected, but intercity and commuter railroad service would be affected.

Railroad passengers on the Franklin and Stoughton branches and the Providence main line who board trains south of Hyde Park Station would travel directly to South Station via a rehabilitated Midland branch running from Readville to South Station. For those passengers normally getting off at Back Bay Station, a railroad shuttle service would be operated between South Station and Back Bay Station.

Passengers who board trains at Hyde Park and Mt. Hope Stations could use existing bus service that would take them to the Forest Hills Orange Line Station.

With the temporary suspension of railroad service on the Needham branch, express buses would operate from Needham stations to both Back Bay and South Station. Needham branch riders boarding at West Roxbury and Roslindale stations and bound for Back Bay Station would have nonstop bus service while those bound for downtown Boston or South Station would have feeder bus service to the Forest Hills Orange Line Station.

While no adverse environmental impacts resulting from the project are expected, the project would require the relocation of sixty-nine families living in seventeen buildings. It would also affect thirty-six businesses, twenty-two of which would have to be relocated. Both MBTA and MDPW policies for land acquisition and relocation assistance will be discussed at the hearing.

Plans will be on display during the entire hearing and MBTA and MDPW staff will be present to answer questions. Everyone wishing to testify will be given the opportunity and anyone who would like to request a specific time may make arrangements by calling the Southwest Corridor Project Office at 522-6071 or 523-3410, or by writing to Anthony Pangaro, project manager, at 500 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, Mass. 02130, and indicate the time preference. Written statements and exhibits may be submitted either to the MBTA or MDPW prior to the hearing, up to ten days following the hearing. Written material concerning the highway project should be addressed to Robert T. Tierney, engineer, 100 Nashua Street, Boston, Mass. 02114.

To be displayed at the hearing will be the federal aid application, the environmental impact analysis report, and the Transportation Improvement Program for the Boston Region 1976-1980.

Anyone interested in viewing these documents prior to the hearing may see them at the MBTA Construction Directorate, 500 Arborway, Jamaica Plain, or its Community Affairs and Marketing Directorate at Back Bay Station; Southwest Corridor Site Office, Asticou Road, Jamaica Plain; Executive Office of Transportation and Construction, One Ashburton Place, or the Central Transportation Planning Staff Office, 27 School Street, Boston.

The documents are also available at the Boston Public Library at its South End Branch, 685 Tremont Street; Mt. Pleasant Branch, 2 Vine Street, Roxbury; Jamaica Plain Branch, 12 Sedgwick Street, and the West Roxbury Branch, 1961 Centre Street, and at the libraries in Norwood, Canton, Needham, and Franklin.

The documents are currently available at the following Boston Public Library branches: Back Bay, Chinatown, Dorchester, Fenway, Franklin Field, Hyde Park, Jamaica Plain, Mattapan, Roslindale, Roxbury, South End, Uphams Corner, and West Roxbury; at the following additional Boston Public Library branches: Egleston Square Branch, Grove Hall Branch, Parker Hill Branch, Hyde Park Branch, Connolly Branch in Jamaica Plain, and Roslindale Branch; and at the libraries in the following additional communities: Sharon, Dedham, Stoughton, Walpole, Attleborough, Milton, Foxboro, Westwood, Mansfield, Norfolk, and Randolph.

WATER RATES INCREASED

Public Works Commissioner Joseph F. Casazza, citing rising costs, announced a 53 percent increase in the city's water rate, effective on bills rendered after May 1.

This marks only the second increase in the water rate in the past fourteen years. The sewer use charge will remain unchanged at $1 for 1,000 cubic feet of water (7,480 gallons).

The water rate will be increased from the present $5 to $7.65 per 100 cubic feet of water (7,480 gallons) for the first 80,000 cubic feet (8 million gallons). The average three-family home consumes 150,000 gallons a year. The water rate last increased in 1972.

The increase in the city's rate has been approved by the Metropolitan District Commission (MDC), which over the past two years has doubled its charge from $20 to $240 per million gallons. Boston buys its water from the MDC.

Because tax-exempt institutions are required to pay for water, it is easier to increase water rates than to finance deficits by increasing real estate taxes, which are paid by less than half of the city's property owners, Mr. Casazza explained.

Last year's water deficit of $4 million required the addition of approximately $2.50 per $1,000 valuation to the tax rate computation, with the result that the taxpayer further subsidized the operation of tax-exempt institutions.

"With the Water Division operating on a self-sustaining basis, tax-exempt institutions will be required to pull their fair share of the load," he said.

"Water Division costs have risen markedly over the past several years, and those increases can be expected to continue," the Commissioner noted.

"In addition to the 100 percent increase in the cost of purchasing water from the MDC, personnel costs have risen more than 30 percent over the past five years despite a reduction in the number of employees from 277 in 1971, to 245 as of May 21," he said. "The cost of material, equipment, and contractual services also has risen sharply."

The MDC increased its charge to the city from $120 to $200 per million gallons in 1974 and followed that with another hike in 1975 to $240. Last year, Boston purchased nearly 54 billion gallons from the MDC. There are 7.48 gallons per cubic foot of water.

BICENTENNIAL INFORMATION CENTER OPENED

The John Hancock Tower is the site of Boston 200's newest Bicentennial Visitor Information Center. Located at the corner of St. James Avenue and Trinity Place on the tower's ground floor, the center opened to the public on June 3.

At special opening ceremonies on June 1, Mayor Kevin White, Deputy Mayor Katharine Kane, Hancock Chairman Gerhard D. Bleicken, and Boston 200 Director Harron Ellenson joined in the raising of a large Boston 200 flag on the plaza of the tower building. Boston 200 is the first organization, other than Hancock, to occupy space in that building.

The center occupies 1,700 square feet, and is sponsored for Boston 200 by John Hancock as the company's contribution to the city's Bicentennial program.

Inside the center, two colorful nine-foot-square maps serve as focal points for an eight-minute, audio-visual presentation describing for visitors important Bicentennial and historic sites throughout the metropolitan area.

Specially trained Boston 200 visitor service representatives are available during normal center hours, 10 A.M. to 6 P.M. daily, except Sundays, to answer visitors' questions, and distribute a variety of maps, directories, and guides to places of interest in the Greater Boston area.

ANNUAL ART FESTIVAL

The South Boston Branch Library announces its Fifth Annual Art Festival for South Boston artists both adults and young adults, this year to be held on June 24 instead of in August as in past years. Artists may submit three to four pieces in any of the following categories: paintings, sculpture, photography, pottery, graphics, and multi-media.

The library hopes that the many community artists who have previously entered this garden festival of the arts, as well as new participants, will support its efforts to display the creativity and skill of local talent.

Applications are available at the South Boston Branch Library, 646 East Broadway, or for more information, call 268-0180.

BATTLE OF BUNKER HILL JUNE 17, 1775

When George Washington was told that there had been a battle at Bunker Hill he asked: "Did the militia fight?" On being told that they fought he remarked: "Then the liberties of the country are safe." By that one sentence Washington showed that he realized the importance of the Battle of Bunker Hill, the first real battle of the American Revolution. This famous battle was fought on June 17, 1775, before Washington took command of the Army.

The colonial forces had been holding the British at bay in Boston, and heard that the enemy was planning to occupy some of the hills about the city. On the night of June 16 Colonel Prescott and his men started out to prevent this by occupying Bunker Hill, but they changed their plans and fortified Breed's Hill instead. On the morning of June 17 the British were amazed to see trenches crowning the hill. The vessels in the harbor immediately began bombarding the fortification, and later in the day the British troops attacked it. Twice they advanced to the attack. All was silent as they marched up the hill, for General Putnam had given the command: "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes!" When they were within a few yards of the fortifications a sheet of flame swept down the hill. The men in the front ranks were mowed down, and the others beat a hasty retreat. A third time the British charged. This time nothing happened, for the powder of the colonial forces was exhausted. The patriots fought with clubbed muskets, but were forced to retreat to Bunker Hill, leaving the battlefield in the hands of the British.

It was a victory which was dearly bought, however, for the British had lost 226 men killed and 828 wounded, while the loss of the Americans had been 145 killed and 304 wounded. Nathaniel Greene said, "I wish we could sell them another hill at the same price." Today a granite shaft 221 feet high stands near the spot where the gallant General Warren fell just as the retreat began. The cornerstone of this "Bunker Hill monument" was laid by Lafayette in 1825, the fiftieth anniversary of the battle. The monument was dedicated in 1843, with an oration by Daniel Webster.

CELTICS WIN IT ALL: HONORED AT CITY HALL

Our Boston Celtics (and we're proud of them) threw their combined talents into one basket and won their Thirteenth National Basketball Association title on Sunday, June 6, by defeating the Phoenix Suns 87 to 80 at Veterans Memorial Coliseum in Phoenix and winning the series four out of six games. It also was their second championship in three years. An elated Jo Jo White was named Most Valuable Player (and deservedly so) by Sport Magazine.

On Tuesday, June 8, approximately 25,000 loyal, patient, and orderly basketball fans welcomed the World's Champion Celtics in front of City Hall in Boston's Government Center Plaza. It was a beautiful day, the mercury reaching almost 90 degrees.

Mayor White spoke enthusiastically, lauding the champs and introduced the popular General Manager, Red Auerbach, who in turn introduced M.C. Johnny Most, one of the greatest basketball radio announcers of all time.

The individual players addressed the fans, thanking them for their loyalty and promised a repeat performance next year.

After the impressive ceremonies which lasted about forty-five minutes, the players and their families were hosted by Mayor White at a special luncheon in City Hall.

The players were recipients of silver plates etched with scenes of the Boston Massacre and the Tea Party. The wives received "Boston 200" pins, and plaques were presented to owner Irving Levin and Coach Tom Heinsohn.

Hats Off!

*Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums,
A flash of colour beneath the sky;*

Hats Off!

The flag is passing by!

*Blue and crimson and white it shines,
Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines.*

Hats Off!

*The colours before us fly;
But more than the flag is passing by.*

*Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great Fought to make and to save the State;
Weary marches and sinking Ships;
Cheers of victory on dying lips.*

*Days of plenty and years of peace;
March of a strong Land's swift increase
Equal justice, right and law,
Stately honour and reverent awe.*

*Sign of a nation great and strong
To ward her people from foreign wrong
Pride and glory and honour, — all
Live in the colours to stand or fall.*

Hats Off!

*Along the street there comes
A blare of bugles, a ruffle of drums;
And loyal hearts are beating high;*

Hats Off!

The flag is passing by!

— HENRY HOLCOMB BENNET

Our Flag, May It Ever Wave

I swing before your eyes as a bright gleam of color, a symbol of yourself, the pictured suggestion of that which makes this Nation. My stars and my stripes are your dream and your labors. They are bright with cheer, brilliant with courage, firm with faith, because you have made them so out of your hearts. This is the real meaning of old glory, the banner of the United States; for the flag is but a symbol of the Nation. Whatever the flag to which you give allegiance, you are, in a very real sense, one of its makers, as you are of the Nation for which it stands.

Copies to: All Superintendents, Deputy Superintendents, and Directors.

The Moon Island firearms range will operate on a special schedule from May 10 through June 17, 1976. Commencing on May 10 and continuing through May 14, 1976, the range will be closed to all patrol officers. During this period, all officers of the rank of lieutenant and above will be expected to qualify. There will be no exceptions. Each superior officer should make arrangements to visit the range by contacting Sergt. Jackmaugh or Sergt. Smith. Specific appointments may be made by calling at 328-4140.

Beginning May 17, 1976, and continuing through June 17, 1976, each district and division will be required to send all patrol officers who have not qualified in the past year to the range. The Division of Training and Education will provide each with a list of officers who have not fired within the past year. Each district and division will then be responsible for working these officers into the normal range attendance schedule, which will recommence May 17, 1976. These officers must be scheduled to attend firearms training by June 17, 1976.

Officers who fail to qualify by this date will be immediately reassigned from active street duty and will be relieved of their firearms unless a report is received by the Police Commissioner for each individual case as to why that officer should not be so reassigned or relieved of his/her firearm.

Beginning June 18, 1976, the range will return to its normal schedule. All officers will then be expected to attend firearms training at least once every six months. Failure to qualify at the range in any six-month period will result in reassignment of the officers from field duty and removal of their firearms.

Renovations Set For Twelve Health Centers

Mayor Kevin H. White as announced the investment of $5.9 million in federal and local funds for major construction and renovation of twelve neighborhood health centers in Boston.

The twelve projects will be under way during fiscal year 1976, and being funded with $4.3 million in Hill-Burton grants from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare — $1 million in Community Development Block Grant funds (CDBG); $360,000 from the George Robert White Fund, a city trust; and $272,000 in privately raised monies.

The money will be used to clean up, fix up, expand, or replace facilities in Roxbury, Dorchester, East Boston, Jamaica Plain, South Boston, Roslindale, and the North End. The grants range from a low of $40,000 to a high of $2.2 million. The Mayor made his announcement at the Harvard Street Health Center in Roxbury, the city's busiest health clinic which will serve 45,000 patients in 1976 alone.

Harvard Street is severely overcrowded and in need of expanded facilities. It will use a $100,000 grant from the George Robert White Fund to add seven examining rooms; expand existing waiting room space; and repaint the clinic so that more patients can be treated more comfortably and efficiently.

The Mayor said "The situation here at Harvard Street illustrates the potential crisis in health care in Boston caused by a sharp decline in the number of private practitioners and the need for expanded health care facilities to avert that crisis."

The decline of doctors in private practice is a city-wide problem, Mayor White said. Studies show that:

— In East Boston, only one physician has opened a private practice in the last twenty-five years.

— In North Dorchester, forty-six of sixty-three physicians who were in private practice there in 1969 had moved out or retired by the end of 1972, and only thirteen doctors had moved in to replace them.

— By 1980, Dorchester, Hyde Park, Roslindale, and West Roxbury will face a shortage of seventy-one family doctors.

"As physicians have left Boston's neighborhoods, the demand for primary care services at local health centers has grown," Mayor White said. "Already, our existing facilities are straining to keep pace with that demand."

"Today's announcement is a reaffirmation of the city's commitment to continue providing quality health care to all Boston residents," he said. "It means that money is now available to pay for new facilities in East Boston and Neponset, and to enable another ten to add examining rooms, waiting-room space, laboratories, and a whole range of internal repairs and improvements."

Boston's twenty-seven neighborhood health centers now treat more than 200,000 residents yearly — nearly one-third of the city's total population.

Seven centers are directly affiliated with Boston City Hospital — one of the largest single-hospital networks in the country. Through the Department of Health and Hospitals Matching Grant Program, eleven additional centers receive grants up to $50,000 yearly to assist with their operations.

In the last eight years, Boston has spent more than $13 million in city tax funds to support health center development and operations. In fiscal year 1976 alone, approximately $3.5 million was spent.

The twelve neighborhood health centers receiving funds are listed:

Charles Drew Family Life Center, Roxbury, $40,000, CDBG — to complete renovations and parking lot.

DUDLEY STATION ARE EXHIBITS

"What Time Is This Station (Yesterday)" is the first of the exhibits on the Dudley Station area of Roxbury, now and through November 5. The hours are Monday through Fridays, 11 A.M. to 5 P.M. and Wednesday evenings until 8 P.M. The exhibits are part of the Museum of Afro-American History's project, "What Time Is This Station? (Yesterday)," take the viewer back, through numerous stages in the life of the Dudley Station area, in a time capsule of historical photographs from the Roxbury Historical Society collection.

The visitors will discover the area that the area played in Colonel Henry Knox's trek across the state of Massachusetts in 1776, and the development of overland transportation routes from early nineteenth century Boston. After visitors have seen unusual advertisements from the 1858 edition of the Roxbury Directory, photographs of the construction of the elevated terminal in 1904, and street scenes from the 1930s, they will agree that the Dudley Station section of the city has enjoyed a rich and colorful development. Alan Bell, the project director, said that this history "has mysteriously been forgotten by proper Boston since the completion of this area has changed."

The exhibit is housed in a station front three doors from the station itself. The space was donated by the MBTA. The exhibit is funded in part by the National Endowment of the Arts and the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities.

The best thing to give your enemy is forgiveness:

To an opponent, tolerance;
To a friend, your ear;
To your child, good example;
To a father, reverence;
To your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you;
To yourself, respect;
To all men, charity.

CONVENTION CENTER PLANNED FOR HUB

Plans are currently under way for a new Boston convention center to cost approximately $15 million. When completed it would make Boston a competitor for the nation's convention business.

Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) Director Robert T. Kenney said on June 1: "We are a long way from sketching out the building plans, but I personally feel a facility like this is needed."

The center is among our high priority projects," he said. "It's the need for an expanded operation—we need one, but we haven't decided to build it."

The proposed downtown center would have a 300,000 square-foot footprint and would be related to plans for a 50 percent increase in hotel rooms or the construction of 4,500 hotel rooms during the next five years, Mr. Kenney said.

The study began on May 17, and what the BRA calls the "data-gathering stage." It will take about six months to complete. Without major obstacles, construction could begin in four or five years.

Among possible sites is the new Fayette Place Jordan Marsh development, South Station, and near the Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

The auditorium is currently the city's largest convention facility with 160,000 square feet of floor space and 5,300 seats.

Mr. Kenney said the center would contain mostly exhibition space and would be located on top of a parking structure.

A new center and a major increase in hotel rooms is essential to give Boston an average competitor for the convention business, he explained.

Boston has about 7,000 hotel rooms and a convention of merely 500 people can strain the city's hotel capacity and send visitors to Cambridge's limited lodging facilities. As many as 15,000 delegates are drawn by a major convention.

"We have talked to the hotel industry," said Mr. Kenney, "and there seems to be a general recognition that the convention center and increased hotel space are necessary."

"Now we have to see if there is a broad base of support and then put all the pros and cons together."

"T" SEEKS BIDS FOR BRAINTREE EXTENSION

The Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) today advertised an "advance notice to contractors" that bids will be sought for the first construction contract for the extension of the Red Line from Quincy Center Station to South Braintree.

The contract will be for site clearance, grading and drainage along the Authority-owned right-of-way of the former Old Colony Railroad. The work will consist of clearing, grubbing and removal of abandoned facilities, including the old platforms at the Quincy Adams and Braintree Stations, and old building foundations on the South Braintree Station site. Other work along the right-of-way will be excavation and backfill; installation of chain link fence, gates and highway guard rails; and installation of drainage pipe, catchbasins, and manholes.

Bidding documents for this contract will be available June 22 at the earliest.

ANNUAL CONVENTION, AMERICAN LEGION

DEMOLITION STARTED ON OLD "EL"

On June 14, wrecking crews began their work on the old elevated North Station, the last visible part of the three-quarter century old "el" to Charlestown and Everett.

Coming down first was the canopy over the station platform. The entire job is expected to take about two weeks.

Razing the old North Station is being done by Cleveland Wrecking Company which took down the 2.9-mile-long elevated structure and other stations on the northern segment of the Orange Line. The total demolition contract amounts to $469,500.

The old station was last used by passengers on April 4, 1975, when service was shut down. Three days later, the new Haymarket-North Extension, with a new subway North Station, was opened to Community College Station and a new Sullivan Square Station, both in Charlestown. The extension is now also serving Wellington Station in Medford and Malden Center Station. The final station, Oak Grove at the Malden-Melrose boundary, is scheduled to be placed in service later this year.

VOLUNTEER PHOTOGRAPHERS WANTED

NEW APPOINTMENT

Mayor Kevin H. White has announced the appointment of Alice O. Christopher as the manager of the East Boston Little City Hall.

A lifelong resident of Orient Heights in East Boston, Mrs. Christopher succeeds John Vitagliano, who is now commissioner of the city's Housing Inspection Department.

"I am proud to announce Alice Christopher's appointment," Mayor White said. "As a native of East Boston, and an individual with a long history of involvement in community issues — from Massport expansion to the problems of East Boston's elderly — I can think of no other individual better suited for this position," he said.

"Alice Christopher's commitment and tireless efforts have contributed a high degree of service for many years to the East Boston community," Mayor White said. "I have a great deal of confidence that she will continue to be responsive to the issues and needs of this community."

Mrs. Christopher, the mother of three, played an active role in stopping the proposed Winthrop connector road through East Boston and in protesting Massport expansion plans. She has served for many years on the East Boston Land Use Advisory Council and was a member of the board of directors of the East Boston APAC.

In addition, she has been active in East Boston's schools, and as a parent advisor, she worked to bring the Flexible Campus Program to East Boston High.

PAUL REVERE MALL

Cyrus Dallin's statue of Paul Revere graces the park known as Paul Revere Mall. The part played by the people of the North End in Boston's history from 1630 to 1918, is described on thirteen bronze tablets set in the surrounding wall. Opposite, on Hanover Street, is the only Bulfinch church still standing in Boston, St. Stephen's, dating to 1804, now restored.

The exhibit is currently open to the public.

CHARLES STREET JAIL RELOCATION PROPOSED

Boston City Councillor John J. Kerrigan has proposed that the Globe plant in Dorchester be considered as the relocation site for Charles Street Jail.

At a Council order he said the former building on 16.6 acres of land set back from highways would qualify as an alternate site to converting the jail on Deer Island at least savings to Boston taxpayers. His order asked the Mayor and Public Facilities Commission to consider eminent domain taking of the Dorchester property for its assessed valuation of $5,233,-

Even with renovation costs to convert the facility into a modern detention center for inmates awaiting trial," he said, "total cost would be out less than the $8.5 million." Judge W. Arthur Garrity, Jr. ordered be approved for the Deer Island addition and building an intake center."

Councillor Kerrigan said his order is in compliance with an invitation by the Judge — and reiterated the Globe — that alternative locations should be given consideration.

The Council member pointed out that the complex at 135 Morrissey Boulevard could "readily be enclosed by security fencing and the structures renovated so as to provide modern, roomy, and comfortable detention quarters for inmates awaiting trial in Suffolk County or federal courts."

He noted that "conversion of the property would not have an adverse impact on the environment of the area."

Also, he said, the property has space adequate for heliport use and extensive rooftop parking which could serve as an estimable recreational complex for inmates that could more than meet federal standards for their lodging."

Councillor Kerrigan said the proposed detention facility would be distant from any residences and could be buffered by an extensive parking area as well as fencing.

He also stated the industry now using the structure could relocate to the suburbs which would be more convenient to its interests and the residency of its officials.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS PHASE 2 BUSING ORDER

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White, June 14, 1976

Today, the Supreme Court refused to hear any of the four appeals of the Boston School Desegregation Case. My appeal — one of the four — had asked the Court to clarify the powers of District Court Judge Garrity — powers which we feel he has exceeded in several crucial respects.

I am deeply disappointed by the Supreme Court's decision. I continue to believe that the constitutional issues raised in Boston are deserving of high court review. The Supreme Court, for its own reasons, obviously disagrees.

I shall be meeting soon with my attorneys, both here and in Washington, to discuss any additional legal avenues open to us at this time.

However, at this moment, my primary concern is the response of the city as a whole to the court's action.

Feelings of disappointment or elation, depending on one's point of view, will quite naturally be expressed over the next few days.

But, inflammatory actions designed only to exacerbate already high tensions will serve no purpose and will not be condoned.

Our first objective must be to diminish anxiety and tension so that we, as a people, can continue to resolve our public issues in an atmosphere of reason and peace.

A BOSTON FIRST

The first subway in the United States was constructed right here in Boston, Massachusetts, and started operating in 1897. It ran from Park Street to the Public Garden and one year later was extended to the North Station.

The world's first subway opened in London, England, in 1863.

V. LETTER OF THANKS

DEAR COMMISSIONER PAUL:

It has been brought to my attention by Deputy Superintendent John R. Bradley of the Bureau of Inspectional Services and Deputy Superintendent Walter A. Rachalski of District 4 that your department cooperated with the police in a most commendable manner on March 29. Certain units responded to a request from the police to make a ladder available as it was believed that a holdup man, who was holding a hostage in a business establishment on Massachusetts Avenue, was attempting to escape through a hole in the roof.

Please convey our thanks to those fire fighters who responded and give them my personal commendation for their unhesitating cooperation. Best wishes.

ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

All subbids for a subtrade designated in Item 2 of the general bid form shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the above office address, before twelve o'clock noon, Boston time, Wednesday, July 7, 1976, at which hour and place they will be publicly opened and read. Every such subbid must be submitted in a sealed envelope with the following plainly marked on the outside: Title of work, subtrade for which subbid submitted, subbidder's name, subbidder's business address.

The attention of all bidders is specifically directed to the equal employment opportunity section of the specifications and the obligation of the contractor and all subcontractors to take affirmative action in connection with employment practices throughout the work.

All such subbids must be submitted on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority, and any such subbid not filed on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority shall be rejected.

A bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, or a bid bond satisfactory to the Awarding Authority with a surety company qualified to do business in the Commonwealth and conditioned upon the faithful performance by the principal of the agreements contained in the subbid, in the amount as specified in the following for the various subtrades as listed below shall be submitted by each subbidder with his subbid as filed with the Awarding Authority.

No subbid may be withdrawn after the time limit for the filing of subbids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded) from the day fixed for the opening of the general bids. In addition, neither the subbids filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible subbidders for a subtrade, nor the subbids for the same subtrade as shown on the general bids of the three lowest responsible and eligible general bidders, may be withdrawn after the opening of the general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded) after presentation of the subcontract to the subbidder selected for that subtrade by the general bidder selected as the general contractor.

Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond, and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 percent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids, if it be in the public interest so to do. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any subbid on any subtrade if it determines that such subbid does not represent the subbid of a person competent to perform the work as specified or that less than three such subbids were received and that the prices are not reasonable for acceptance without further competition, in accordance with section 44D, chapter 149, of the General Laws, as amended.

Declaration of Independence

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

WHEN in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.—We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.—That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed,—That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.—Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.—He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.—He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.—He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless these people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right so estimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.—He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.—He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.—He has refused for a long time, after several dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.—He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.—He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judicial powers.—He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.—He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.—He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.—He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.—He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation:—For quartering large bodies of armed trips among us:—For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:—For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:—For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:—For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:—For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences:—For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:—For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:—For suspending our own Legislatures and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.—He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.—He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.—He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.—He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.—He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated

Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our Brittish brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.—

WE, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the united States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be FREE AND INDEPENDENT STATES: that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.—And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

Office of Program Development Initiated

Mayor Kevin H. White has announced the formation of a new city agency to oversee the investment of more than $100 million this year in Boston's neighborhoods.

The Office of Program Development, ordered by Mayor White, represents the first time the city will have a central clearinghouse to coordinate the use of federal and capital grants available to the city each year.

In the past, federal and capital funds used by the city have been channeled through individual departments and agencies such as Public Facilities, the Boston Redevelopment Authority, the Economic Development and Industrial Commission, the Office of Community Development, and the Mayor's Office.

The new coordinating agency is responsible for planning and programming the use of all grant and capital resources to meet neighborhood priorities in housing, public facilities, transportation, urban renewal, economic development, manpower and human services, including health, recreation, and social programs.

"The Office of Program Development is a top priority in this administration," Mayor White said. "It represents months, if not years, of effort to bring more centralized control and comprehensive programming to the many city departments that are responsible for planning physical and social improvements in the city's neighborhoods," he explained.

"For the first time the city will have one central group that will not only know what neighborhoods need in terms of jobs, playgrounds, health care, street lights, or libraries, but what resources are available to meet these needs in a systematic and creative way," the Mayor said.

"While the city is faced with serious financial constraints, the creation of this new office will aid in realigning budget priorities to cut waste, remove duplication, and improve productivity, while at the same time improving neighborhood services and ensuring that the needs and priorities of our neighborhoods are met," the Mayor said.

"Through this new operation the city will be better able to evaluate priorities and to match these with our financial resources so that program decisions are more efficient and responsive to each particular neighborhood," he said.

The following funding resources available to the city will be coordinated by the new office:

- $30 million in Community Development Block Grants;

- $50 million of the city's capital funds;

- $9.5 million in Title I Comprehensive Employment Training Act Funds (Manpower special revenue sharing);

- $15 million from the Department of Housing and Urban Development in urban renewal funds;

- $5 million from the federal Economic Development Administration; and

- $5.5 million in other Human Services special grants.

Mayor White has named David C. Niklaus of Boston to be director of the Office of Program Development. Mr. Niklaus, thirty-six, has served as the Mayor's management specialist for the past three years. Named to serve as deputy director of the new operation is John Weis, director of community planning in the Boston Redevelopment Authority since 1974.

Deputy Mayor Robert J. Vey, who is responsible for all development and construction in Boston, explained that the new office will consolidate all immediate long-range planning functions now going on in the BRA, Public Facilities, the Mayor's Office, and various line departments. He said that the office will evaluate proposals from Little City Halls, neighborhood groups, district planners, and city departments and agencies for human services, neighborhood improvements, and physical and economic development.

Mr. Vey said that traditional long-range planning (five- and ten-year plans) will continue to reside in the Boston Redevelopment Authority, the city's official planning agency. He also explained that McManus Associates, a consulting firm from Washington, D.C., has studied the city's Community Development program and is expected to make recommendations about the future administration of the program in several weeks.

The new office, which will be organized on a neighborhood and program specialist basis, will consist of twenty-four members, including the director and deputy director. Three-quarters of the members of the newly formed office are transferring from other city departments and bring with them strong backgrounds in planning, urban affairs, and economics.

RENT AID FOR HUD LOW-INCOME FAMILIES

Low-income families in Boston will be eligible for $1.2 million in federal funds for rent assistance this year.

Lee Dennison, a spokesman for the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, said, on June 15, HUD has agreed to send the Commonwealth $13 million to aid 4,200 families.

Last year Boston was not among the seventy community housing authorities across the state taking advantage of the program.

This year Boston has joined, Mr. Dennison said, and within six months the city will be accepting applications.

It is estimated a family may receive up to 25 percent of its monthly rent payment under the program.

The Boston Housing Authority plans to have a program formula ready within six months and then housing inspectors must investigate each applicant before eligibility is proved.

PARKS DEPARTMENT SUMMER EVENTS

One of the city's most beloved summer programs, a combined effort of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department and the Association for Performing Arts, will begin its sixth season on July 7, at 8 P.M.

"Wednesday Evenings on the Plaza" brings outdoor performances by acclaimed artists to thousands of Boston residents over an eight-week period. All performances are held on the stage, City Hall Plaza North.

July's offerings include a delightful operetta "Cox and Box" by Sir Arthur Sullivan, played by the Boston Light Opera Limited (Gilbert and Sullivan Players). This opening night will begin at 8 P.M., July 7.

REAL ESTATE: PERTINENT FACTS

Death and taxes, said Benjamin Franklin, are the only things in this world that are certain. There is no escape from either, but in the death of one marriage partner, there may be a way for the surviving home-owning spouse to save on federal taxes on the value of that home.

There is, of course, another consideration when one marriage partner dies: the home should pass speedily to the surviving partner without administrative red tape or cost.

Let's look at three types of home-ownership to determine in general the advantages and disadvantages of each:

Sole ownership of the home by one marriage partner — should the marriage partner who does not own the home die first, obviously, there would be no administrative red tape or tax problem involving the home.

However, red tape, administrative costs, and taxes prove a problem when the home's owner dies first. Establishing ownership would take time, preventing the surviving partner from selling, renting, or mortgaging the home.

Joint tenancy — under this form of ownership, administrative red tape and the accompanying delay in establishing ownership virtually would be eliminated. The surviving partner receives title automatically upon death of the spouse.

However, there are disadvantages. In joint tenancy, the amount of equity built up in the home is added to the gross estate of the first to die, statistically usually the husband whose estate might already be large.

The federal estate tax then is applied to that gross estate. The same tax also is applied to the estate upon death of the other marriage partner.

Tenancy in common — as tenants in common, the advantage of minimum red tape in establishing ownership still applies. There also could be a considerable tax saving over joint tenancy, especially if the couple has owned the home for many years and has built up a great deal of equity.

For example, let's say the husband, who often is the sole contributor in the purchase of the home, makes a gift of one-half the ownership to his wife. No gift tax would apply if no previous gifts were made and equity in the home did not exceed $132,000.

This procedure would remove half of the home's equity from the husband's gross estate. Assuming he dies first, the value of his estate would be reduced by the amount of equity now owned by his wife. The tax on his estate would be less, possibly several thousand dollars less. When the wife dies, the estate pays on her gross estate, including the full amount of the equity.

The only added cost in tenancy in common would be charges in each estate attributable to inclusion of the home in the probate estate, an amount usually much less than the estate tax that would be imposed under joint tenancy. (If you choose tenancy in common, both marriage partners would have to include a clause in their wills disposing of their interest in the home.)

A word of caution: each family's financial situation is different and benefits from one form of ownership or another vary from case to case. It's best to seek legal assistance in determining which form of ownership is most advantageous for you and your spouse.

Mayor's Eight-Point Progress Plan

Statement of Mayor Kevin H. White, June 29, 1976

In 1954 the United States Supreme Court decided that segregated school systems were forbidden by the fourteenth amendment.

Twenty years later, in 1974, the federal courts found that the Boston School Committee had by official action, created and maintained a segregated school system. Boston, like many other cities, was ordered to obey the Constitution by integrating the public schools.

The Constitutional principle was clear. But, following it has not been easy. A series of complex problems has required children to be bused out of their neighborhoods. The local federal court has felt it necessary to become deeply involved in the details of school management. There has been widespread, sometimes violent resistance to these court orders. In fact, a few of our schools have virtually become armed camps — their playgrounds and corridors patrolled by guards and police. Every city taxpayer has been burdened with the large cost of carrying out the mandate of the court and Constitution.

During this time I, myself have disagreed with some aspects of what has become a continuous judicial supervision of the public schools. But I have never quarreled with the basic principle of the fourteenth amendment or with the authority of the federal government. I have pursued my disagreements by appeal through the judicial system. A few weeks ago the Supreme Court resolved these disputes; it rejected all the city's appeals and it upheld the order of the court.

We have not seen our last lawsuit concerning the Boston schools. It is my hope that the courts will remain open to those seeking redress of grievances or unfair treatment.

But certain things are now clear.

First, the process of desegregation will continue. Schools that are now integrated will remain integrated. Where segregation remains it will be eliminated. That is the command of the Constitution.

Second, for some indefinite period of time, busing will continue. That is the order of the Supreme Court — and it will be enforced. Indeed, it must be enforced if we are to maintain that government of law alone permits our society to remain both orderly and free.

I understand and I share the general discontent in this city with compulsory busing. No parents, black or white, enjoy seeing their children transported to remote neighborhoods. It is my hope that busing can be carefully limited to that which is necessary; and that in some happier time it will be replaced by a more natural integration, based on full social and economic equality.

But until that time, busing will continue. Any who tell you otherwise, who say that busing soon will be halted, that the courts will change their minds, or Congress will intervene, or that the President will act, or that violent resistance will succeed — they mislead you.

That deception is not in your interest or the city's, for already the costs, economically (higher tax rate) and psychologically in terms of tension, are staggering.

For some this may be an unpleasant and unwelcome statement; but it is the truth, and it is my job to tell you the truth.

To accept this truth is not to quit, to give up, or to surrender the right to disagree or to challenge.

But truth can also be a liberation. It can free our energies from useless and bitter conflicts with one another. It will allow us to get about our real job, making this city work.

While busing paralyzes us, a backlog of other problems grows:

- the pain and destruction of unemployment;
- the desperate plight of our elderly;
- the corrosive effect of crime; and
- the crushing burden of our tax system.

Unless we respond to these problems also, our racial conflicts will be with us long after busing has faded from memory. In fact, the enormity of those problems helps explain why our racial problems have become so severe, so turbulent, and so resistant to rational solution.

It would, of course, be foolish to deny that many Bostonians share the racial hostilities which have scarred our entire history as a nation. Yet of the 165 public schools in the city, only a handful has experienced serious disturbances. It is no coincidence that these schools are, for the most part, located in the poorest, most deprived, and tightly knit neighborhoods of our city, neighborhoods whose residents have been largely excluded from the growing prosperity of Boston and the metropolitan area.

Since 1960, the per capita income for metropolitan Boston has gone up 50 percent. The city alone has a ten-billion-dollar economy that now generates half a million jobs, and 75,000 new jobs will be created during the next ten years.

Over the past six years, for example, unemployment in South Boston has gone from 5 percent to almost 16 percent. In Charlestown, it has risen from about 5 percent to over 17 percent. For the City of Boston the youth unemployment rate is now over 28 percent, more than one in four. For young blacks, unemployment is staggering, more than 37 percent.

This denial of jobs is accompanied by the denial of opportunity for further education. In the class of 1974, only eighty-seven graduates of South Boston High School went on to four-year schools. There were only thirty graduates of Roxbury High School, thirty-nine from Charlestown, and fifty-five from East Boston.

Yet about two-thirds of the graduates from Wellesley and Lincoln, from Brookline and Milton, entered four-year colleges, and most of the rest went to two-year schools.

This is not fair or right.

These figures show the decline which afflicts parts of the city that are now the focal points of racial upset. I know these neighborhoods. They are inhabited by good people, by people who are proud of the sense of place and belonging which makes their streets into real and identifiable communities.

In fact, it is because of their existence that Boston is among the last American cities to have escaped the forces which have ravaged and eroded the traditional American neighborhood. Their endurance is, or it should be, one of our greatest resources.

Yet long, long before any busing order, many of these community residents watched helplessly as housing decayed; as highways and housing projects leveled entire blocks; as job opportunities disappeared; and as schools deteriorated.

Our children were being deprived of an equal opportunity to go to college, our young people denied the chance to earn a decent living, while the best and most rewarding jobs in the city went to commuters, and scholarships often to suburbanites.

Bostonians were not blind to these injustices and inequities, but they felt helpless. No matter for whom they voted or what they did, the impersonal forces of devastation continued.

Then, amid this general sense of impotence and change, the buses began to roll. From somewhere beyond their control the order came.

Integration was the law of the land and they would have to integrate while the more affluent of suburbs and city looked on, preached, and criticized.

In retrospect, one can see that some form of collision was inevitable. For the first time intrusions into the lives of neighborhood assumed tangible form.

But black children, even poorer and more deprived than their own, were not the source of their trouble. Of course, some acted out of racial feelings. But those were fueled and powerfully reinforced by the more general discontents which can now find symbolic expression in resistance to desegregation.

To understand these causes is not, however, to condone the consequences. But it is necessary to understand a problem in order to solve it.

What is the solution?

The solution is to enforce the Constitution — all of the Constitution. Not just the part which says "You must obey." But also the phrases which proclaim "You have the right" — the right to equal opportunity; to a decent education; to livable housing; to the chance to make a living; and the right of all citizens to stretch their minds and skills to the furthest limit of individual possibility.

This is what I intend to do: to enforce all of the Constitutional duties and rights alike — to the limits of my resources and authority.

Neither I, nor the city I lead, can do this job alone — nor should we have to.

We must remember that it was not the neighborhoods of Boston which created a racially divided society. That is an American heritage.

The neighborhoods of Boston are not responsible for the wrongs and injustices done to black Americans over the decades. That is a responsibility all Americans must share.

The wrongs that have been committed are common wrongs. Yet up to now the burden of righting the wrongs has been imposed — on everyone — but on a handful of stricken neighborhoods.

That fact may be inescapable, but it has inevitably added to resentment and resistance.

Desegregation is, first of all, a federal responsibility. The Constitutional policy which is being forced in Boston is a federal policy imposed by federal courts. It is the duty of the federal government to help make that policy work. The federal government has done far, far, too little.

We need no more demagogic discussion in Congress, or from the White House, about the evils of slums or the racism of Boston. We need jobs and education and relief from a system which takes money from Massachusetts and pours it into Texas and California. While the people of South Boston and Roxbury struggle to make ends meet. We have one of the most distinguished and powerful delegations to the Congress. We should ask more from them for the city.

I also call upon the state. We want no more lectures on the evils of violence. We need action to prevent violence — beginning with approval of programs for economic development and jobs.

I can only hope the federal and state governments will fulfill their obligations to us, but whatever they decide, I intend to activate our own programs.

For the past two years I have tried to hold this city together. The time has now come, once again, to move it forward.

So, in response to my judgment of this city's needs now, and in conjunction with the recent recommendations made to me by the Mayor's Committee on Violence, this city will, over the coming months:

First, take initial steps to determine the conditions under which expanding the Boston School Committee would be feasible. More than 50 percent of our school population consists of minorities. Yet they do not have a single representative on the Boston School Committee. Those whose children attend the schools should have the power to direct them.

Second, I will again fight to have the court return responsibility for running the schools to the School Committee. This includes ending receivership of South Boston High.

Third, I believe this is the appropriate moment to create a panel of outstanding educators to reevaluate the school administrative leadership and make recommendations to the court and School Committee before a new school year begins.

Fourth, I will convene this summer the presidents of universities in Boston and demand that they set aside a substantially increased number of scholarships for Boston high school graduates.

In addition, I will ask them to devote a portion of their resources to training programs, tutoring, and even special schools for Boston students. Our colleges constitute the greatest single educational resource in the country. They are fully adequate, without undue burden, to ensure a decent education for the children of Boston. These universities have been exempted from taxation because it is assumed that they serve the common welfare. They have served the nation; now it is time for them to serve Boston.

Fifth, I intend to meet with leaders of business in the metropolitan area and request them to establish a special apprenticeship program and to set aside a certain number of full-time career jobs — and a lot of them, not just tokenism — for neighborhood children.

Sixth, in an endeavor to eliminate politics from the process of implementing these programs for education and jobs, I will appoint a special executive director from the private sector who will have the authority over these new career jobs and placement.

Seventh, to deal with violence, we will undertake an expansion of police personnel.

Eighth, I will create a committee to function permanently to monitor our progress and report periodically on ways to resolve our differences.

These initial eight steps will not meet everyone's approval, nor by themselves solve our problems, but, if taken, will make a solution possible.

I'd like to close on a personal note.

I grew up in Boston, as did my family before me. I think I know and understand this place and its people — their pride and sporadic angers; their hopes for their children and fears for themselves; their petty prejudices; and their enormous capacity for generous action.

For eight and a half years, I have served as Mayor — trying to deal with the multitudinous and often unprecedented problems of a modern city. But this is not just another problem for a mayor to solve. It is a choice — rare in the history of any city — about the way we want to live. A Boston scarred by continual dissension among the races, its neighborhoods in decline, its economy faltering — such a Boston will not be a good place for your children or mine to live.

But if we choose the other path, if we choose to accept our realities, and to build on those realities toward a society in which a tranquil equality is accompanied by real opportunity, then I know enough of this city's possibilities to believe that in a generation, Boston — and its way of life — will be the envy of the nation.

I will do the best I can. But I also know that the choice will not, finally, be made in City Hall. The decision will come from the streets and clubhouses, the homes and parks, in every block, of every neighborhood, of this city.

The choice of what future we have is yours. Only you can make it, and I honestly hope your choice will be right with God and this city.

Everyone has his own specific vocation or mission in life; everyone must carry out a concrete assignment that demands fulfillment. Therein he cannot be replaced, nor can his life be repeated. Thus, everyone's task is as unique as his specific opportunity to implement it.

MAYOR LAUDS MEDICAL SERVICE PROGRAM

The City of Boston's new Emergency Medical Service program has cut ambulance response time in half and increased emergency medical services across the city by more than 10 percent, Mayor Kevin H. White has announced.

He said that the new decentralized emergency ambulance service has cut ambulance response time to an average of four minutes on all 911 emergency calls received in the Ambulance Communications Center in the Boston Police Turret.

The Mayor explained that the new Medical Service program, put into operation last summer by the Department of Health and Hospitals, includes the following five components:

- The purchase of a new fleet of twelve ambulances by the Department of Health and Hospitals;

- The opening of seven new decentralized ambulance satellite stations in Boston's neighborhoods;

- Providing professional medical training for all ambulance personnel that involves a minimum of eighty-one hours of classroom and field instruction by medical specialists;

- The development of a streamlined communications network using the Boston Police Department computer-aided dispatch system; and

- The use of private ambulances for backup service when city ambulances are unavailable.

The Mayor made the announcement in Allston-Brighton, the most recent neighborhood to receive its own ambulance service as part of the Department of Health and Hospitals' plan to base ambulances in strategic locations throughout the city.

"Last summer the city began a full-fledged effort to improve the quality of medical services offered to Boston residents in emergency situations, and to hasten the response time to all calls for medical assistance," Mayor White said.

"Since that time, the Department of Health and Hospitals has done a remarkable job. Our own ambulance service, which responds to over 54,000 calls every year and transports more than 40,000 patients annually to hospital emergency rooms across the city, has dramatically reduced the time it takes to bring medical care to the city's residents and upgraded the quality of care provided in emergency situations," he said.

He explained that 80 percent of the seventy-nine-member ambulance staff are now registered as Emergency Medical Technicians (EMTs), and trained in immediate lifesaving care through field experience, classroom instruction, and supervised study in the emergency ward at Boston City Hospital — the city's busiest emergency ward. The remaining 20 percent are in the process of being trained.

"In 1971, Massachusetts ranked forty-ninth nationally in prehospital emergency medical care," Mayor White said. "And now, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare ranks this state among the leaders in providing emergency medical services. Our goal in Boston is to remain a leader for the nation in providing the most rapid and professional medical care to all persons in emergency situations.

"The improvements made over the past nine months by the city's Health and Hospitals Department are twofold," Mayor White said. "Not only are residents assured of more responsive and expert medical care at the scene of an emergency, but the city's police, who for years have provided emergency ambulance services, are now free to respond to crime-related incidents," he said.

Until 1970, ambulance service in Boston was provided by the Boston Police Department. Calls for emergency care were received by police dispatchers, and patrol vehicles responded to emergency medical calls.

Now, calls to 911 for emergency medical care are transferred to Emergency Medical Technicians working in the Police Communications Center who can quickly assess the problem and relay calls to the closest available ambulance. In addition to city ambulances, Police or Fire Department units may be dispatched to aid the Emergency Medical Team.

Since 1970, the city's Department of Health and Hospitals has assumed greater responsibility for ambulance service in Boston. The new Emergency Medical Service program represents the phasing out of Police Department responsibility for patient transportation.

David Rosenbloom, Acting Executive Director of the Department of Health and Hospitals, said that the city's new ambulance fleet includes twelve new ambulances — two received in July of 1975; five that were purchased last month through a statewide ambulance distribution program sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health; and five that will be bought by the city in fiscal year 1977.

There are now six ambulance satellite stations located throughout Boston at:

- Government Center, located outside Police Station 1;

- Boylston Street, across from Hynes Auditorium;

- Albany and East Berkeley Streets (between South End and South Boston);

- Edward Everett Square (Dorchester);

- Franklin Park (Roxbury and Mattapan);

- Brighton Center, at Police Station 14.

A seventh, in East Boston, has been added and three more satellite stations will be opened in the fall to serve Jamaica Plain, Roslinda Hyde Park, West Roxbury, and Roxbury.

DON'T SWIM HERE!

The Department of Parks and Recreation once again reminds you that Jamaica Pond is unsafe for swimming. There is a muddy bottom and a dangerous drop-off. It is not polluted! It is unsafe! There is to be no swimming in Jamaica Pond.

ROYAL COUPLE VISITS BOSTON

The high point of Boston 200's 200-year Bicentennial program will come on Sunday, July 11, when Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and His Royal Highness The Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, visit the city. The occasion marks the first visit ever to Boston by a reigning British Monarch.

The Royal couple is coming to the city at the invitation of Mayor Kevin White, and will spend the day following Boston's historic Freedom Trail. The sites they will visit include the Old North Church, Old State House, City Hall, Samuel Adams Park in front of Faneuil Hall, and the U.S.S. Constitution (and Ironsides).

The Queen and Prince Philip will arrive from Newport, Rhode Island, aboard the Royal yacht Britannia and, following a brief welcoming ceremony at the Boston Coast Guard Base, proceed directly by motorcade to the Old North Church for Sunday morning worship.

A midday commemorative ceremony at Old State House, original seat of Royal government in the Massachusetts Bay Colony, is expected to highlight their day's agenda. That program includes specially commissioned works by George Handel and Haydn Choral Society and renowned Boston poet David McCord, followed by a brief historical address by Walter Muir Whitehill, former head of the Boston Athenaeum. The ceremony concludes with a short speech delivered by The Queen herself.

Mayor White will toast Her Majesty at a City Hall luncheon in her honor to be attended by two hundred distinguished guests. After lunch she will walk through City Hall Plaza enroute to Samuel Adams Park to review a colorful parade of evolutionary era militia units. The Royal Marines Band from HM MY Britannia, and Boston's own Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company are slated to lead the parade. Following an afternoon motorcade tour of the city, and sit to the U.S.S. Constitution, the royal party will depart for Canada where The Queen is scheduled to open the 1976 Summer Olympic Games.

Plans for this historic occasion have been keyed around insuring public visibility of The Queen and Prince Philip. For people wishing to catch a glimpse of them, Boston 200 recommends the following times and places:

10:00 a.m. — Boston Coast Guard Base (corner of Hanover and Commercial Streets, North End).

11:30 a.m. — The Prado, also called Paul Revere Mall (North End).

12 Noon — Congress Street at intersection of State Street (Old State House).

12:30 p.m. — City Hall Plaza.

2:30 p.m. — City Hall Plaza.

NEW MARKERS IN HISTORIC CEMETERIES

Visitors and residents of Boston now can look more deeply into both life and death in the colonial town, thanks to a new set of interpretive markers in the city's historic burying grounds.

Among the topics discussed on the markers are biographies of persons buried in the cemeteries, gravestone designs, and funeral practices in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. The project was produced by Boston 200, with financial assistance from New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, the National Trust for Historic Preservation, and the Massachusetts Bicentennial Commission.

"For many years, visitors to the historic burying grounds have been puzzled by the images and writings on the tombstones," says Ms. Harron Ellenson, director of Boston 200. "These new markers reveal the stones' code and make a visit more informative than ever before."

Three cemeteries, all located on the Freedom Trail, are involved: King's Chapel Burying Ground, Old Granary Burying Ground, and Copp's Hill Burying Ground. Designed by Lawrence Channing, the markers are black and silver-gray photometal signs mounted on pre-cast concrete bases, specially designed to blend with the materials and colors found in the graveyards. Interpretive texts are by Carol Bartley and Jane Keller.

The purpose of the program is twofold. The first is to enhance the visitor's understanding of both the cemeteries and the lives of the people buried in them. Featured on the markers are not only history of such famous Bostonians as John Winthrop, but also lives and funerals of obscure residents and the art of headstone carving.

The second purpose is to further preservation of the cemeteries by educating visitors about the fragility and proper treatment of them. In addition, the markers develop planned pedestrian circulation patterns to handle the large volume of visitors during the Bicentennial.

BUYING A HOUSE? CONSUMER BOOKLET AVAILABLE

A new consumer booklet called "Settlement Costs," that will help the public understand the complexities of buying a home has been published by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development.

In lay language, the booklet discusses the role of the real estate agent, securing title services, selecting an attorney, a lender and a settlement agent, and the sales contract. It presents an item-by-item description of settlement services and cost comparisons. Further, it explains the rights and remedies home buyers have under RESPA, and alerts the reader to unfair or illegal settlement practices.

"By taking the home buyer step by step, from negotiating a sales contract through to the settlement meeting," said Constance B. Newman, HUD Assistant Secretary for Consumer Affairs and Regulatory Functions, "the booklet gives a range of information that will assist consumers in shopping for services, thereby minimizing their settlement costs."

HUD is required to prepare the publication under the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA) which was passed in 1974, amended in 1975, and will be further modified by new regulations that went into effect June 30.

As of June 30, under RESPA requirements, the brochure must be given by lenders to prospective home buyers at the time they apply in writing for a mortgage loan, or it must be mailed within the following three business days. At the same time, the lender must give the buyer a good faith estimate of the settlement service charges he is likely to encounter.

"Settlement Costs," which supersedes a 1975 version, incorporates numerous comments and suggestions from industry, citizen and consumer groups, and individuals.

All lenders under federal supervision will receive copies of the booklet from their supervising agencies and will reprint the booklet for distribution to prospective home buyers. Photo-ready copies will be available shortly from HUD for firms that print for lending institutions.

Until copies are ready, lenders may reproduce the booklet as it appeared in the June 10 Federal Register.

Copies are currently available from HUD. Request should be addressed to:

Office of Consumer Affairs and Regulatory Functions, Attention: RESPA, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh St., S.W., Room 4100, Washington, D.C. 20410.

PARKING FREEZE PROGRAM

The Boston Air Pollution Control Commission, acting on a 1973 order from the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to reduce air pollution in downtown Boston, has asked Governor Michael Dukakis for authority to issue parking freeze permits.

The power to issue the parking freeze permits to allow individuals to construct parking facilities in downtown Boston now rests with the Governor.

The permit requirements are a result of the EPA's Boston Transportation Control Plan, finalized in 1975, which placed a freeze on the construction of new commercial parking spaces allowed in Boston proper.

Under the plan, any new commercial parking facilities created in the downtown freeze (an area inside Massachusetts Avenue) must be accompanied by an equivalent elimination of off-street parking spaces or legal on-street parking spaces before a parking freeze permit can be issued by the Governor.

The parking freeze program is designed to discourage automobile use in the downtown area to control air pollution (carbon monoxide and hydrocarbon emissions) and bring Boston's air quality up to standards set by the EPA.

Upon designation by the Governor, the city will incorporate a parking freeze program in its long-range effort to encourage a balanced transportation system — one that relies on both mass transit and automobile. The city's transportation plan is aimed at limiting automobile use in the downtown area, promoting sound traffic management; developing a better pedestrian system; and encouraging better mass transit.

The Boston Transportation Control Plan, requested by the EPA, now includes a number of measures to reduce automobile use including an on-street parking ban at certain hours; a statewide carpool program; bus and carpool lanes on major highways, and plans by employers to reduce commuting by auto.

There are more than 32,000 publicly and privately-owned commercial parking spaces involved in the freeze in Boston proper. Residential parking and employment parking are exempt from the freeze.

FOR THE COMMITTEE:
COUNCILLOR ALBERT L. O'NEIL

One of the biggest diseases to man is the feeling of being unwanted, uncared for, and deserted by everybody. The greatest evil is the lack of love and charity, the terrible difference towards one's neighbor who lives at the roadside, assaulted by exploitation, corruption, poverty, and disease.

Entries are limited to original works by city employees and must be delivered on July 12. Paintings, drawings, sculpture, ceramics, weaving, photography, posters, silk screen work, lithographs, woodcuts, etchings, crafts, and poems will be shown. For further information call 725-3005.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM INCREASES FEES

The Children's Museum has announced that visitor admission fees have been increased.

The new rate for children aged three to fifteen is $1.25; the adult rate is now $2.50. Members and children under three are always admitted free of charge.

Elaine Gurian, director of the Museum's Visitor Center, cited continued increases in operating costs as the reason for the change. "The Museum has seen its projected deficit for the current fiscal year rise substantially in recent months," Ms. Gurian noted, "despite major efforts to reduce costs, including some staff cuts. We deeply regret the need to raise fees as consumers ourselves, we are aware of the impact the increases will have on the visiting public. However, we will continue our policy of sponsoring admissions if money is a problem."

Corresponding increases in annual membership rates are also being made, effective July 1.

The Children's Museum, located on the Jamaica Way (U. S. Route 1) opposite Jamaica Pond, is open on its Summer Schedule through August 31, 10 A.M. to 5 P.M., daily, and FREE on Friday nights, from 6 to 9 P.M. Call the "What's Up" line, 522-5454, for recorded information on daily activities.

OLD SOUTH MEETING HOUSE

The Old South Meeting House, where Samuel Adams acted as Deacon and Town Clerk, was both a church and a town meeting house. Any Boston Town Meeting that was too big for Faneuil Hall was adjourned to the Old South. The most famous such meeting thus adjourned triggered the Boston Tea Party. The building was set aside in 1877 for historical, memorial, educational and religious uses.

Visiting times are October 1 to June 1, Monday through Saturday, 9 A.M. to 4 P.M.; June 1 to October 1, Monday through Friday, 9 A.M. to 5 P.M., Saturday, 9 A.M. to 4 P.M. Open July 4 and Labor Day. Closed Sundays.

Sunday services, 11 A.M. and 7:30 P.M., Old South Church, Copley Square.

Adults, admission, twenty-five cents; children under twelve, free.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

MANPOWER ADMINISTRATION

HOMEMAKER PROGRAM

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your permission to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record, and to award an amendment to the Women's Service Club, Inc., 464 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, Mass. 02118, for conducting a homemaker program for economically disadvantaged women of the City of Boston by increasing the program's amount of money from the figure of $37,000, and substituting the figure $51,000.

Funds for this contract will be provided from a federal government revenue sharing grant to the City of Boston through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-203). The effective date of operation for this contract will be from October 1, 1975, through June 30, 1976.

Under the terms of this proposed contract, Women's Service Club, Inc. will serve approximately fifty economically disadvantaged Boston residents.

Due to the fact that the Women's Service Club is the only agency conducting this type of program and because of their past success in training economically disadvantaged women in the above job skills, it is my opinion that no useful purpose would be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Sincerely,
JOSEPH R. DUGGAN,
Manpower Administrator.

OFFICE OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE

LEASING CERTAIN PREMISES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As director of your Office of Criminal Justice, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to Marshall G. Bolster and State Street Bank and Trust Company, executors under the will of Anna Quincy Churchill, 50 Congress Street, Boston, Mass. 02109, in an amount not to exceed $3,300, for the period January 1, 1976, through December 31, 1976.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Governor's Public Safety Committee under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-351), as amended by the Omnibus Crime Control Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-644).

The purpose of the grant is to allow the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office to continue to provide professional prosecutors, at the district court level in Suffolk County, at the same location.

The office space that is the subject matter of the aforementioned contract is situated in the Dorchester district of Boston and numbered 503B and 505 Washington Street and containing approximately 1,370 square feet of space.

Based on the uniqueness of the location of this office and its accessibility to Dorchester District Court, it is believed that public advertising would serve no useful or practical purpose.

Respectfully,
DONALD B. MANSON,
Executive Director.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As director of your Office of Criminal Justice, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to Marshall G. Bolster and State Street Bank and Trust Company, executors under the will of Anna Quincy Churchill, 50 Congress Street Boston, Mass. 02109, in an amount not to exceed $2,220, for the period January 1, 1976, through December 31, 1976.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Committee under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-351), as amended by the Omnibus Crime Control Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-644).

The purpose of the grant is to allow the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office to continue to provide prosecutorial screening, at the district court level in Suffolk County, at the same location.

The office space that is the subject matter of the aforementioned contract is situated in the Dorchester district of Boston and numbered 503A Washington Street, and containing approximately 600 square feet of space.

Based on the uniqueness of the location of this office and its accessibility to Dorchester District Court, it is believed that public advertising would serve no useful or practical purpose.

Respectfully,
DONALD B. MANSON,
Executive Director.

PRERELEASE PROGRAM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As director of the Mayor's Office of Criminal Justice, I respectfully request your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to Massachusetts Half-Way Houses, Inc., Huntington Avenue, Boston, in an amount not to exceed $25,000, for a period January 1, 1976, to December 31, 1976.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration through the Massachusetts Committee on Criminal Justice under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P.L. 90-351), as amended by the Crime Control Act of 1970 (P.L. 91-644), and the Crime Control Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-83).

The purpose of the grant is to allow Massachusetts Half-Way Houses, Inc. to establish a prerelease residential program for Boston residents who are inmates from the Suffolk County House of Correction. The focus of the program is delivery of employment and employment related services for offenders. Massachusetts Half-Way Houses, Inc. was chosen as the contractor after a competitive bidding process which limited thirteen separate contractors to submit proposals and entertained three interested contractors. After an intensive review of proposals submitted, it was clear that the proposal submitted by Massachusetts Half-Way Houses, Inc. was far superior in quality and that as a contractor Massachusetts Half-Way Houses, Inc. was better able to implement the program with the best cost-benefit ratio.

Massachusetts Half-Way Houses, Inc. (M.H.H.I.) was chartered as a private nonprofit organization in 1964 to provide rehabilitation and social services for criminal offenders. Predominantly, the services have taken the form of neighborhood residential centers — halfway houses — for adult offenders returning to the Boston area from federal, state, or county correctional facilities. Over recent years, M.H.H.I. has developed a number of nonresidential service programs to address special needs of offenders identified through the halfway house experience. In addition, M.H.H.I. has become increasingly involved in training and technical assistance activities which focus on community corrections programs and the employment of offenders.

Because Massachusetts Half-Way Houses, Inc. has been chosen after competitive bidding process as the best contractor to implement the contract above the proposals submitted by Cal About Now and Massachusetts Residential, and due to the unique service required to perform the function of the contract, it is believed that public advertising would serve no useful or practical purpose.

Respectfully,
DONALD B. MANSON,
Executive Director.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT

COPYING SERVICES

YOUR HONOR:

Permission is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising and award a contract for copying services to the Xerox Corporation, 100 Charles River Park, Boston, Mass. This contract will enable the department to provide timely, accurate reports respecting individuals in its custody and facilitate the administrative functions of the House of Correction.

The selection of the Xerox Corporation by the Penal Department is motivated by several factors:

the Xerox equipment has the versatility required to copy unique criminal history records, and other specialized forms, books, and documents, the Xerox capacity for plain paper copying would enable the department to reproduce forms, announcements, regulations, etc. on letterhead, thereby reducing dependence on office personnel.

the department received written estimates from three major copier companies and found the Xerox fees to be significantly less than the others.

Accordingly, this department believes there to be no public interest or benefit to be served by observing the competitive process in this instance. We request a contract be awarded for the period January 1, 1976, through December 31, 1976, in the amount of $3,600.

Respectfully,
WILLIAM W. NICKERSON,
Commissioner.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

ASSESSMENT CENTER

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to RHR Institute, Inc., 610 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, in an amount not to exceed $21,222, for the period of January 1, 1976, through June 30, 1976.

The purpose of this contract is to implement an assessment center for the positions of police captain and lieutenant, and the final product being the development of a variety of exercises that will accurately evaluate the abilities of individuals seeking these positions. This represents the final step in the new professional system currently being developed by the department in conjunction with the Massachusetts Division of Personnel Administration.

On October 2, 1975, the Division of Personnel Administration authorized the department to begin work on the selection process for the positions of captain and lieutenant. Subsequently, the department prepared a request for proposal relative to the development of an assessment center for these positions. The request for proposal was sent to ten firms inviting their response. Four of the ten prepared proposals and submitted them to the department.

The four proposals were reviewed by members of the command staff and a representative of the Division of Personnel Administration. On the basis of this review, it was felt that the RHR Institute proposal presented a superior effort for the amount of money involved.

Therefore, because of the unique services required to perform this contract, and in light of the selection procedures outlined above, it is believed that public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBERT J. DI GRAZIA,
Police Commissioner.

BASKETBALL BACKBOARDS

DEAR SIR:

For your information I wish to advise you that Judge W. Arthur Garrity has granted this department permission to award contracts, without publicly advertising, for particular work in South Boston High School.

I, therefore, solicited invitation bids from three contractors to furnish and install in the Girls' Gymnasium two rectangular glass basketball backboards, complete with the necessary supports and hardware.

The bids received were as follows:

Avery Welding Company, $2,891; John M. Walker Co., Inc., $3,512; Musinsky's, Inc., $3,975.

I, therefore, have awarded a contract to the Avery Welding Company, 488 Dorchester Avenue, South Boston, Mass., the lowest responsible and eligible bidder, in the amount of $2,891.

Respectfully submitted,
ANTHONY L. GALEOTA,
Chief Structural Engineer.

CAST-IRON MAIN

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

A very serious situation has developed at the Central Food Kitchen/Rafael Hernandez School, located at the corner of Columbia Road and Quincy Street, Dorchester, because of the inability of the sewer lines to properly drain from the buildings. An investigation has revealed that the existing waste sewer line is broken beyond repair and that a new 6-inch cast-iron main must be installed.

Because of the extreme health hazard deemed that an extreme emergency existed and I now request your approval to award a contract, without publicly advertising in the amount of $6,450, to Dom D'Angelo, Inc., of Hyde Park, Mass., lowest responsible bidder.

I did solicit bids from three competent contractors familiar with this type of work and the informal bids that were received are as follows:

Dom Giannangelo, Inc., $6,450; L. R. Roney Corporation, $6,650; and Ready Contracting Corporation, $6,750.

Respectfully submitted,
ANTHONY L. GALEOTA,
Chief Structural Engineer.

SUFFOLK COUNTY

District Attorney's Office
SECURITY SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As District Attorney of Suffolk County I respectfully request your Honor's ten permission to dispense with public advertising in the award of a contract to First Security Services, 92 State Street, Boston, for the amount not to exceed $5,200, during the period of February 1976, through April 30, 1976.

Award of the contract is made pursuant to a grant received by the City of Boston from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, through the Governor's Public Safety Committee, under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 (P. L. 90-351), as amended by the Omnibus Crime Control Act of 1970 (P. L. 91-644).

We have made arrangements with this firm, subject to your approval and that of the Boston Finance Commission, to provide additional security protection and witness protection facility. This facility is located within the Greater Boston area and provides housing for many government witnesses whose lives are in danger. The security problem compels me to request a waiver of the bidding provisions. Absent such a waiver, this office would be required to publicly advertise specifications for desired equipment. Such advertising would, in my opinion, defeat the very purpose for which the equipment was to be purchased.

I respectfully state that public advertising would serve no useful practical purpose and request a waiver from the requirement.

In addition, First Security Services Corporation has provided, and will continue to provide, professional security services in this office. It is my desire to utilize this firm for the purpose of soliciting bids, reviewing all vendor proposals, and advising my staff as to the best vendor for each piece of equipment desired. Such formal bids will, of course, be available for inspection by the Audit Department or a staff member of the Boston Finance Commission.

Respectfully,
GARRETT H. BYRNE,
District Attorney.

Municipal Court, Brighton District PARKING VIOLATION TICKETS

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

In accordance with the General Laws, Chapter 30, section 39M, the Municipal Court of the City of Boston on June 11, 1974, by advertising in the City Record, invited bids for furnishing and delivering 100,000 parking violation tickets.

There was only one bidder. Arnold Graphic Industries, Inc., 548 Washington Street, Canton, Mass., submitted a bid of $.73 per thousand parking violation tickets, for which the total costs would be $84,368, subject to the following provision:

"Prices submitted are firm for the first press run. Prices for subsequent printing press runs are subject to an escalation clause providing for 0.4 percent price increase for each 1 percent increase (if any), plus price increases of paper stock (materials) which may be implemented by the paper suppliers.

"Any price increases will be documented and thirty days prior written notice will be provided."

The bid proposal also contains a provision to be allowed to substitute the tag stock if the specified paper is not available. A sample of the stock was enclosed with the bid.

Arnold Graphic Industries, Inc. has been supplying this court with parking tickets for a number of years at the same price as in the Boston Municipal Court contract. This court has never had a formal written contract.

I hereby request that you grant permission for this court to dispense with advertising and to award a contract to Arnold Graphic Industries, Inc., for the period July 1, 1975, to June 30, 1976, at an amount not to exceed $8,000.

Because this court is running out of parking tickets and because there is no one to bid, formal advertising would serve no useful purpose. We will take necessary steps to have public advertising for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1976.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES J. ARTESANI,
Judge.
